

The Collegiate

Published Monthly by The Students of ATLANTIC CHRISTIAN COLLEGE

SUBSCRIPTION RATES $1.50
VOL. XI SEPT. 17, 1937 NO. 1

REPRODUCED FOR THE NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF
National Advertising Service, Inc.
430 Madison Ave. New York, N. Y.
Chicago - Boston - Los Angeles - San Francisco

EDITORIAL STAFF:

ROBERT E. GARR Editor-in-Chief
E. LEON ROEBUCK Managing Editor
CYRUS LEE Associate Editor
ELMER MOTTERN Associate Editor

BUSINESS STAFF:

DARIL J. BOWDEN Business Manager
ROBERT WINDHAM Assistant Business Manager
DELBERT TURNER Advertising Manager
NORWOOD SCOTT Circulation Manager

STAFF EDITORS:

ATHLETICS JOHN YAVORSKI
ASSISTANTS MARGARET OUTLAW A. J. MOYE
HUMOR MARTHA BRINSON WOODROW TAYLOR
MARY MATTHEWS Society Editor
MARY COX Feature Editor

MEMBER OF
N. C. C. P. A.

HONOR SYSTEM.

As has been stated before one of the functions of a college paper is to serve the interest of the college which it serves.

The Collegiate feels that much space and time should be devoted to the discussion of the honor system. We believe that such a system is desirable and workable at a college.

The word cheat is not a good one and leaves a dark brown taste in the mouth. There is such a thing as honor and can't we hold it a prime virtue?

Society has its opinion of what is right and what is wrong and individuals cannot ignore that opinion. Cheating, as society defines it, is obtaining something that is not yours and passing it off as yours. In the classroom it may be relying on your neighbor for aid or relying on material against the will of your instructor.

It is not fair to fellow students to cheat. Neither is it fair to yourself to steal ideas from a neighbor and receive credit for them. It is a case in which you inevitably lose even though you seem to win in a big way. The more you depend upon a crutch the less capable you become. The more you receive aid, the more you feel that you are dependent upon others. When you cheat yourself of your own individuality and original thought you are starving your mind. Now is the time to practice self reliance, and depend on yourself.

ATTENTION, FRESHMEN!

A topic for a first issue editorial is something about freshmen. They are a group that all have blamed and laughed at for their mistakes, and finally accepted them as a part of the College. Even though they have been here for only a short time, we are about to feel that they are a vital part of the College.

There is no use for the Collegiate to try to offer new information. It has been given and the Freshmen have probably formed their opinions about it. The Collegiate is not trying to add anything new, but rather we would like to emphasize some of the things that you have already heard.

A new year is here with two weeks of your college career in the past. To the freshmen these weeks have been long ones, while to the older students they have passed by hurriedly. You may think that you have accomplished very little, but every day you have been making changes and adjustments. You are freshmen now. Most of you will never be freshmen again. You will be sophomores, juniors, seniors, and you will drop out of school and enter some profession. Others graduate and teach school or take your place in business, but you are only once a true freshman. You may be lazy and have to repeat the freshman work, but you will never have the same conception of college that you did this year. It is possible to enter another school as a freshman, but there is no way to make up for the opportunities you wasted.

It is important that you make an analysis of yourself and see why you came to college. Why did you come to college? Did you come because of a desire to learn or was it because your parents wanted you to come or because some older brother or sister went to college before you? Was it because you had friends in college or was it for social prestige?

Most of us came to college for one of the above reasons. Some of us may become discouraged at the beginning, while others do not try, loaf on class, take no part in the activities and finally follow the way of least resistance. When a person does this he is wasting the greatest opportunity of his life, and a period that can never be redeemed.

Why should we starve our minds in a land of intellectual plenty? There are more ways than one to feed our minds. The extra activities are very important. Often the by-product is more important than the product, but the two must come together. Neither is worth all of a person's time.

