ACC Awaits Woody Herman Dance

By JIM BISHOP
Collegiate Editor

One of the most famous musical pioneers of the swing and jazz ages will bring his music crew to the campus of Atlantic Christian College Monday night to play for the largest dance in the history of ACC.

Woody Herman, a name that made juke box coin slots jingle for years, will front a new group at the dance to be sponsored by the Atlantic Christian College Interfraternity Council, Monday night at 8 p.m. in the ACC Gym. All students, their dates, and faculty members are invited to attend. There will be no charge.

Remember "Blues On Parade," "Woodchopper's Ball," "Caldonia," "Your Father's Mustache," and "Apple Honey?" Well, Woody Herman and his band of the '40's made them all famous. They were records that were played all over the country.

Big bands lost their prominence following World War II, with the arrival of television. Now it seems they may be on the way back and Woody Herman is helping to lead the parade.

The new band is known as "The MUSIC MAKERS FOR DANCE—ACC will have two band leaders playing at its dance Monday night in the ACC Gym. Woody Herman, popular music maker, left, will bring his band to the campus for the dance sponsored by the Interfraternity Council. Al Belletto is the leader of a special jazz combo that is incorporated into the Herman band. He is a well known combo leader himself.

Third Herd." It attempts to integrate the best features of traditional jazz with the better sons from the new school now appearing on the scene.

Sammy White, president of the Interfraternity Council, said today: "We are all looking forward, I know, to the dance Monday night. Woody Herman is a big name in the music business and we are pleased to have his group on our campus."

The dance is undoubtedly the top social attraction of the fall semester on the ACC campus. Elaborate plans have been made to make it enjoyable for those who attend.

At intermission a special attraction has been planned. At that time the contestants in the college's Homecoming Queen's contest will be presented.

Decorations for the dance will have as their theme, "Midnight In Paris."

Refreshments will be sold at cost in the basement of the gymnasium. A coat room will be operated. Special lighting will be used on the dance floor. There will be plenty of seats for those who do not wish to dance.

Play Will End Its Run Tonight

The Stage and Script club will close out its three performance run of Shakespeare's "The Taming Of The Shrew," tonight in Howard Chapel at 8:15 p.m.

Opening before a capacity audience Wednesday afternoon when a special matinee was presented for eastern North Carolina high school students, the play had a second showing last night with the audience made up of students, faculty members, and visitors from the community.

Sanford Peele and Anne Nelson are playing the lead roles in the play. The costumes and stage sets for the play were designed by Peele.

The play is set in Padua, Italy, around 1500. The farcical comedy by the world's most famous playwright, has been seen by thousands of audiences all over the world.

Executive Board Studies Bohunk

By BOB COLLINS

Upon hearing complaints from dissatisfied students that the Bohunk was not being kept clean, the Executive Board held a lengthy discussion seeking a solution in its regular meeting Monday.

Appointed to serve as a committee to work out a cleanliness campaign were Lyn Grice, Miss Sally Jo Griffin and James Boswell.

It was pointed out in the meeting that the students and faculty are not taking the proper interest in keeping the Bohunk free from trash and litter. At any given time a visitor in the Bohunk will find the tables littered with cups, sandwich wrappers, cigarette butts, and other forms of trash. Spilled cold drinks, and scraps of food serve to detract from pleasantness of the atmosphere and to draw flies in great numbers.

It was also pointed out by members of the Board that keeping trash cleaned up is the responsibility of every student and faculty member. The Bohunk is cleaned every morning, but within a few hours it is littered with trash. This not only creates an unpleasant situation for the regular users of the area, but is not good advertisement to show visitors on the campus.

The Bohunk Governing Board will be asked to take some definite action, but no matter what action is taken, the primary responsibility still lies with the persons who use the area regularly. Without the co-operation of the students, the Bohunk will continue to be an eye-sore on the campus.

In further action, the Executive Board elected members of the 1958-59 Bohunk Governing Board. Elected to serve as representative for the resident men was Conner Kraft. Representing the resident women is Miss Jane Johnson. The non-resident student representatives will be Donald Benton for the Men and Miss Catherine Pappas for the Women. Faculty Representatives are Miss Ann Solomon and R. Parker Wilson.

Atlantic Christian will be one of 75 colleges represented at the Southern Students conference to discuss racial tensions at Pfeiffer College on November 28, 29, and 30. The Executive Board elected Bob Collins to represent the student body at large. The other Representative from CAC will be Miss Peggy Pittman who was selected by the Campus Christian Association.

It was announced at the meeting that the Gavel Committee has received the class gavels. Each of the gavels has the name of the president of the class engraved upon it. The gavels will be placed in the trophy case.

Contestants On TV Today

Atlantic Christian College's 19 Homecoming Queen contestants and officers of the college's Alumni Association will be featured on television this afternoon.

The group will appear on Television Station WITN, Channel Seven in Washington, at 1:30 p.m. on Hospitality House.

The program will be one of 14 being presented this year by the college. Those to be featured on today's show besides the Homecoming contestants are Dr. Griffith Hamlin of Goldsboro, President of the ACC Alumni, Mrs. Ann Paschall of Wilson, alumni secretary, Robert L. Brinkley, Wilson, member of the alumni executive board, Dr. Millard P. Burt, ACC Dean and member of the executive committee, and Mrs. Edna L. Johnston, member of the ACC faculty and an ACC alumna.

Purpose of the program is to highlight Homecoming at the college next week and to outline the work of the college's alumni.

On Friday, November 28, the Department of Education and Psychology at the college, will present a program on WITN.

Polio Shots Go Begging

Atlantic Christian College students and faculty members have failed to take advantage of the availability of flu and polio shots at the college infirmary.

Mrs. Mary Wilson, College Nurse, said today that only eight students had visited the infirmary to request the shots since it was announced last week that they were available.

All students under 21 years of age can obtain the shots free of charge, Mrs. Wilson said. Those over 21 are required to pay only 50 cents per shot.

Medical experts contend that the nation may undergo another siege of flu this winter similar to that suffered last winter when the Asian Flu virus swept the country.

Experts also said that polio may start striking more and more adults since the Salk polio vaccine has been administered to most of the nation's children.

Students may obtain shots by visiting the infirmary anytime between 10 o'clock in the morning and 4 o'clock in the afternoon on school days, Mrs. Wilson said.

She also urges all faculty members who have not had the shots to visit the infirmary so that they can be administered to them.
