GLEE CLUB GIVES CHURCH CONCERTS

Present Programs At Several Churches In Eastern Carolina Directed by Prof. Fontaine

The Glee Club of Atlantic Christian College started on its annual series of concerts about a month ago under the commendable direction of Prof. J. W. Fontaine. On March 20th the Glee Club journeyed to Arapahoe to sing before a home-coming crowd that filled the church to its capacity. Prof. Waters officiated over the services, with Dr. Hilley acting as special speaker.

The Glee Club rendered an effective concert with the following pieces: "Crying Lambs" "I Want To Be Ready" "I Head A Sound Of Voices" "Te Deum"

Following the spring holidays on April 3rd, the chorus went to Williamston in the morning and Robersonville in the evening. These two are familiar places to the chorus. The club has made annual trips there for the past few years.

There also a most effective concert was rendered. Comments were (Continued On Back Page)

DEBATERS MEET MASS STATE HERE

Carr and Lee Uphold Negative Side

For the second consecutive year, the debating team of the college met Massachusetts State College here. Last year the local team composed of Leon Roebuck and Robert Carr upheld the affirmative of the inter-collegiate query.

This year, however, the tables were turned and the local boys were on the negative side of the subject.

This was the first engagement for the local team. Although it was a non-decision contest, the boys gave the experienced team a very good debate. The verbal battle was held in the gymnasium and most of the students as well as a few outsiders attended.

The debaters from Massachusetts were on a southern tour and had met teams all along the way down. The local team, although they had not debated this year, were not inexperienced debaters.

Mr. Carr and Mr. Lee were both members of last year's team and seemed quite at served the "debating party."

Massachusetts boys seemed to enjoy their stay on our campus. Mr. Hoar gave voice to the opinion of the group when he said, "This is one place we have been shown real southern hospitality."

A small reception was given the visiting team immediately after the debate and a special dinner was served for the "debating party."

It would have been very hard to pick the winner of the clash but due to the faithful work of Dr. Morgan the boys put up a very good showing again; the northern boys. Dr. Morgan came to the rescue of the team when Miss Snyder, the regular coach, was taken ill during the middle of the season.

Dramatic Club Chooses Final Play

Recently the Dramatic Club decided to present as the Commencement Play, The Late Christopher Bean, a comedy by Sidney Howard. It is to be given the Saturday night before Commencement. The Late Christopher Bean, acclaimed by New York, London, and Paris audiences, is one of the most popular presentations for college and little theatre groups.

The play centers around Abby, the Haggett's maid, who will be portrayed by Sarah Green, who gave such a convincing performance in Sun-Up. John Yavoraki was considered for the role of Christopher Bean, who died ten years before the action begins, but was finally chosen as Dr. Haggett.

Other members of the cast include: Virginia Atkinson as Mrs. Haggett, Leona Sultan as Susan, Martha Brinson as Ada, Robert Johnson as Warren Creanien, Cleveland Badner as Tallant, Dalton Kennedy as Maxwell Davenport, and Ray Silverthorne as Rosen.

Delcie Turner will act as assistant to the director. Members of the technical staff have not been chosen to date, but will be picked soon.

PEACE ORATORICAL CONTEST HERE

Dr. Dalton Kennedy of Wilson was runner up in the local contest. A prize of five dollars was given to the winner.

The other entrants in the contest were Addison Hosea of Pikeville and Garlon Hamrick of Rutherfordton. SENIOR MAJORITY VOTE AS PACIFIST

National Poll Being Taken By Brown Daily Herald and Collegiate Press

In the spring of 1933 the Brown Daily Herald of Brown University, Providence, R. I. conducted a survey among American colleges to determine student opinion on a few selected subjects. This year the Brown Daily Herald with associated collegiate press is conducting a poll of world peace.

The vote of the entire student body could not be taken Tuesday, but the results of the vote of the senior class show that they are pacifist. The votes show that the seniors favor peaceful solutions of international problems.

A majority of 29 out of 35 voted that they would fight if continental U. S. was invaded; six declared they would not fight in any form of war declared by the United States; nine favored the protection of American rights abroad; and eleven voted that they would fight in any war declared by the United States.

