Student Activity Budget Approved At Big Assembly

An overflow audience of students and faculty members approved a record budget for student activities at a special meeting held in the Atlantic Christian College Gymnasium Tuesday morning by the ACC Cooperative Association.

The budget calls for expenditures totaling $12,916.03. The action by the students and faculty members rectified a situation that had been created earlier by a lack of a quorum at a previously called meeting to stamp approval on the budget.

With all the facts ready for presentation, the officers of the Cooperative Association sat on the stage of Howard Chapel two weeks ago to request a routine approval of the budget. It turned out to be far from routine when it was found that only 128 students and faculty members were in attendance and any action taken became invalid because of a lack of a quorum. A total of 466 students and faculty members were needed to act on the budget.

There was no question about a quorum Tuesday. It was a required meeting and the gymnasium was filled with members of the association. Others stood outside the doors.

In voting approval of the budget, the association agreed to spend stipulated amounts of the budget in various student activities. They are The Pine Knot, $5,465.47. The Collegiate, $2,310. Concert and Assembly Committee, $1,825. Stage and Script, $1,145. Social Committee, $1,200.56, and Campus Christian Association, $970.

The remainder of funds received by the association from students activity fees will be placed in an emergency fund. Surplus funds from last year's budget have been placed in an executive fund. The Executive Board and the Bohunk will operate from these two funds.

George Grisworld, President of the association, presided at the meeting Tuesday morning.

Infirmary Has New Supply Of Flu And Polio Vaccine

By BOBBY SWINSON

As medical advisors the country over are warning the American people that two of its deadliest enemies are still lurking in the wings waiting for another attack, the Atlantic Christian College Infirmary announced this week that it has the weapons to fight both these enemies.

Medical experts have warned that the country may undergo another siege of flu this winter and a siege of polio next spring. Mrs. Mary Wilson, Infirmary Nurse, announced today that there is vaccine on hand at the Infirmary to decrease the prospects of any wide epidemics on the ACC campus.

Shots for flu and polio will be given at the college infirmary Monday, November 10, until Friday, November 14, from 10 o'clock in the morning until 4 o'clock in the evening. Shots will be given during the entire week for the benefit of day students who frequent ACC only two or three times a week.

Mrs. Wilson also announced that there will be a series of three shots to be given. For those taking their first shots, another will be due in exactly one month. No notification will be given students as to when they are to take these shots since they are not compulsory.

There will be a charge of 50 cents per shot for those people over 21 years of age. All under 21 will be given the shots free.

Although there has never been a single case of polio on campus, all students are urged to take advantage of this opportunity of defeating two of the main enemies of mankind's health. In the past, students have flocked to the infirmary and it is hoped this will be the case this year.

17 In Queen's Contest

Mrs. Lynne N. West and Mrs. Jan T. Boles, Co-Chairmen of the Homecoming Queen Contest Committee, have released a schedule of events in which the candidates for the title for Homecoming Queen will participate. The events began with a meeting with the committee on last Wednesday and will be climaxed by the crowning of the Queen at the half-time of the basketball game to be played on Friday, November 21.

Other events scheduled for the two weeks remaining prior to the close of the contest include picture taking, a television appearance, a tea with the contest judges, presentation at the Woody Herman dance, crowning at the ball game, and finally riding on the queens float in the homecoming parade.

The candidates, who are representing 17 organizations, met with the contest committee last Wednesday in the parlor of Harper Hall to discuss appropriate attire for the various activities and to receive instructions regarding the appearances planned.

Thursday the contestants again assembled in the parlor of Harper Hall, this time for the purpose of having their pictures taken in evening dress.

Monday at 4 p.m., a rehearsal for the television program is planned. The program will be televised by station WITN, Channel Seven, at 1:30 p.m., on Friday, November 14.

Woody Herman Dance Plans Set

By JIM BISHOP
Collegiate Editor

The Woody Herman dance band will appear on the Atlantic Christian College campus, Monday, November 17, through the cooperation of the Executive Board of the Cooperative Association and the Interfraternity Council.

At a called meeting earlier this year the funds to bring Woody Herman and his orchestra to the ACC campus were appropriated by the Executive Board through the Social Committee with the stipulation that the Interfraternity Council be responsible for all arrangements.

At a meeting held earlier this week the IFC began to formulate final plans for the affair.

