

"LAWRENCE OF ARABIA"

Here is a motion picture of tremendous magnitude, with thousands of tribesmen, camels, and horses sweeping across the giant screen in epic battle scenes, shattering train wrecks, all played against spectacular Arabian backgrounds. More than a great adventure, it is the enthralling story of a man who became a legend. Lawrence of Arabia has always been an intriguing figure in history, cloaked in exotic mystery. As seen here, he is a near poet and heroic visionary in the loneliness of the desert but a man who cringed and feared for his actions once he returned to the civilized confines of his base and his superiors. It is to the credit of Peter O'Toole that this basically retiring and idealistic character, who shakes himself with the inner knowledge that he enjoys killing and wants to be prevented from continuing this dangerous game, is entirely credible and dominates the sweeping canvas of the picture.

"Lawrence of Arabia", a Sam Spiegel and David Lean Production plays Sun-Mon, August 22-23 at the Galax Theatre.

FOREST SERVICE MAKES NEWAPPOINTMENTS

The U.S. Forest Service has announced personnel changes affecting National Forests in Florida, Texas, Kentucky and Georgia.

Regional Forester T.A. Schlapfer announced the appointments of Dan Williams as Deputy Forest Supervisor for the Nat'l Forests in Texas and John Korb as Deputy Supervisor for the Daniel Boone National Forest in Kentucky.

Schlapfer also said that Don Hughes, Deputy Forest Supervisor for the Chattahoochee-Oconee National Forests in Georgia would transfer to Florida to head up recreation activities on the National Forests in that state.

Williams has been in charge of recreation on National Forests in Florida for the past two years. He is a graduate of Colorado A&M College. He worked on National Forests in Arizona and New Mexico and was in the Recreation and Lands Division of the Albuquerque, New Mexico Regional Office when transferred to Florida.

Korb is a graduate of Montana University. He served on several Ranger Districts, the staff of the George Washington National Forest in Virginia and in the Eastern Regional Office Division of Recreation and Watershed. Before his appointment as Deputy Supervisor, he was a Branch Chief in the Division of Recreation and Watershed in the Atlanta office.

Hughes served in the Regional Office Division of Recreation and Watershed before becoming Deputy Supervisor. Previously, he had served as a District Ranger and on the staff of the Forest Supervisor, Ouachita National Forest in Arkansas.

A woman worries about the future until she gets a husband, while a man never worries about the future until he gets a wife.
