FIRE WEATHER STATION IN HIGHLANDS

U. S. Forest Service has installed a fire weather station in Highlands. The station is located near the ball park and will be read by Mr. Ted Crunkleton. The station was previously located on the Kristensen tract and read by Mrs. James Crane.

The fire danger station will have a standard rain gauge, wind gauge and wet and dry bulb thermometers. From these instruments the wet and dry bulb temperature, wet bulb depression, relative humidity, fine fuel moisture, wind speed and direction, rainfall and fire spread index can be taken.

Except in high fire danger the readings will be taken at 1:00 p.m. EST daily. On high class fire days, readings may be necessary more often.

September 1, the station will be in operation making it possible for the Forest Service to make fire weather predictions locally, therefore giving better protection for the Highlands area.
