SAMUEL EUGENE POTTS DIES

Highlands was saddened Tuesday morning by the news of the death of Eugene Potts.

Samuel Eugene Potts, 74, died in the Highlands-Cashiers Hospital July 7 after a long illness.

He was a former postmaster of Highlands, past master of Blue Ridge Masonic Lodge No. 435 for 46 years and president of the Highlands Cemetary Association from 1956 to 1966. He spent unmeasured and unpaid hours working, both on paper and physically to improve the Highlands Memorial Park and due to his untiring efforts and the efforts of the late Dewey Hopper and Lyman Zachary and others the Cemetary was changed from the somewhat unkempt hill it was to the place of beauty and tranquility it now is.

HIGHLANDS COMMUNITY THEATER HAS HIT

"Hay Fever", the first play of the season produced by the Highlands Community Theater, starring Esther Carroll, drew excellent crowds July 2, 3 and 4.

Lewis Green, Asheville Citizen Staff Writer gave the following review of the performance:

"Noel Coward's work is, as often as not, a bit too sophisticated and laced with nuance for summer theater groups to do effectively or as it was meant to be. Mostly the British subtlety can never be captured fully by the American actor.