While you, the class of 1941 undergo your metamorphosis, you are setting yourself apart. You should have some goal in view because that goal is what causes you to stand out from others. Now, while you are freshmen, with no mistakes behind you in your college career, and few barriers ahead of you, will you not get serious and face the facts and problems more squarely than we who came before you did. Success is a strange and illusive creature; unless your eye is fixed upon it, you will lose it.

Life is a process, so is education. Your college education is a process of gathering and consuming written and unwritten ideas.

You have a place in life, but this place cannot be determined by a formula. All of us cannot be shining pedestals of a tower, but rather some must make up the foundation. Your place is reached by study, doubt, work, and determination.

If you are interested there is much to learn. Very few people regret their effort. If you are not interested, why not try to arouse a little interest. You owe yourself something and the world owes you something. Why not begin your collection now.

Last of all, students, never close your mind to anything or run away from an idea and when you go about this problem of living, go about it as if you meant it.

HUMAN BEINGS VS. SUBJECT MATTER

The study of psychology and sociology has caused the center of interest to shift from subject matter to human beings. We are learning from the Great Teacher the supreme worth of the individual. Man was not made for mathematics, science or language but subject matter was made for man. Does it promote his growth? Does it help in the reconstruction of experience? Does it make him a more dynamic personality? Does it make him morally upright, socially efficient, and able to adjust himself adequately to his environment?

This philosophy of Education calls for the reconstruction of the curriculum along new lines. It must be built around fundamental human needs of growing persons. Departmentalized subject matter must give way to "fields of social living in which men and women act." Various classifications of functions with reference to Educational objectives have been made. In addition to general education which would include health and mental tools, perhaps no classification is more suggestive than (1) home life; (2) the field of earning; (3) citizenship; (4) worthy use of leisure; (5) philosophy and religion.

As the proposed curriculum is "conceived as the experience of the learner as it undergoes enrichment, interpretation, and control," the educative process will be a cooperative enterprise in working out a series of projects in answer to felt needs of the student. Racial experience accumulated through the centuries with its stores of facts, of meanings, of values, of techniques, will assume a place vastly more important than that which it held in the past. This social heritage becomes necessary for the understanding and solution of the many complex problems that confront us in the modern world. In a college founded on Christian principles, the Bible as a record of religious experience of incomparable richness should hold a unique place. No literature has greater cultural values; no teaching has greater moral and spiritual dynamics.

SUCCESSFUL GOVERNMENT.

The new Cooperative Government of Atlantic Christian College was successful last year for the first time. Of all the forms of government that have been attempted here the Cooperative system seems to have been the most successful. The government emerges from the most crucial period of trial; apparently triumphant. This year will be the final test of the success of Cooperative Government at Atlantic Christian College.

Having received a good start last year, the future success of our present form of government depends on the work of the officers and members. We have seen that the system is workable and that it is a desirable one.

Let us see that it continues along the successful road.

SOCIETY.

SIGMA TAU CHI ELECTS OFFICERS

The new officers of the Sigma Tau Chi Sorority who went into office at the first meeting of the sorority this year, are as follows: President: Elizabeth Fulghum, Vice-President: Martha Brinson, Secretary: Delia Turner, Treasurer: Frances Gurganus, Reporter: Lula Hardy.

May Matthews of England, Florence Holliday of Wilson, Fannie Holliday of Wilson, and Rachel Brantley of Halky, are the new pledges and will be initiated sometime in the near future.

The old members of the Sorority include: Martha Nelson, Vassarboro; Elsie Haddock, Farmville; Delia Turner, Kinston; Lula Hardy, Laffrang; Tillie Bowden, New Bern; Elizabeth Fulghum, Wilson; Frances Gurganus, Stokes; and Martha Brinson, New Bern.