The opinions expressed in matters regarding American policies in the far East show that 26 were in favor of withdrawing all the American troops from China. The entire group of 35 voted against using a consumers boycott against Japan and also voted unanimously (Continued From Front Page)

Cyrus Lee of New Bern emerged victorious over three other candidates and became the third president of the Cooperative Association. The first primary was held March 21, and a second vote was taken March 22, because no candidate received the required majority in the first primary.

In the first vote Cyrus Lee and Basil J. Bowden won over Griffith Hamlin of Wilson and D. D. McCall of Fremont. In the second voting Mr. Lee defeated Mr. Bowden in a hotly contested campaign.

Mr. Lee is a member of the Junior class and for two years has been a member of the inter-collegiate debating team. He is also associate editor of "The Collegiate" and a member of the Phi Delta Gamma Fraternity. His experience and ability qualify him for the position he is to hold.

The new and highly successful Cooperative Association was adopted here two years ago and has apparently made rapid advances in solving the problems of disciplinary and executive nature. The system of cooperative government is the only one in the state having this type of set-up. The government, unlike the former government, has faculty as well as student representatives. The board is made up of eleven members, seven students and four faculty members. This board is authorized to act on disciplinary problems that are outside the jurisdiction of the two minor councils, and to carry on business that concerns the student body at large. Nominations for all offices must be approved by the board and they have the privilege of making nominations.

On Monday, April 11th and Friday, April 15th, the remaining officers for the Cooperative Government were elected as follows: B. J. Bowden, vice-president; Howard Roberson, treasurer; Mary Matthews, secretary; Elmer Mottern, editor of "The Collegiate"; Robert Windham, business manager of "The Collegiate"; Olivia Fulghum, editor of "The Pine Knot"; Robert Jarman, business manager of "The Pine Knot"; Beulah Pearl Aycock, chief marshal; France (Continued On Back Page)

International Group Musicians Making Tour of Colleges In South

CONDUCTOR IS COMPOSER

The Little Philharmonic Orchestra under the direction and leadership of Mr. George Shapiro gave a concert March 31, at 10:30 a. m. in the Charles L. Coon High School auditorium. The orchestra was composed of 14 pieces and furnished excellent entertainment for the college students, faculty, and many town people, including high school students.

Mr. George H. Shapiro is renowned throughout the world for his remarkable performances in the leading European Countries. The group of performers is made up of artists from Russia, Denmark, Norway, Holland, Austria, Czechoslovakia, Mexico, and United States.

The selections given on the program were: Overture from the opera "The Bat," and "Perpetual Motion" by Johann Strauss, Jr.; Carmen Suite No. 1 by Georges Bizet; Claire de Lune and Arabesque No. 2 by Claude Debussy; and Hungarian Dance in G minor by Brahms and To a Wild Rose by MacDowell.

The many encores demanded by the audience made it necessary for the director to say he could offer only a few numbers due to insufficiency of time.

The conductor, George H. Shapiro, has studied under the direction of such masters as Hans Pichter and Arthur Nikisch, who are famous orchestra conductors. Mr. Shapiro is a composer as well as a conductor, having composed more than four hundred songs, numbers of orchestra works, three comic operas, two ballets and hundreds of orchestration.

Marriage Course Conf. Held At Chapel Hill

Dr. Morgan and Robert Lee Denny Represent A. C. C.

Last week Dr. Raymond Morgan and Robert Denny attended a marriage course conference held at Chapel Hill. Dr. Morgan, who teaches the course here, met with the faculty representatives to discuss methods of teaching the course. Robert Denny represented the class and met with the student representatives.

Some of the schools represented were Carolina, State, Duke, Woman's College of U. N. C., Atlantic Christian, Meredith, Farmville, State Teacher's College, Randolph-Macon, and Winthrop. At the present time only three of the schools represented have a course in marriage. They are Carolina, Duke University, and Atlantic Christian College.

Duke University and Atlantic Christian have mixed classes while at Carolina the classes are segregated.

The schools represented that do not have courses sent representatives to discuss means of getting the courses added to their school curriculum.

Dr. Everest Groves is the pioneer in this field of teaching and for a decade has been teaching such a course at Carolina. He does not teach classes himself at the present time but he has charge of the course both at Carolina and Duke University.

One of the Duke girl students was leader of the student representative discussion and Robert Denny was one of the leading figures in discussing the present system of teaching marriage courses.
