

Greeks Schedule Spring Functions

Sigma Tau Chi

Sigma Tau Chi elected Therese Rabl to lead them as their new president for this semester. Other officers are vice-president, Eleanor Hatzell; secretary, Annie M. Joyner; treasurer, Lovia Creech; corresponding secretary, Mary Lou Lee; reporter, Mildred Blackmon; chaplain, "Tumpy" Corlette; and Pan Hellenic representatives, Ruth Lockamy and Therese Rabl.

The sisterhood welcomed 16 new pledge members. They are Jo Ann Crumpler, Becky Ellington, Ann Edwards, Joan Edwards, Carolyn Thomas, Elena Lawler, Jean Burkhalter, Betty Jean Howell, Gloria Bass, Dot Oakey, Elsie Davis, Shirley Bunn, Annie Morris Barnes, Peggy Coley, Geraldine Windham, and Syble Ellis. One of the sorority's former members has rejoined the sisterhood also. She is Mrs. Syble Sanderson a senior from Morehead City.

Sigma Tau Chi recently honored two of its members, Maxine Stanley O'Connell and Pat Burgess Davis at a bridal shower which was given at the home of Mrs. Hugh Johnston.

Service Work

During Religious Emphasis Week Sigma Tau Chi was in charge of the Monday morning sunrise service. They also assisted the dramatic department with the Eastern Drama Festival which was held on the campus March 25 and 26. The sorority has decided to offer its efforts for additional service work in the hope that it will prove to be a strengthening element in the makeup of the organization and the college.

Phi Kappa Alpha

The annual Brother-Sister Dance for Phi Kappa and Sigma Tau Chi was held at the Elk's Club Friday night, March 5. Both organizations were well represented and the occasion was termed a success by all who attended.

The members of Phi Kappa and all others who have enjoyed the TV set at the fraternity house express their sincere thanks to the Phi Kap alumni. It was only by their combined and generous contributions that this source of pleasure was afforded.

Phi Sigma Tau

Phi Sigma Tau Sorority has made plans for its annual Spring Banquet which will be held at the D. A. R. House in Farmville, April 10. The newly elected officers are as follows: president, Micky Raynor; vice-president, Marjorie Byrum; secretary, Libby Rumpie; treasurer, Vivian Muns; chaplain, Sarah Alice Harris; historian, Betty Jean Trott; reporter, Shirley House; pledge-master, Jerry Ball; and Pan-Hellenic representative, Lois Moore.

Peebles And White Accept Freedom Shrine

Phi Delta Gamma

The men of Phi Delta Gamma are quite busy at the present time making plans for their annual banquet which will be held in the near future.

Phi Delta recently took second place in the intramural basketball tournament after having placed first in conference play.

A seven-week pledge indoctrination program has just been completed. This program consisted of a one hour session each week and was centered around the various phases of fraternity life. Both faculty members and students were used as resource persons in this very beneficial program under the direction of Phi Delta's pledge master, Paul Crouch. These pledges will become active members at the conclusion of this school quarter. Plans are now underway for their formal initiation.

spective functions. The discussion leaders, or those in charge of the workshops, were to be commended for their excellent handling of the procedures and for the success which resulted.

But the workshops were not the only points of interest during the course of the meeting. On the opening night, Friday, a talent show was presented for the entertainment of the delegates. And at the beginning and conclusion of the meeting business meetings were held. The one at the beginning was for the purpose of understanding more fully the task which each of the workshops were to fulfill as nearly as possible. The meeting at the close of the larger meeting was for the purpose of sharing those

ing. She says, "If we gain membership to the Southern Association, if we gain all measures of scholastic merits, and lose what A. C. has most cherished — a heartfelt friendship — what have we?" I agree, we must not lose our sense of friendliness. But this is no "if . . . and" situation at all. We CAN and we ARE doing both. Through the accomplishments being made and growth and progress of the school we are drawing closer and closer to the highest honor of all — accreditation by the Southern Association. And as a result of this growth and expansion the student body of the school has reached a new peak in school spirit and enthusiasm. I believe that each and every student on this campus is honored and proud to be a part of this advancement — Atlantic Christian College's movement toward better and higher achievements and accomplishments.

said through with a performance seldom done by experienced actors under such circumstances. Another Oscar goes to Mickey Raynor, who took the role of the gypsy in Camino Real, also the night before its scheduled appearance, and contributed so effectively to the mood of the play as to fully insure its success. From where your columnist was sitting Mickey appeared just as much at ease and versatile in this character as in her portrayal of Saint Martha in Fable which was presented later in the evening.

Another exceptional find was Howard O'Connell, whose originality afforded him his greatest triumph in Camino Real. Unable to describe his "character" with mere words, I can only say that no one who saw (or heard) his version of the proprietor will soon forget him. That alone would seem to be enough. But later he characterized Saint Peter in Fable with so much contrast to his earlier accomplishment and became once again the Triple Crowned fisherman which he created, much to the audiences' enjoyment, earlier this month in the bill on one-acters.

points of interest which would benefit the group as a whole.

The N. S. A. (NATIONAL STUDENT ASSOCIATION) is for the purpose of developing a closer and more integrated program of understanding on the various campuses across the nation. By having meetings of this type the spirit of freedom and fellowship is promoted to a greater extent, as those of various races and classes come together to discuss pertinent problems which confront them and share with the others their points of strength whereby, in the process, all may benefit from the experience of the others.

I cannot praise a fugitive and cloistered virtue, unexercised and unbreathed, that never sallies out and sees her adversary, but slinks out of the race where that immortal garland is to be run for, not without dust and heat. - John Milton -