SIGMA TAU CHI SORORITY HONORS MRS. J. Q. WALLACE

The Sigma Tau Chi Sorority of A. C. C. entertained Saturday afternoon at a luncheon given in honor of Mrs. J. Quincy Wallace, Jr., a former member. The affair was given at the home of Mrs. Oscar Strickland on Lee Street. The home was beautifully decorated with fall flowers, carrying out the color scheme of yellow and white.

Games were enjoyed during the evening. At the conclusion "Columbia" Strickland appeared in the living room dressed as a special messenger and delivered the many and useful gifts to the honoree. During the evening a sweet course was served.

MINISTERIAL CLUB ADDS FOUR MEMBERS

(Continued from page one) is the life of the world as a whole. The club aims to make its members worthy of this great responsibility. The programs are planned with this thought in mind—consisting of such things as talks and lectures by outstanding citizens of both college and town of things pertaining to the religious life—sermons prepared and preached by the members with criticism by the members and some teacher or minister. At times the programs are such that the club thinks may interest the whole college and so an invitation is extended to the college as a whole. But at all times the students are invited to any of the meetings. The student body should keep in mind that the club is also to serve them and at all times is at its service to help in any way possible.

Under the able leadership of Eugene Orodowski, its president, and his capable assistants, Kermit Wheeler, vice president, and Robert Jarman, secretary and treasurer, the club is expected to "go strong" this year.

VAGABOND PLAN FOR NEW SEASON

(Continued from page one) fore the group these were rather comical and were greatly enjoyed by all present. The officers elected to serve this year are: Robert Johnston,

Those attending were: Mrs. Wallace, honoree; Misses Eleanor Snyder and Elaine Bryant, sponsors of the society; Elaine Strickland, Eleanor Woodard, Elizabeth Fulghum, Delia Turner, Elizabeth Haddock, Tillie Bowden, Martha Nelson, Martha Brinson, Lula Hardy, and Frances Gurganus.

DELTA SIGMA SORORITY ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

The Delta Sigma Sorority elected the following officers for the new year: President, Edna Barnhill, of Stokes; Vice-President, May Mame of New Bern; Secretary and Reporter, Ruby Barnes of Fremont; Treasurer, Cleo James of Robersonville; Miss Charlotte Hill was elected sponsor of the sorority.

The pledges of the sorority are: Beulah P. Aycock, Mary Ella Clark, Ann Saunders, Patricia Stephens. The initiation begins Thursday afternoon and ends Saturday night.

PHI SIGMA TAU ELECTS OFFICERS

At their first meeting of the new year the Phi Sigma Tau Sorority elected the following officers: President, Rebekah Carter of Elm City; Vice-President, Rosamond Conley of Wilson; Secretary, Olivia Fulghum, of Wilson; Treasurer, Mary Cox of Wilson; and Reporter, Virginia Barkley of Wilson. Miss Carter, who is a senior, has previously held two other offices, secretary and vice-president. Besides the officers there remain three old members, Madeline Brooks, and Agnes Pittrell of Wilson, and Dora Barnhill of Stokes.

The pledges of the Sorority are: Sue Harper, Miriam Dickinson, Mary Elizabeth Hiller, Sarah Jane Rouse, and Charlotte Guthrie. They will be initiated in the near future.

President: Martha Brinson, Vice-President: Miriam Dickinson, Secretary: Woodrow Taylor, Treasurer: John Yavorski, Reporter: and May Mame to head the program committee.

In connection with the Vagabonds, Miss Snyder is also reorganizing the Verse Speaking Choir. This choir will present programs from time to time throughout the year.

