

Spring Vacation Tradition Broken

STUNT NIGHT AND SOCIAL CABARET ARE COMBINED

Freshman Class Rates First Place

Hatchets and other decorations carrying out the idea of Washington's Birthday characterized the second social cabaret observed on the campus this school year. This is the first time that in the course of one school term two cabarets have been presented. The Junior class, which usually sponsors Stunt Night annually, joined with the Social Committee in order to make possible this entertainment.

Margaret Farmer, formally dressed in masculine attire, presided as mistress of ceremonies.

Walking away with first prize of one dollar was the Freshman class which gave a pantomime presentation of the story of Pocahontas. Phi Sigma Tau took runner-up honors by imitating the members of the faculty. Other organizations giving stunts were: Sophomore class, Junior class, Senior class, Sigma Tau Sorority, Delta Sigma Sorority, the Woman's Dormitory Council, and the Y's. Vivian Denning played several selections and tapped dances. Carolyn Pratt, Elizabeth White and Miss Druckenmiller each sang selections.

Judges for the occasion were Mrs. H. M. Wilson, college nurse; Professor C. H. Hamlin, instructor in History and Mrs. Horace Thomas, advertising manager from the Wilson Daily Times.

Sandwiches and drinks were sold during the course of the evening.

Jewish Women Leave Gift To Library

Over 25 books and 35 pamphlets written by and about Jews have been given to the Atlantic Christian college library by the North Carolina Association of Jewish Women. The entire collection is now on display in the library.

Some of the college classes have already used the material as a basis for discussion in forums. If the people of Wilson and neighboring sections desire to use any of the books and pamphlets, they may do so.

The books in the gift collection are as follows: Let No Wave Engulf Us, by Altul; American Jewish Year Book, 1942-43; Fireside Discussion Group, Nos. 1-24, by Anti-Defamation League; Israel and the Nations, by Bloch; Man Who Stayed in Texas, by Anne and Harry Cohen; Appraisal of the Protocols of Zion, by Curtiss; Mr. Justice Brandeis, by Dilliard; Religions of Democracy, by Finkelstein; American Jew, by Fanowsky; Nobel Prize Winners, by Kaplan; Weave a Wreath of Laurel, by Lesser; History of the Jews in the United States, by Levinger; Beyond Tears, by Litten; You Can't Do Business With Hitler, by Miller; Jews in Palestine, by Revusky; Hitler's Counterfeit

Science Club Is Named For Dodo

The first science club of Atlantic Christian College has been formed!

Under the direction of Miss Nancy Eliason, head of the College Biology Department, the Dodo Bio Club held its initial meeting on Friday evening, February 19, at 7:00 o'clock in the Girl's Parlor of Kinsey Hall.

Charter membership to the club was extended to those students of the school year 1940-41, and of the first term of the present year who made a B average or higher in Biology. Those who are interested in the organization may join later as associate members.

The purpose of the club is threefold: to promote interest in Biology and physical science, to beautify the college campus, and to grow an experimental victory garden.

The club received its name from the Dodo bird which has become extinct in the world, having lived at only one place in the world and there being no living specie at present.

Heading the organization will be Bryan Parsons and Jeanne Hilley, co-chairmen; Gladys Roebuck, vice-chairman; Magdaline Phillips, secretary; and Billy Pate, treasurer.

Regular monthly meetings of the club will be each second Friday night and each fourth Thursday afternoon of the month.

At its first meeting, Miss Eliason, acting as hostess, served punch and animal crackers.

Mr. G. O. Taylor To Be On Campus This Week

Mr. George Oliver Taylor, National Director of Youth Work from St. Louis Missouri, will be on the college campus Wednesday and Thursday, March 17 and 18, to speak to the student body about youth problems and religious education. Mr. Taylor, who is well known in Christian Church Youth work, is being brought here by the Campus Religious Council of the college.

Tentative program of activities to be held while he is on the campus has been worked out by the Campus Religious Council. On Wednesday morning Mr. Taylor will speak in chapel and later visit classes. He will be entertained by the Campus Religious Council at a tea Wednesday afternoon. Later he will meet with the council to help it plan future programs. Mr. Taylor will lead in singing around the supper tables that night at 6:00. At 8:00 he will meet with the Fellowship Club. Others are invited to attend the meeting.

