New Director Has Been Chosen

(From the "Alumni News") — A 29-year-old Christian Church minister will become Director of the Division of Growth and Development at Atlantic Christian College, it was announced recently.

Dr. Arthur D. Wenger, president of ACC, said that Bryon Welch, Minister of the Central Christian Church at Elgin, Texas, will come to the college to begin his duties on March 1.

A native of Missouri, Mr. Welch has been Minister at Elgin since March, 1954. In addition to holding several pastorates in Missouri and Texas, Mr. Welch served as campaign director for a professional fund raising firm and has directed fund campaigns in Jacksonville, N. C., Richmond, Va., and Ironwood, Mich.

He also has served as District Manager of Traffic and Sales for Trans-Texas Airways in Houston, Texas.

A native of Kansas City, Mo., Mr. Welch attended the public schools there and then attended Swarthmore College, Texas Christian University, and the University of Texas. He held pastorates at Westline and Freeman in Missouri, and at Bartlett, Rockdale and Elgin in Texas.

He has served as president of the Elgin Ministers' Association and as president of the Elgin Good Citizenship League. He also was the organizing minister of the new First Christian Church at Lexington, Texas.

Mr. Welch is married to the former Miss Mabel Holmberg of Freeman, Missouri. They have one son Byron, II.

95 New Students Enroll At ACC

By PATT MURRAY

Ninety-five new students have enrolled at Atlantic Christian College for the spring semester, according to Mrs. Bethany Joyner, the college registrar. Due to losses from the previous semester, however, the enrollment figure will probably be about the same as last September.

Men outnumber the women of these new students by a ratio of almost four to one. Only twenty women are in this group while there are seventy-five men.

Seventeen of these have attended ACC before, while forty-eight are transferring from other colleges. There are thirty entering college for the first time as freshmen.

In addition to the North Carolinians new students come from Virginia, Florida, Kentucky, and Pennsylvania. Some of the colleges that the transfer students have attended are North Carolina State, Campbell, East Carolina, University of North Carolina, Wake Forest, Louisiana, Chowan, Edward's Military Institute, and the University of Uncle Sam.

Wenger Family Enjoys Wilson

By JOANNE RIVENBARK

"The friendliest town I have ever lived in," said Mrs. Arthur Wenger when she was asked how she liked Wilson. "I especially like the way you people in Carolina say, 'Hey, how are you?'" The Arthur Wengers returned to Wilson early this fall, when Dr. Wenger was named president of Atlantic Christian College.

Mrs. Wenger, the former Doris Kellenbarger, grew up in Newton, Kansas. There she received her entire education with the exception of a year she spent doing graduate work at Denver University. She has a degree in dramatics and public speaking from Bethel College. She spends a good deal of time telling stories to clubs and organizations in Wilson.

While attending Bethel she met Dr. Wenger, but they were just friends until her junior year, when they then started dating steadily. She and Dr. Wenger were in a play together at Bethel in which she played his mother. In May, 1944, she and Dr. Wenger were married.

Dr. and Mrs. Wenger are the parents of three boys, Frank, age nine, Jon Michael, six, and Mark, four. Frank and Jon attend Woodward School, Frank at the present time, thinks he would like to be a scientist. Already he is doing extra chores to earn money to buy a microscope. Jon Michael and Mark say that they would like to be doctors. Their mother states that they are getting much practice since they are already "operating on" and giving shots to the stuffed animals and dolls at home.

One of the family's favorite pastimes is traveling. The Wenger family accompanied Dr. Wenger to Philadelphia for a convention earlier this winter. On their way back the family toured our nation's capital. The children enjoyed many historic sights, but the most impressive one to them was the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

these two joined forces and made the winning float of the Homecoming parade. The theme of the float was "Education Is The Power Of A Nation." The sorority and fraternity jointly sponsored Miss Sybil Atkinson from Clayton for Homecoming queen. She was among the five runner-ups.

For Thanksgiving, the girls took as their project a little boy who needed clothes, money, and friendship. They had a party in his honor and presented him with a great deal of each.

As their first social activity Omega Chi invited their brothers to a hay-ride-winner roast, which was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Johnston, Jr. Sigma Rho Phi returned the invitation with an invitation to the Elk's Club December 1 for an informal dance. The girls really enjoyed dancing that night.