Among those who have already reported to the Dramatic Club are: Virginia Atkinson, Martha Brinson, Cleveland Bradford, Crawford Barfield, Agnes Beft, Rachel Brantley, Tillie Bowden, Dora Barnhill, Constance Blake, Dorothy Creech, Mary Ella Clark, Frank Cherry, Rosamond Conley, Ruth Daniels, Rachel Daniels, Robert "Pat-Pat" Dixon, Miriam Dickinson, Sarah Greene, Virginia Farmer, Clara Greene, Geraldine Jernigan, Marjorie Hodges, Robert Johnston, Mary E. Hilley, Joe Dan Hood, Dalton Kennedy, Martha Lamm, Delphin Jones, Billy Perry May Mame, Lavaine Mercer, Greshel McLamb, Mildred O'Neal, Eugene Orodowski, Margaret Outlaw, Julian Roebuck, Leona Sultan, Virginia Sharp, Frances Roebuck, Irma Lee Spencer, Elizabeth Russell, Henry Sullivan, James Suber, Dorothy Rose, Woodrow Taylor, Agnes Rybousne, Leon Roebuck, Delia Turner, Bet Ward, Zoira Waller, Susan A. Waller, Anna Belle Wheeler, Helen Williams, Elizabeth Wood, Sarah Bain Ward, Kermit Wheeler, John Yavorski.

THROUGH THE KEY HOLE

Flash! Girls and boys stop at the doorway—I'm back again to try to find out all the little camp secrets! Cupid must have heard when our school was opened because he was right here on time to look around a bit and know me, he certainly did go to work in a hurry. If you don't believe me, just take time out and read the following account of his latest works.

Since Piles has returned to school, I wonder if he and Mary Cox will resume their romance. You never see tell 'em this fall Cupid does play funny tricks. Watch out, Lion!

Sarah Bain has an S. P. now, but she's some kind of unhappy about it! It seems that he told her room-mate he'd go with her if she'd reduce twenty-five pounds and she's gone on a diet. That's hard luck, Sarah, but I'd suggest you tempt her with sweets. It might be an expensive proposition to you but I believe you think it's worth it. Am I right?

They have a new triangle on the Campus—Bob Wincham, Frances Roebuck, and Cleveland Haddock. Of course, we all wonder how it'll turn out—all but a little birdie and "B" told me Cleveland would soon be eliminated.

I wonder what freshman it is Elbert Mays has such a crush on now? They say he can't eat a thing in the dining hall for watching her serve. More power to you, Elbert.

Last year, the triangle composed of Sam, Edna, and Soofas ended up just being Edna's Sam, but I predict that soon Edna's Soofas will be back together again.

There are several Junior and Senior girls who think Crawford Barfield is simply dandy, and would be the best "catch" of the season. Too bad, girls, 'cause I lost a freshman has already caught him.

I hear one of our former students is giving Zora Waller quite a romance. "Ain't love grand!"

Woodrow Taylor and Marsh Knott are great rivals these days. It seems they both think a certain Rophomero transfer is an awfully cute gal. The keyhole to her room just isn't large enough for me to find out what she thinks about them, however. So I guess we'll have to wait and see how it all turns out.

Have you heard about Billy Peases? He has a crush on a freshman from Kinston.

What's this about you having an "S. P." Dorothy Rouse? Come on—Peas up—who is it?

Agnes, you can't keep us in the dark any longer. We know now that you and Bill Tyson are making quite a hit with this guy Cupid.

By the way, I've been told the boy that fudged romance so well last year, has a crush on a certain blonde from Durham now! What happened to you Hubert?

Could anyone tell me who the little freshman is Robert Carr has his eye on?

Did you know that—Grace Hudson and Burlon Lamm have renewed their old courtship?

Wilbur Outlaw is simply crazy about a certain girl who lives in Wilson?

Leona and Julian think each other mighty fine?

Robert Jarman has fallen for a Wilsonian also! Her name is Catherine Wainwright and they say Bob is a lucky fella.

Side Cracks

What do you want for your birthday? Something for my work. My work, have you started charging for that?

What'd your man when you say your girl is temperamental? She's 75% temper and 25% mental.

Columbus was wrong. The world is flat.

Detour—the roughest distance between two points.

Elbert: Why do you call me Pilgrim?
Jane: Every time you call you make a little progress.

