VOL. XXVIII

ATLANTIC CHRISTIAN COLLEGE, DECEMBER 2, 1957

NUMBER FIVE

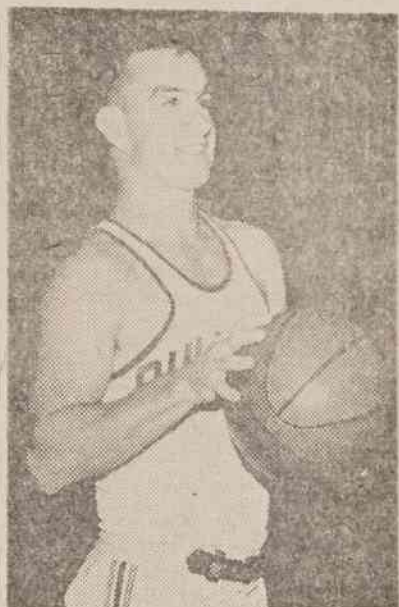

Go Bulldogs, Beat The Wolfpack

Atlantic Christian College students will move en masse to the campus of one of the nation's most famous basketball playing colleges tonight.

The town, Raleigh, N. C.; the place, North Carolina State College; the building, the William Neal Reynolds Coliseum; the purpose, a basketball game with the Wolfpack.

In reality it will be a revenge game for N. C. State if the students there have long memories. For in 1941, the last time these two teams played, Atlantic Christian College was on the long end of the score, 26 - 25. Although the ACC Bulldogs have the last victory, they will be the underdogs tonight fighting for additional glory as ACC rides the heights as one of the top small college basketball schools in the country.

The game also will begin a new chapter in the basketball history of Atlantic Christian College. Win or lose, it means that Atlantic Christian is continuing to get more and more recognition for its accom-

It will be old home week for ACC's coach, Jack McComas. It was on the West Raleigh campus that he excelled in basketball for Coach Everett Case. Tonight it will be pupil against teacher, and everyone can be assured that McComas would like to come back home with a victory.

Facts point directly to State as the favorite. However, the Bulldogs have nothing to lose in the game since they will obtain prestige either way, win or lose. These facts should serve to fire them up for a maximum effort.

It will be Ryan, Holland, Gillikin, Williams and Knox, in the starting lineup with Winfree, Dunn, Oden, Whaley and the other Bulldogs sitting on the edges of their seats waiting for the call to jump into action.

State will use such luminaries as Richter, Clark, Pucello, and many many others.

The game gets underway at 8 p. m. Sections 18 20 will be filled with ACC fans.

Land Purchased For Physical Ed

Atlantic Christian College is in the process of purchasing a plot of land called the Corbett Tract which lies behind the row of houses facing Corbett Avenue and along Gold Park Road.

The tract measures approximately 388 feet by 361 feet. When the details are worked out and the college has possession of the tract, it will be used to expand physical education facilities.

Obtaining this piece of land will allow the college to begin a program of development of areas needed in both the teaching of physical education courses and in intramural sports, such as softball, tennis and others.

The problems which the college hopes to solve in this manner have been brought on by increased enrollment and by the growing number of students desiring to major in physical education.

Summer Finals Discontinued

Dr. Wenger, ACC President, has announced that the Administrative Council has voted to discontinue Summer Commencement, subject to the approval of the Executive Board of the Board of Trustees. Students completing work for a degree in the summer will receive a statement showing completion of requirements and will then be awarded their degrees at the following June commencement.

Mobile X-Ray Unit To Visit Campus

Atlantic Christian College students and faculty members will have an opportunity to obtain a free chest X-ray this week.

Dr. R. B. Cutlip, ACC Dean, announced today that a mobile X-ray unit will be on the campus Wednesday and Thursday. It will be parked behind Howard Chapel and will be open from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m.

Weems Is Named Student Services Head To Co-ordinate Student Life Program

The appointment of John E. Weems, Director of Admissions and Placement at Atlantic Christian College to a new position as Director of Student Services has been announced by Dr. Arthur D. Wenger, ACC president.

Dr. Wenger said today the appointment will become effective immediately. The new post will incorporate Mr. Weems' present duties with those of the Student Life Division as a whole.

In his new position he will continue to serve in the Administrative division of the college called Division of Student Life and Division of Instruction, headed by Dr. Randall B. Cutlip, Dean of the College.

Dr. Wenger said Mr. Weems will work directly with Dr. Cutlip in co-ordinating the student life program on the campus.

Mr. Weems will co-ordinate such college student programs as admissions, housing, placement, health, social affairs, religious activities, campus government, fraternities and sororities through the Deans of Men and Women, testing, orientation, the Bohunk, student records, and counseling.

The Deans of Men and Women of the college will co-ordinate their programs through the office of the Director of Student Services in cooperation with the Dean of the College, it was announced.

