STORM DAMAGE

During the height of the wind and thunderstorm which lashed Highlands Saturday morning, a large oak tree was blown across Highway 64 about a fourth of a mile from Highlands. The tree crashed across power lines and traffic was diverted for about two hours while town and light crews worked to remove the tree and repair damage to lines.

JOHN PARRIS COMPLIMENTS HIGHLANDS

John Parris, noted newspaperman and author, who was in Highlands briefly on the 18th, stated that "The flower boxes of Highlands are beautiful and I have not seen anything as beautiful any place in my travels. The only place I have seen anything similar is in Europe." He referred to Highlands as "the flower box town". He complimented the wild flower planting in front of the Silver Whistle highly.

Mr. Parris addressed the Highlands Cashiers Garden Club at the Community Center in Cashiers on Thursday June 18. (CONTINUED ON PAGE 9)

ILLUMINATED DIRECTORY

A permanent directory and bulletin board complete with automated rear projection is being built on Main Street next to the office of Jim Fox. There will be seats available and the patio area will be landscaped.

The directory will be illuminated and a pictorial record in color photography will be shown. The local points of interesting places in Highlands will be shown on a year-round basis. This display will be sponsored by the leading businessmen of Highlands.

MISSIONARY TO SPEAK

Reverend John Kao, representative of the Christian Nationals' Evangelism Commission (CNEC) will speak June 28 at 10 and 11 a.m. in the First Presbyterian Church. (CONTINUED ON PAGE 8A)