On Thursday morning Mr. Taylor will hold an open forum discussion during chapel period, to which all students are invited. In the afternoon he will meet with the North Carolina Commit-

Caldwell Hall Has New Dean

Miss Ethel Eugenia Stickley of Woodstock, Virginia, who joined the faculty of Atlantic Christian College recently, replaces Miss Nancy B. Eliason as assistant Dean of Girls in Caldwell Hall.

Miss Stickley holds the degree of Bachelor of Music. She received her training at Hamilton College, Lexington, Kentucky; Bethany College, Bethany, West Virginia; Columbia University, New York City; and Syracuse University, Syracuse, New York. She also did advanced work at Troy Conservatory, Troy, New York. Miss Stickley received further instruction through the Philadelphia Conservatory in the Progressive Series Work given by the Art Public Society of St. Louis, Missouri.

Miss Stickley is a teacher of history and music. Before coming to A.C.C., she taught at several places. Among these are: Shenandoah College and Conservatory of Music, Dayton, Virginia; Randolph Macon Academy of Virginia; State Teachers College, East Richmond, Virginia; and Pikeville College, Pikeville, Kentucky.

YWCA Presents One-Act Play

"Little circles of friendship and leadership form the foundation for larger circles of world-wide movements to progress" was the key-note of the one-act play, "We Call It Freedom," presented by the YWCA Monday evening, March 1, in the Howard Chapel.

The scene of the play was in the very dignified, aristocratic home of a certain Mrs. Jefferson. The theme of the play centered around the one problem — present day democracy.

Playing the leading role was Mary Massey, who acted the part of the young daughter home from college for the summer vacation. Other characters were: Victoria Williamson as Mrs. Jefferson; Peggy Holton as the maid; and Mary McDaniel as Lily, a girl from the slum section of town in search of work to do, and who felt that she had been cheated because Janice had gotten a position for which she had applied.

The play was written by Dorothy Clarke Wilson. It was directed by Virginia Lancaster. Johnny Green did the make-up for the group.

The production concluded a series of joint Y meetings which had followed the theme of better social conditions. The program immediately preceding this program consisted of a panel discussion on the "Part the Negro Plays in the Present Conflict" led by members of the Public Speaking Class.

PRESIDENT H. S. HILLEY ATTENDS NATIONAL MEET

EDUCATION CLUB IS REORGANIZED

The Education Club, with Professor F. F. Grim and Professor C. A. Jarman as sponsors, has been reorganized to include a chapter of Future Teachers of America. The F.T.A. chapter is a new organization on the campus and is closely related to and associated with the Education Club. The new club has been named the Calvin Wiley Education Club.

In the new club there are two groups of members: those who are F.T.A. members, and are thereby affiliated with the North Carolina Education Association, and those who are interested in teaching as a profession but are not F.T.A. members. Any member of the club may become a member of the F.T.A. by subscribing to the North Carolina Education magazine.

Officers of the new organization which have been elected as the Collegiate goes to press are: President, Nannie Blanche Stokes; and Isla Mae Phipps, first vice president. The new constitution calls for second and third vice presidents and a secretary-treasurer, which have not been elected at present.

Collegiate Staff Dines At Grill

by B. Haislip

History repeated itself at 5:50 on Wednesday, February 17, when for the second time in its history the Collegiate staff gathered at the Golden Weed Grill for a night of banqueting and fun. Although Dr. Hartsock was present as the principal speaker and guest of honor, there was little or no formality and she too joined in the casual spirit of joviality and became one of us for the evening.

After the veal-cutlet supper had been carefully stored away and Dr. Hartsock had given us words of wisdom in the journalistic field, entertainment was supplied by allowing members of the staff to tell what they had learned by working on the paper. Many unusual and amazing things came to light, but the question of "Who is Snoopers?" is like "Who is Yehoodi?"—still unanswered. Miss Nackos, as our sponsor and also our chaperone, was, of course, along and added to the fun in her own way.