Colin Sholar, spokesman for the Tickets and Chaperones Committee, suggested that the student activities cards be used for admission to the dance. The committee also suggested that each sorority and fraternity provide one chaperon for the dance. Both these recommendations were approved by the council.

Miss Patt Murray, Chairman of the Decorations Committee, announced that her committee had chosen "Midnight in Paris" as the theme for the dance.

A committee headed by Miss Peggy Pittman reported that the

ACC Delegate Will Attend Southern Student Meeting

By BOB COLLINS

The Executive Board of the Atlantic Christian College Cooperative Association voted Monday to send a delegate to the conference for southern students to be held at Pfeiffer College November 28, 29, 30 for the purpose of discussing "The College Student and the Changing South: a Consideration of Racial Tensions Confronting the Southern Campus."

Miss Sharon Hazelrigg, President of the Campus Christian Association read a letter concerning the conference. In reading portions of the letter, she pointed out that the delegates to the conference will not be expressing the opinions of the college as a whole, but will be expressing their own views. Miss Hazelrigg expressed the opinion that it is a great honor for Atlantic Christian College to be chosen as one of the 75 that will be represented at the conference.

As quoted from the letter read by the CCA president the purposes of the meeting are: "to bring together people of good will to discuss problems arising out of racial tensions in the south. . . to develop a fuller understanding of the problems involved through the interaction of fact and varying opinions. . . to consider possible solutions of human relations problems confronting the Southern campus and community. . . to foster an opportunity for the exchange of ideas between southern student leaders who come from all parts of the region."

The CCA will elect one representative who will accompany the delegate elected by the Executive Board to the conference. All room and board will be supplied for the delegates, by a grant from the Field Foundation. The travel expenses will be partially subsidized by the same grant.

The conference will feature seven outstanding speakers and will include ten workshops.

In further action the Executive Board heard a report from Jimmy Boswell. This report was from the committee investigating the possibility of securing housing for

Plans For Parade Are Completed

With the weekend of Homecoming just around the corner, things have already begun to pop around campus. Various parties and banquets are in the planning stage but the most important plans at present are for the Homecoming parade floats.

Miss Mickey Raynor, Chairman of the Homecoming Parade committee, announced today that there had been approximately 12 or 13 entries in the parade by various fraternities and sororities and other campus organizations.

Miss Raynor also said that organizations could start building properties to place on their floats now but that the final as-

Frosh Select Candidate

The Freshman Class had its first official meeting on November 4 in the gym. President James Boswell reminded all members of the class that the workings of student government depend on the individual students. He encouraged all students to bring their suggestions to some member of the Executive Board so that official action might be taken on them. It was also pointed out that a suggestion box will soon be placed in the Bohunk in order that all students may express their opinions to the board.

Nominations for a candidate for Homecoming Queen followed. In open voting, Miss Frances Evett was elected to be the Freshman Class representative.

The class also voted to sponsor a float in the Homecoming Parade. A committee will be appointed by the executive officers of the class to begin work on this float. The class was reminded that all members were considered a part of this project. It was stressed that anyone, whether on the committee or not, could offer suggestions and sketches to the committee. It was also hoped that all individuals will respond when actual construction of the float is started.

Trustees Of College Vote Record Budget Of $721,000

Atlantic Christian College students are now receiving benefits of the largest budget in the history of the college.

At a meeting held a week ago Wednesday, the Board of Trustees of the college adopted a revised budget nearing three-quarters of a million dollars for the operation of the college during the current academic year.

The ACC trustees placed their stamp of approval on the budget totaling $721,000, the largest in the history of the 56 year old institution. It represents a 20 percent increase over the budget for 1957-58. That budget totaled $599,800.

Dr. Arthur D. Wenger, ACC President, said the sharp increase in budget was made necessary by an 8.7 percent increase in enrollment for this year. He said the college had 1,098 students enrolled for the fall semester. Last year the college enrolled 969 students in September.

A portion of the budget increase will go into increased teaching faculty salaries, it was explained. Dr. Wenger said the budget calls for increases to give full professors from $1,000 to $1,100 more per year than they were receiving at the beginning of the 1957-58 college year. He said associate professors are being increased from $650 to $900 above the salaries they received at the start of last year. He said the increases for assistant professors will range from $600 to $700 and a $500 increase over the start of the 1957-58 college year will be made for instructors.

Dr. Wenger said that an approximate 10 percent increase in salaries for part time instructors at the college is included in the new budget.

"The long - predicted tide of in-
