"A WALK IN THE SPRING RAIN"

Starring Anthony Quinn and Ingrid Bergman. the Stirling Silliphant-Guy Green Production, "A Walk in the Spring Rain" Friday-Saturday, July 17-18, will be at the Galax Theatre.

In "A Walk in the Spring Rain," Quinn plays an exuberant Tennessee mountain man attracted to the sophisticated, very urban woman played by Miss Bergman.

Almost as elemental as his world of nature, the Tennessean is prepared to lose his way of life, as he does lose his son, because he believes in the kind of miracles which surround him each burgeoning spring. The role, for Quinn, is a triumphant romantic departure from anything he has ever done before.

The Great Smoky Mountains region is among the most beautiful in America at any season and, to some visitors and most residents, the most beautiful in America in the springtime. It was in the springtime that location filming took place here for a "Walk in the Spring Rain."

Caught by the color cameras are dogwood blossoms, redbud trees in full flower, flaming azaleas, service berries and laurel peonies and Princess trees.

CULLASAJA FALLS

Leaping from ageless ledge of rock it roars

The cataract - unending - as it pours
In awesome splendor, with ceaseless flow
And thundrous music to the gorge below;
Sheltered behind this cascade of power,
Sharing its safety with tiny flower,
Or tree both bold and old that taketh