Of course, I am just a freshman and hardly an authority on the subject, but from remarks made by some faculty members as well as students, it seems that the general opinion is that this year's staff is one of the most congenial groups on the campus. This was well proved on the night of the banquet, and perhaps a good deal of the credit goes to our capable editor-in-chief.

"Consideration of action church colleges should take in view of the plight of small schools in the present crisis" was the purpose of the meeting of the directors of Board of Higher Education among the Disciples of Christ which convened at Indianapolis, Indiana, from February 22 through February 25. President H. S. Hilley represented Atlantic Christian College.

"One aim of the meeting," Dr. Hilley stated, "was to try to secure help from the churches in order to keep the schools open. Tying up with this is an effort to promote closer relationship between the churches and the colleges."

Dr. Hilley told staff reporters that after the Board had drawn up plans, they met with the National Committee on Budgets for preliminary approval of the plan. Final approval will be given in May.

College presidents, totaling around fifteen, attended the meeting.

"Travel was very satisfactory," Dr. Hilley stated in reference to his trip. "I made the quickest trip and the best connections I have ever made in traveling to Indianapolis."

Dramateers Plan Forthcoming Plays

The Dramateers, members of the Dramatic Society of Atlantic Christian College, will present a one-act play Saturday night, April 17, in connection with Religious Emphasis Week-end, which is to be held the 16, 17 and 18 of April. The vesper drama, entitled "The Resurrection," a story of the Mother of Jesus and the mother of Judas.

The annual commencement play to be presented by the Dramateers for the college will be a three-act royalty play. The play has not been selected as yet but several royalty plays are under consideration.

One of the Freshman classes of Miss Mary J. Nackos will present for the Dramatic Society a mystery, "The Ghost of Green Mansions." This play will be given in two or three weeks.

Do You Know Who Did It?

There is one thing I'd like every student on this campus to take one look at. It's the sign on the front campus which in days before read, "Atlantic Christian College, given by the class of '37." At present, it's quite an "appreciative spectacle" to see half the letters out of the sign! What do you suppose passers-by think? What do visitors to our campus think? What do you yourself think?

Has it ever occurred to the persons responsible for its present appearance that the sign was not their own property? Does respect for others and other's belongings play any part in the social world any longer? If it does, then why do things like the event in question happen?

If you're guilty, stop such behavior. If you're not guilty, find the guilty person and see him given due punishment or at least try to keep such occurrences from appearing again!

There is some talk that college students didn't commit this act. If this is true, then, it is still the duty of the students to seek out the culprits. If it is an act of outsiders, then action of some kind must be taken against these people even though they do not come to A. C.

The important thing is to get to the bottom of it and work up to the top.

Recess To Be March 25-29

No Easter Holiday Will Be Observed

Spring holidays will be observed March 24-29!

This announcement was made public to the student body on Friday morning, March 5. It is the first time in the history of the college that the tradition of Spring vacation at Easter has been broken. The action was taken by the faculty at a meeting of the faculty to which a petition calling for an earlier Spring recess, drawn up and signed by the students of the college, was presented.

The holidays, which would have come April 21-26, were moved back to the week following quarterly examinations. The reason for the petition was given as being that the recess would have come too near the end of the school year. This would have created on the part of the students and the faculty a hardship as the final examinations are scheduled only one week later. A late recess would have given no time at all for readjustment to school work and preparation for final tests.

An announcement of the same nature is that there will be no form of holiday at Easter time.

Editor's Note: The fact that there will be no form of holiday at Easter means that there must be no cutting of classes immediately preceding or following Easter for such may become double cuts. Most students cannot stand such cuts and if wholesale cutting appears, several may be thrown out of class.

MISS STEPHENSON HEADS CHORAL CLUB

"We hope, by the organization of the Atlantic Christian College Glee Club and by the adoption of a constitution, to make rapid progress in that organization," Miss Jessie Stephenson, new president of the club, told staff reporters recently.

The Glee Club was formed from the former Girls' Chorus. It is under the direction of Professor John W.