Mr. Weems has been a member of the faculty and staff for three years. He served as a full-time member of the faculty in the Department of Business until his appointment as Director of Admissions and Placement last July.

He is a native of Nashville, Tenn. He holds degrees on the undergraduate and graduate levels from George Peabody College For Teachers in Nashville.

In announcing Mr. Weems' appointment today Dr. Wenger said he has also been named to serve as a member of the Wilson Industrial Commission of the Wilson Chamber of Commerce.

The purpose of the commission is to find means to develop the community's resources, as an inducement to industries seeking locations. A member of the board of trustees of the college, S. M. Cozart, heads the commission.

Don Cossacks Here Wednesday

The world-famed Don Cossack male chorus of singers and dancers will arrive on the ACC campus day after tomorrow for the first evening concert on the Assembly and Concert 1957-58 series.

The eight o'clock performance in Howard Chapel will be free to students who have previously picked up their admission cards. Students who have obtained cards but find themselves unable to attend the program are urged to turn in their cards to Mr. Bardin in the Business Department.

Although originally Russians, all the men in the chorus are now American citizens. They have appeared all over the world, touring six continents and 65 countries. Wherever they have appeared they have received outstanding acclaim for their work.

The group has given 2,223 concerts in the United States alone in the past 17 years.

Dr. Vere Rogers, Chairman of the Assembly and Concert Committee, said, "This is one of the best programs our committee has ever scheduled. We were very lucky eight months ago to be able to sign a contract with this extraordinary group when they let us know of an open date during their fall tour in this area. It is a rare opportunity no student will want to miss."

Yule Dance Set On December 14

As last year, the Christmas Dance will be held in the lobby of the Classroom building. The date for this event is December 14.

Plans for this annual event have not been completed as yet. However, Charles Hughes, Student Chairman of the Social Committee, announced that dress for the event will include dinner jackets or tuxedos for the men. If it is entirely impossible to obtain either of these two, dark suits will be permissible. The ladies are asked to dress formally.

Dead Week Issue Up For Study

By JIM BISHOP
Approximately a month ago the following bulletin was issued by the Dean's office:

"Due to the continued increase of flu among students and faculty it has become necessary to take further emergency steps in an attempt to reduce the possibilities of spreading the disease. Effective until Monday, November 11, all non-academic activities will be suspended. This includes Chapels and Assemblies; Intramural Sports Program; Fraternity, Sorority and Club Meetings; all Social Events; Executive Board and Pan-Hellenic Councils."

This proclamation was greeted with mixed emotions by the majority of students. Some of these students were joyful at this announcement, for they thought this would be a good week to take it easy without any pressing engagements; on the other hand there were others who felt that it would be impossible to carry on school without these important and essential social functions.

It was after this week that the student leaders of the campus began realizing that it would be a blessing to have a "dead week"

Lid Lifts On Greek Initiation Season

One of the main events of the year for Atlantic Christian College's Greek letter organizations will begin tomorrow - Initiation Season.

December 3 was the date set by the Pan-Hellenic Council signaling the start of this annual season on the ACC campus.

A check of all the fraternities and sororities on the campus, however, indicates that most of the organizations will wait until after the Christmas holidays to initiate their new members.

Most of the groups have scheduled their initiation programs for the weekend of January 11. Some others, however, have not made definite plans as yet and there are indications that at least one fraternity may initiate pledges before the Christmas holidays.

A total of 231 students at the college, most of them freshmen, will join the various Greek letter organizations during the initiations. Of this number 119 are women students who will become members of the sororities and 112 are men students who will be initiated into fraternities.

Omega Chi will have its initiation on Friday night, January 10, at which time 31 pledges will be inducted into the sorority at a formal ritual.

Powell, and Joyce Parker.

Other Omega Chi pledges are: Peggy Mixon, Myra Webster, Donna Morris, Jenny McLamb, Mildred Murphy, Cleo West, Shirley Turner, Joanne McClendon, Patsy May, and Marie Prillaman.

Saturday night, January 11, is the night that Delta Sigma will induct 21 pledges into its sisterhood. Among those pledges are: Marsha Coleu, Faye Quinn, Emily Harris, Patsy Kennedy, Willie Owen Guy, Jo Winfree, Nita Raye Brown, and Glenda Rose White.

Linda Westbrook, Eleanor Walters, Julia Faye Pridden, Peggy Pittman, Lynne Crews, Beverly Riggs, Betty Cummings, Thelma Smith, and Nancy Wales, Janice Jones, Grace Casey, Ann Warley, and Janice Huggins.

Sigma Tau Chi will have 43 pledges to be initiated this year. Included in this group are: Gayle Cameron, Ida Sue Neighbors, Judy Nesmith, Jean Scott, Henrietta Gerstel, Judy Pope, Ann Privett and Nancy Linton.

Also these are to be initiated;