She: Where have you been lately? I haven't seen you?
He: I've been away at school. I'm taking medicine this year.
She: Feel any better?

Soph: Where are you running so fast?
Fred: I'm running away from my gal.
Fred: She's got that far-away look and I want her to notice me.
Soph: What's the matter?

Red: I couldn't sleep a bit last night because the window shade was up.
Elbert: Why didn't you pull it down?
Red: Do you think I can reach across the street?

Is Boo there?
Boo who?
Don't cry little girl. Central must have given me the wrong number.

One Fresh: Can you read French?
Second Fresh: No, but I can guess from the pictures.

Left handed tea cups may be converted to right handed ones by turning them around.

Anna Belle: I just adore dark men.
Frances: You'd have a swell time in Africa.

He was only a life saver but he surely took her breath away.

Helen: Why are you calling on me in a business suit?
Woodrow: I mean business.

Do you write jokes?
Yes, what's your address?

I said no—He said, why not—He had no there.

A woman looks in a man's eyes for love, but a man looks around to see if the coast is clear.

I'd a greater life if you do weaken.

English Prof.: Are you very familiar with John Milton?
Good. No, Sir, and I'll have you know that I am not familiar with anyone.

"THE MEN'S SHOP"
YOU ARE CORDIALLY INVITED TO MAKE
OUR STORE YOUR HEADQUARTERS
THOMAS ADKINS, Inc.
"QUALITY WITHOUT EXTRAVAGANCE"

Around The Campus

Marsh Knott has always lived near Wendell, and is a graduate of the Wendell high school. Although he is not biblically inclined, he was manager of the baseball team one year. It seems that his scholastic record was not particularly outstanding, because hunting and raising dogs held such a strange fascination for Marsh.

In the fall of 1934, Atlantic Christian College received two new members, Marsh and his cow. For three years this cow has carried him through school, not literally speaking, of course. In addition to this, Marsh has been known as the campus barber and is noted for making boys' heads look like Fuller brushes.

Ever since he has been up here, he has been a member of the college band. He is also in the Glee Club and was at one time in the boys' quartette.

While a freshman, he served on the student council as a representative from his class. He was also treasurer of the Co-operative Association the first year of his organization and is vice president now.

Marsh is a member of the Sigma Alpha, being treasurer last year and president this year. During his junior year, he was president of his class.

In spite of the fact that he must get up at daybreak to milk a cow and is always in demand as a barber, he has managed to make good grades and maintain his popularity on the campus.

Sarah Bain Ward was born in Kinston and has lived there her life, except for her four years at Atlantic Christian College.

Sarah Bain attended the senior high school in Kinston and graduated from there in 1932. She has always had a deep interest in religious work and was a member of the Christian church and a Christian Endeavor. Like many of the students here, she had attended several of the Young Women's conferences at Bonclark.

Besides her religious work, she was active in dramatics and Glee Club and went with the Glee Club to Greensboro in 1934.

Since entering Atlantic Christian college, she has kept up her work in these lines and has become a member of both the Drama Club and the Glee Club. She was in the Y. W. C. A. has been standing. At the end of her second year she was elected co-president of the Y. W. for the following year. During the summer she represented A. C. college at annual Y. W. and Y. M. conferences at Blue Ridge. Because of her interest in religious work, she was asked to serve on the Education committee in 1935-36. At the end of that year she was awarded the Elaine Wainwright Religious Cup.

In addition to these extra-curricular activities, Sarah has kept up her studies, averaging around B-plus throughout the three years. She is majoring in science and minoring in English. The Alpha Delta Chi is a new sorority organization on the campus and Sarah Bain, a charter member, is president for this year.

Her record at A. C. college has executive ability pointed out as the very person as president of the Co-operative Association. A vote of the students she was added to this office. Since she has been in office, she has shown students they couldn't have done a better leader.