Medical Schools Recommend May Admission Tests

Princeton, N. J., January 11: Candidates for admission to medical school in the fall of 1958 are advised to take the Medical College Admission Test in May, it was announced today by Educational Testing Service, which prepares and administers the test for the Association of American Medical Colleges. These tests, required of applicants by almost every medical college throughout the country, will be given twice during the current calendar year. Candidates taking the May test, however, will be able to furnish scores to institutions in early fall, when many medical colleges begin the selection of their next entering class.

Candidates may take the MCAT on Saturday, May 11, 1957, or on Tuesday, October 29, 1957, at administrations to be held at more than 300 local centers in all parts of the country. The Association of American Medical Colleges recommends that candidates for admission to classes starting in the fall of 1958 take the May test.

The MCAT consists of tests of general scholastic ability, a test on understanding of modern society, and an achievement test in science. According to ETS, no special preparation other than a review of science subjects is necessary. All questions are of the objective type.

Kaoru Nonaka Hails From Gifu

By JOHNNY BROWNING

Another foreign student on our fair campus is Kaoru Nonaka. Kaoru hails from Gifu, twenty miles south of Tokoyo, Japan. The beginning of Kaoru's interest in attending an American college began with an exchange professor in Japan. After writing various colleges here in the United States requesting scholarship aid Kaoru eventually enrolled at Acc. He had the intention of coming for one year but is working toward graduation.

Kaoru probably had little trouble, if any at all, with the English language since he had eight years of study behind him. Our friend from Japan had three years in junior high, three in high school and two more in college before coming to ACC. On top of this Kaoru is majoring in English and minoring in business here at ACC. His plans for the future include working at the United Nations.

HEAD COOK RETIRES

For all the students who have attended ACC for a year or more and have eaten in the college cafeteria, Tillie's rolls will be something to remember. Matilda Ellis, better known as Tillie, retired recently as head cook in the college cafeteria. Tillie came to work for the college in 1934 and recently received a letter of commendation from Milton L. Adams, college business manager.

Omega Chi Makes Good Progress As New Campus Sorority

By CAROL AUSTIN And LINDA NICHOLS

Last year on the campus a new organization, Sisters of the Journey, began. This club was accepted and authorized as a Greek Letter Sorority during the week of spring term exams. It became Omega Chi sorority. Two who played leading roles in accomplishing this were Betsy Everette and Mary Eva Griffin. Each has been made an honorary member of the sorority.

In the spring of 1956 this band of newly organized girls made curtains for the Greek room. They also helped the Sigma Rho Phi boys decorate for their spring banquet.

When the fall semester began in September four members returned. They were Sylvia Farmer, Gwen Stanley, Dora Reason, and Linda Lee. They, along with their sponsors, Mrs. H. B. Johnston Jr., Mrs. G. E. Coker, Mrs. G. A. Constantine, and Mrs. J. E. Weems recruited eight girls to join the sorority as charter members. They were Linda Jones, Martha Raye Dawson, Linda Nichols, Hilda Powell, Toni Uzell, Carol Austin, Thurla Boswell, and Jean Creech. These girls had the initiative to advance forward with an unknown organization. They had to instill the spark of interest, the hopes and aims of Omega Chi. This they did with the first meeting held in September. This interested group made plans for rush week. The week proved to be very successful. Omega Chi now has a good strong foothold on the campus.

Recognition

In September of 1956 Omega Chi was recognized as the sister sorority of one of the campus' leading fraternities — Sigma Rho Phi. When Homecoming rolled around

College Life As A Hash Slinger

By MINNIE MARGARET UPTON

Each and every morning a certain group of young women in Harper Hall arise at about 6:30 A. M. in order to parade to the Bert Hardy Dining Hall by 7:15 to quiet the hunger pains in the tummies of the students here at Atlantic Christian. Trouble is unavoidable from the beginning of the day. If we're a minute or so late, already quite a few customers will have arrived and are eagerly, hungrily, and grumpily awaiting us; while if we make a special effort to be there early, they wait until the last ten minutes of serving time to come dashing in expecting to find a full supply of everything.

First gripes first: silver always presents a problem because the tray holds only a certain amount. On my counter it is always forks and I am never told that they are low; it is always empty. Then we must explain that the silver is not dirty (there are exceptions, of course) but that it is only the way in which it dried that causes it to look black and that the health inspector prohibits drying by cloth. An act usually similar to that of the silver occurs with the trays. Added to these difficulties is that sometimes the napkins must give out.

By lunch time, if I am lucky, the diners will have finished the comparison of dessert; and, with the aid and opinion of both the person preceding and the one following, will make a hesitant decision on the meat and re-
