CHAPEL ATTENDANCE

Many students have recently complained about compulsory chapel attendance and have expressed the desire to make chapel attendance voluntary.

Many strangers and guest speakers notice and often remark that only a small part of the student body attend chapel. Statistics show that on Friday, February 4th, when Mr. Sigwald spoke in chapel, there were only 160 students at chapel.

When our chapel attendance reaches the stage that strangers remark about what a small number go to chapel, we should try to do something about it.

A student recently said, "I believe our chapel programs are in reality the spirit of the school. Although that may be a rather broad statement, there is a great deal of truth in it.

The thirty minutes intermission between classes on Tuesday and Friday is a break in the routine of study. The short service offers an opportunity for relaxation, and we usually have one speaker a week to talk on topics that are interesting to both students and faculty.

Maybe we do not always enter into the spirit of chapel as we ought.

OPEN FORUM

Dear Editor:

Rumors has it that no semester hour credits will be given next year for participation in the Glee Club, or that participation in the Band will serve as an alternate for physical education.

It may be pointed out that the Glee Club requires no preparation, therefore, its members should receive no credit.

It is said that the Glee Club grade should not be averaged with the remainder of the grades. Why? If a student excels in the study of music, why should he be penalized?

it of chapel as we ought. Perhaps we fail to get the fine benefit of chapel services.

In some schools chapel attendance is strictly compulsory and three unexcused absences mean expulsion from school.

Let other institutions do away with all rules about chapel attendance if they can, but it should not worry us.

LET'S STAY UP

A new semester is here and three weeks of it are already past. To the freshmen, the first semester might have been a long one, because they were faced with college problems for the first time.

Did you have to cram for examinations? Some might have waited until the last lap of the semester to begin work.

Now with last semester's mistakes in the background and a new semester in front, why not get serious and face the facts and problems more squarely and seriously than you did in the past?

Many times students say in no uncertain terms, "I'll bet I do better next semester and stay up ahead instead of having to pack my head full of facts when I don't understand any of them."

Never close your mind to anything or run away from ideas; and since you are here for an education, go about it as if you mean it.

INTRA-MURAL ATHLETICS

Intra-mural athletics at A. C. College last year reached their peak in efficiency and in being well balanced. Much credit is due Coach D. Rose and Miss Charlotte Hill and the development of boys' and girls' athletic program.

In a few days an intra-mural basketball tournament will be launched. So far this year interest in intra-mural sports has been gradually fading away.

It is true that only a selected talented few are capable of making one of the inter-collegiate athletic teams. In view of the fact that every student is entitled to athletic activity and that only a small part of the student body can make inter-collegiate teams, the intra-mural program has been launched in this college.

Despite the fact that our inter-collegiate athletic team does not rank high in games won, we can rank high in intra-mural athletic training. Its future failure or success depends on you, as individual members of the student body.

The schedules have been published so let's all come out on time. If you can't play go out and support your team.

an uproar just outside the English classroom that I lost complete contact with the lecture.

Often I hear comments against forcing people to do things; however, I believe that when we grow so careless as to completely forget our fellow students, then it is time for some rules to be made and rigidly enforced.

I hope and trust, with many others, that some arrangement can be made regarding this situation. I say all this with no malice, but for the best interests of the college.

I should like to add my voice to those who have suggested needed improvements in our campus life. This matter of loitering in the halls is, to say the least, very inconsiderate, not only to the students, but also to the faculty members.

All this talk about college outlines, and what a fine thing they are for the college student! Why doesn't someone say something about what they do for the student?

Why doesn't someone say something about what they do for the student? Why doesn't someone say something about what they do for the student?

Why doesn't someone say something about what they do for the student? Why doesn't someone say something about what they do for the student?

Activities Of The Executive Board

Mr. Carr and Mr. Mottern came before the board concerning the finances of the Collegiate.

Matters of personal nature were dealt with. A representative of the Charlotte Observer Printing House came before the board to explain the contract he offered for printing Pine Knot.

It was moved and carried that each publication be forwarded $25 from their regular budget as expenses for its representatives at the Press Convention held in Raleigh.

A matter of equipping beds in the basement of the gymnasium to be used by visiting teams was brought before the board. The cost of such equipment was estimated at $127.76.

The matter of equipping the beds in the basement of the gymnasium was taken up and it was decided that it be left up to the Athletic Director.

AROUND THE CAMPUS

Madeline Brooks was born in Richmond and later moved to Wilson where she attended school.

She has always been very much interested in sports. As well as being in the Archery Club, she played on the girls' basketball team for two years.

Her high grades have been continued throughout her two and a half years at A. C. She is graduating in three years; her average has been 91.87 so far, the highest average in the senior class.

Madeline has taken an active part in all girls' sports and is a member of the W. A. A. Cabinet.

Last year she served on the Executive Board as representative at large and also on the Girls' Dormitory Council as town representative. She is a member of the Phi Sigma Tau Sorority.

Although Madeline is majoring in math, she is doing her practice teaching in her minor, which is English.

Besides this, she has always done a great deal of work in her church. At present she is secretary of her Sunday School department and president of the Epworth League.

ATTITUDES AND ADJUSTMENTS

Many students were burning the midnight oil in catching up on back work and in preparing for exams. How did I know this? Well, it wasn't a birdie that told me.

'Twas in the boys' dormitory. The time somewhere in throwing distance of the midnight hour. We admit, here, that several boys were in bed and had been in bed since, possibly, ten o'clock.

The Delta Sigma Sorority held its initiation beginning Saturday, January 29, and continuing thru Wednesday, Feb. 9.

The Delta Sigma Sorority elected the following officers for the second semester of this school year: President—May Mains, New Bern.

At a recent meeting of the Sigma Tau Chi Sorority the officers were elected for the second semester. Those elected were: President—Martha Brinson, New Bern.

At a moment later, another rustle of feet was heard. Boys that remained on duty in their search of knowledge were locked in their rooms. Another moment passed, the lights went out.

The Commercial Club met on February 3, and elected officers for the year. They are as follows: President—Dovey Watson.

The Club also decided to have their pictures put in the "Pine Knot" under the name of The Commercial Club. These pictures will be individual and will cover two pages.

The Commercial Club was started several years ago, but it has not been very active this year.

Eugene Ogradowski was born in Jersey City, N. J., but later to Sayreville, N. J., which is his present home.

He graduated from South Jersey high school in 1934. In high school he was outstanding in dramatics as well as taking an active part in acting and stage management.

His high grades have been continued throughout her two and a half years at A. C. She is graduating in three years; her average has been 91.87 so far, the highest average in the senior class.
