Political Band Wagon Set To Roll

Big Group Awaits NCEA Convention

By JIM BISHOP

A large delegation of Atlantic Christian College students and faculty will attend the annual convention of the North Carolina Education Association in Asheville, March 20, 21 and 22.

Sixteen Atlantic Christian students will be a part of the delegation attending from ACC. They will be headed by Martha Jones and Abner Gore, nominees for Miss and Mr. Future Teacher of America.

One of the highlights of the convention will be an Atlantic Christian College breakfast at the S. and W. Cafeteria in Asheville on Saturday morning, March 22, at 8 a.m. The breakfast is being held for former students of ACC who will be at the convention.

Dr. J. P. Tyndall, Assistant Dean of the college, will speak at the breakfast. Presiding will be Dr. Millard P. Burt, former president of the ACC Alumni Association.

Dr. G. A. Constantine, Acting Chairman of the Department of Education and Psychology at the college, and Miss Ann Bullock, member of the faculty in that department, are planning to attend the convention.

Students planning to attend besides Miss Jones and Gore are Beanie Strickland, Barbara Jones, Jean Poythress, Janet Powell, Sybil Bass, Martha Sanders, Martha Hayes, Charlene Willoughby, Olie Cuddington, Durwood Sinclair, Dale Gainey, Sue Sugg, Lucille Willoughby, and Mary Rose Parnell.

The group will leave the campus about 5 a.m. on March 21, and will drive to Asheville. Registration for the F.T.A. group will be held at the Hotel George Vanderbilt from 1:30 to 2:30 p. m. that day.

Dr. Robert L. Holt, Vice-President of Mars Hill College, will address the F.T.A. group at a meeting that afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the ballroom of the George Vanderbilt.

5 More Students Make Dean's List

The names of five ACC students who made the Dean's List were left off when the list was first announced, it was explained today by Mrs. Bethany R. Joyner, College Registrar.

Those students making the Dean's List who were not announced are Ruth Waller, William Connor, Edith Roberts, Robert Tolar, and Helen Adams.

Elections Slated Here Next Week

By JOANNE RIVENBARK
Collegiate Co-Editor

Political activity on the Atlantic Christian College campus will reach fever pitch next week. It will be the big event of student elections, the selection of a student to head the Cooperative Association for the coming college year.

There are three candidates. They are Don Lee of Arapahoe, Jim Bishop of Philadelphia, Pa., and George Griswold of Kinston. All are juniors.

Students will have an opportunity to see the candidates in action at a special assembly in Howard Chapel next Thursday morning. At that time campaign managers and their candidates will take the stump to seek support from the student body.

Already, however, the three candidates are campaigning actively to line up members of various organizations on the campus. This activity is expected to pick up as election time draws near. The election will be held next Friday when all students and faculty members will have the chance to vote for the candidate of choice.

Lee, the president of Sigma Alpha Fraternity, came to ACC three years ago from Pamlico County High School. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Lee of Arapahoe. Lee was active in his high school and has been active at the college. He has served in many positions in his fraternity.

Bishop, secretary of Sigma Rho Phi Fraternity, came to ACC from Philadelphia, Pa. He attended Frankford High School in Philadelphia and is the son of Rev. and Mrs. George W. Bishop. He was vice-president of his high school student body his senior year.

Since being at ACC he has served on the Pan-Hellenic Council, and has been a reporter of The Collegiate. He is married to the former Miss Arlene Bourne.

Griswold, a member of Phi Kappa Alpha Fraternity, is from Kinston. He attended Southwood High School. He was treasurer of his sophomore class in high school and president of his high school chapter of Future Farmers of America.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Griswold, Sr., he has served as president of the sophomore class at ACC and as house president of Phi Kappa.

All students and faculty members are urged to go to the polls next Friday and vote for the candidate of their choice.

Musical Play Will Open Two-Night Run In Howard Chapel Tonight; Has 2 Casts

Atlantic Christian's first musical play in several years will begin a scheduled two-night run here tonight in Howard Chapel.

The curtain will go up tonight at 7:30 p.m. on "Down In The Valley," by Arnold Sundgaard and Kurt Weill. The production is a cooperative venture undertaken by the Stage and Script Club, the college music department and the physical education department.