For many years the Glee Club has been steadily increasing in popularity as one of the outstanding representative organizations of Atlantic Christian College. In the last two years it has been directed through the executive efforts of Professor Winston Fontaine of the Y. W. Department.

During these two years the club has rendered concerts at Wilson, Kinston, Goldsboro, Farmville, Raleigh, New Bern, Johnston, Robersonville, Oak Grove, Ayden, Oak City, Rountree Rapids. Everywhere the club went it was heartily welcomed to come more often to those who have made these memorable experiences.

I Smoka Pipe Club Holds Initiation

The I Smoka Pipe Club commenced the 1937-38 school year with plenty of fireworks. Twelve new members were taken into its folds. The initiation began Thursday, September 8, and lasted through Saturday night.

Before the pledges were taken through the final rounds of the initiation Saturday night, they were given a delicious barbecue dinner. Around midnight all those taking the initiation were blindfolded and taken several miles. They were left in groups of four to find their way back to Wilson. Some were fortunate in catching a ride back, while others had to walk and arrived at the College the next morning just in time for breakfast in the dining hall.

The twelve new members of the Club are: Archie Daniels, Black Creek; Lloyd Bryan, Wilson; C. B. Johnson, Rocky Mount; Chester Johnson, Fremont; Robert Jarman, Kinston; Cyrus Lee, New Bern; Bill Mays, Farmville; Kelvin James, Wallace; James Kellon, Chinquapin; Wilbur Outlaw, E. I.enton, S. C.; Jarvis Edgerton, Keady and A. C. Holloman, Fountain. The old roll is as follows: A. J. Mays, Woodrow Sugg, Lewis Everett, James Rogers, Robert Dixon, Leiland Farnell and Robert Carr. Officers for the first semester are: A. J. Mays, president; Woodrow Sugg, vice-president; Robert Dixon, secretary and treasurer; James Rogers, chaplain; and Leiland Farnell, sergeant-at-arms.

The I Smoka Pipe Club was founded in 1934 by Professor Dallas Mallison. The Club did not have a sponsor last year as Professor Mallison joined the faculty at Louisburg College. The I. S. P. C. has been very fortunate in securing Dr. Morkan as faculty advisor and sponsor.

It is the pleasure of the Collegiate to commend the good work of the club and to extend word of welcome to the members. We hope to see the Glee Club attain even greater success this year.

GLEE CLUB HITS SINGING STRIDE

During these two years the club has rendered concerts at Wilson, Kinston, Goldsboro, Farmville, Raleigh, New Bern, Johnston, Robersonville, Oak Grove, Ayden, Oak City, Rountree Rapids. Everywhere the club went it was heartily welcomed to come more often to those who have made these memorable experiences.

Some of the members who missed this year due to senior graduation. Among them is our indispensable accompanist, Russell Roebuck of Williams. However, we are looking forward with high hopes to the new members who have already entered the true spirit of this organization. The new talent added to the Freshmen will replace the vacancies left by last year's graduating class.

It is the pleasure of the Collegiate to commend the good work of the club and to extend word of welcome to the members. We hope to see the Glee Club attain even greater success this year.

FORENSIC SOCIETY TO BE CONTINUED

(Continued from page one) tended for the freshmen who have interest along this line.

The club, as it is planned, will have something for each member to do. Even though you don't make the team your services will do much to determine the success of the team in intercollegiate competition.

Persons once declared insane are forever denied the privilege of voting in North Carolina.

CAROLINA
LAST TIMES TODAY
Two Boys Who Made Good
Clark Gable - Wallace Brown
"HELL DIVERS"
SUN & MON.
JACK HOLT IN
"ROARING TIMBER"
TUESDAY
"LONDON BY NIGHT"
WEDNESDAY
WALTER HUSTON
"LAW AND ORDER"
Watch For These Big Attractions Coming Soon
LOUIS-FARR FIGHT FILMS
"NAUGHTY MARIETTA"
"BORN RECKLESS"
"A STAR IS BORN"