Mrs. Doris Holsworth is serving as dramatics director. James V. Cobb of the music department will be music director, and Gene Barnes of the physical education department will be dance director.

The production will serve as the spring play of the Stage and Script Club and a concert for the Chorus.

Members of both groups are taking part.

Students can attend the play both nights and all they will recognize will be the words and music, since two casts are scheduled to present the two night run.

In the lead role tonight will be Frankie Herring as "Jennie." Tomorrow night Ann Nelson will take over the role.

Robert Tolar will play the part of "Breck" tonight and George Bullock will serve in that role tomorrow night.

Gerald Sutherland will play the role of "Bouche" both nights, it was announced this morning. Bob Collins and Jimmy Mitchell will divide the roles of "The Leader" and "The Preacher," with one playing one role tonight and the other playing it tomorrow night.

Douglas Hunter and S. D. Bundy will play the role of "Father," James Moskos will open as the "Guard" tonight and Carl Metts will play it tomorrow night. Bartel Frauendorfer is set to play "Peters." The "Women" in the play will be Gwen Stanley and Ann Jenkins. "Dancers" will be Carl Metts, Bobby Swinson and members of the college chorus.

The play is built around folk music and should provide great interest for students on the ACC campus. There will be no admission charged to students. Outsiders will have to pay a small admission charge.

Chorus To Sing At 15 Programs

A seven-day tour with 15 appearances will be made by the Atlantic Christian College Chorus from Sunday, April 13 to Sunday, April 20, it was announced recently.

The Chorus will be under the direction of James V. Cobb on the tour.

Cities in eastern North Carolina to be visited on the tour are Belhaven, Elizabeth City, Washington, New Bern, Kinston, Goldsboro, Fayetteville and Wilson, it was announced.

The Chorus will leave the campus early on Sunday morning, April 13.

Trustees Plan Study Of Future Growth

A special study committee will be appointed in the near future with its aims to be the determination of Atlantic Christian College's overall program as it seeks to meet the education demands of the area it serves and the size that the college should maintain in the future.

In a recommendation presented to the Board of Trustees of the college at a meeting on February 26, Dr. Arthur D. Wenger, ACC president, requested the appointment of the committee.

"In order that our growth be planned and not haphazard, I am making this recommendation," Dr. Wenger explained. "In view of the unprecedented growth of the college in the last five years — growth that has far exceeded the projections that were a part of the long range program at that time, I want to recommend the appointment of this committee." Dr. Wenger said the committee is needed "to make a thorough study of our program with special emphasis on a restatement of our aims and objectives, a study of our resources that are available

First Fraternity To Go National This Weekend; Others Will Follow

By PATSY FERRELL
Collegiate Co-Editor

This will be a big weekend coming up for the fraternity program on the Atlantic Christian College campus.

Phi Kappa Alpha Fraternity will begin the historic movement that will see national fraternities come to the Atlantic Christian College campus.

Saturday and Sunday are the big days for Phi Kappa Alpha which will officially become a chapter of Delta Sigma Phi National Social Fraternity.

The program by Phi Kappa Alpha will be one of three scheduled for this spring. Later Sigma Rho Phi Fraternity will officially become affiliated with Sigma Phi Epsilon National Social Fraternity and Sigma Alpha Fraternity will join Alpha Sigma Phi National Social Fraternity.

The Phi Kappa program will open Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock with an Open House, it was announced today by Joe Bennett, president of the frat.

From the open house the visitors will go to the Harper Hall Parlor for a tea in honor of visiting officials of Delta Sigma Phi. Also to be honored at the tea are faculty and administrative staff members here at the college.

Two dinners have been scheduled for Saturday night. Both are at 6 p.m. One dinner will be held at the First Presbyterian Church for alumni of Phi Kappa and visiting fraternity leaders of Delta Sigma Phi. The other dinner, a stag affair, will be held at Parker's and will be for members of the fraternity and the degree team from the Delta Sigma Phi Chapter at N. C. State College in Raleigh.

At 8 p.m. Saturday night, the informal initiation of the fraternity will begin. That will be the final event for Saturday and will be held in the ACC gym.

The formal initiation has been scheduled for Howard Chapel Sunday morning at 8 a. m. From the initiation ceremonies the fraternity members will move to the First Christian Church here to attend services.

This will be followed by a luncheon in the Carolina Room of the First Christian Church. Bennett
