

THE COLLEGIATE

PUBLISHED WEEKLY

ATLANTIC CHRISTIAN COLLEGE, DECEMBER 5, 1958

NUMBER TEN

Pre-Registration Begins; Dean Outlines Procedure

Pre-registration for the spring semester at Atlantic Christian College is now underway. The program opened Tuesday morning and will run through December 16, the final day for pre-registration. Dr. Millard P. Burt, ACC Dean, announced the pre-registration procedure Monday morning.

At that time he called for all students to meet with their advisors that day at 10:20 o'clock to receive instructions and to schedule appointments.

Students who have not been assigned advisors should meet in the college library, this coming Monday at 3:30 p.m. Dr. Burt said special students should pre-register with the Registrar.

The ACC Dean also suggested that students who have made up their minds about major fields of study, contact the heads of the departments in which they plan to major.

Dr. Burt said no schedule changes will be made at the request of students between December 16, and January 21. He said, however, that schedule changes may be made on Registration Day, January 21. He said a charge of $1 per day will be made for registration after January 21, except for valid reasons approved by the Dean.

Schedule changes made after January 21, will cost the student $1, it was explained. The last day for adding courses will be February 8.

The Dean said class cards should be obtained from the Registrar on January 21. Financial arrangements must be made with the Business Office before the cards will be released, he said. The Business Office will publish a schedule of appointments for this purpose.

Several special instructions were announced as a part of the pre-registration plan.

Changes will not be permitted from sections of courses continuing in the Spring Semester without permission of the chairman of the department concerned.

Acceptance for teacher training by the Department of Education is a prerequisite for Educ. 373 and Educ. 424, it was announced.

Bus. 071 (Personal Typewriting) is designed for students who would like to learn typewriting for personal use, it was explained.

Eng. 373 (Advanced Grammar) is a prerequisite for Educ. 373 (Observation and Supervised Teaching) for English majors.

Eng. 236b and Eng. 006b (Play Production) may be taken without taking the first half of the course, it was announced.

Eng. 336b (Shakespeare) may be taken by non-majors without taking the first half of the course, it was explained.

Students may not take Biol. 316b

See REGISTRATION Page 3

Plans For Christmas Dance Are Announced Here Today

By Jim Bishop
Collegiate Editor

Plans for the annual Christmas Dance of Atlantic Christian College were announced today. The formal dance, which is for students, faculty, and dates, will be held in the lobby of the classroom building on Friday, December 12, beginning at 8:30 p. m. and continuing until 12:30 p. m.

Since this dance is one of the formal occasions of the year, women and men have been requested to dress as formally as their wardrobes will permit. The women are requested to wear formals—long or short—or cocktail dresses. As for the men, the Social Committee has requested that all who have tuxedos wear them and that others make a real effort to obtain them. If a tuxedo is not available, a man may wear a dark suit. The committee expressed the sincere wish that no one plan to miss the dance because he or she does not have formal attire.

The highlights of the Christmas Dance will be the presentation of the Pine Knot Queen and her two attendants. The crowning of the Queen will take place during the dance intermission.

Music for the event will be provided by the Moderns of Wilson. This group, headed by Joe Horton, a student of Atlantic Christian College, plays modern music, rock'n' roll, South American, and several other types of dance music.

Miss Sarah Bain Ward, Dean of

See DANCE PLANS Page 4

Executive Board Hears Appeal For Yule Gifts

By BOB COLLINS

The Executive Board of the Atlantic Christian College Cooperative Association heard an appeal from Miss Sarah Bain Ward, Dean of Women, to support the Christmas gift giving to deserving children, sponsored by ACC each year.

It is the policy for ACC students to give gifts to deserving children in the Wilson area each year. These gifts are not to be food or clothing, but are to be some toy that the children will enjoy. The ages of the children will be given to all interested students in the lobby of the classroom building today. The gifts should cost approximately one dollar. If a person does not wish to buy the gift personally, he may contribute the dollar and the gift will be purchased for him.

This year ACC is contributing to more than 240 children. Dean Ward asked that the members of the Executive Board urge all students to participate.

George Griswold, President, announced that ACC is represented by a delegation to the United States National Student Association convention being held Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

A letter regarding the possibility of sending exchange students to North Africa or the Soviet Union was read. Information on this subject has been posted on the bulletin board on the classroom building walkway. All interested students should apply before December 15.

The Executive Board voted to underwrite the expenses of the delegates attending the North State Press Conference Association meeting at Guilford College on Saturday. Those delegates attending will be Jim Bishop, Collegiate Editor; Bob Collins; Ralph Messick; Billy Horne, Collegiate Business Man-

See EXEC BOARD Page 3

Class Schedules Are Available

Printed schedules of classes for the spring semester are now available at the office of the Registrar in the Administration Building.

The schedules were printed to be used by students in pre-registering for classes.

Students desiring to have one copy of the schedule may contact the Registrar's office.

Education Group On TV

A demonstration of methods used in the elementary school in the teaching of arithmetic and science served as the subject for a television program presented by the Department of Education and Psychology on Friday, November 28.

The program, presented as one of the series being arranged by the college for Television Station WITN in Washington, featured members of the student National Education Association chapter at the college. It was opened with a short talk by Dr. G. A. Constantine, Chairman of the Department of Education and Psychology at ACC. The mistress of ceremonies was Miss Sybil Bass, President of the ACC Student N.E.A.

Others appearing on the program were Miss Louise Duncan, Miss Patsy Ferrell, Mrs. Juanita Thomas, Miss Marjorie Dixon, Miss Mary Rose Parnell, and Miss Clyda Hocutt of the N.E.A., and James E. Fulghum, Director of Publicity and Special Activities at the college.

"We appreciate very much the fact that the students who participated in the program took time off from their Thanksgiving holidays to do so," Dr. Constantine said in discussing the program.

The college will present its next program on Friday, December 12, at 1:30 p.m. It will feature students and faculty members in the Department of Music.

Light Chapel Attendance Scored By College Dean

Students were warned today that they are not attending the required chapel and assembly programs and failure to attend brings on an academic penalty.

The Dean's office, in a special announcement, reminded students that "Failure to attend chapel and assembly in accordance with previous instructions results in an academic penalty in accordance with action by the Central Committee on Instruction."

Students are required to attend the Thursday chapel programs on an alternate basis. Students whose last names begin with letters A through L attend chapel one Thursday and those whose names begin with M through Z attend the next Thursday.

All students are required to attend the assembly programs set aside for advisors and those set aside for class meetings.

The Dean's office also said that it is the responsibility of students to attend voluntary assembly programs. "Very few students attended the excellent Thanksgiving program presented on November 25," Dr. Millard P. Burt, ACC Dean, pointed out.

Dr. Burt said many students have been visiting the Dean's office to check on their attendance status for chapel. "If students are in doubt about their attendance, they should attend additional chapel services to be sure that they meet the required minimum rather than contact the Dean's office," he said.

Press Members To Hold Meeting

Members of the staff of The Collegiate will attend a meeting of the North State Conference Press Association tomorrow at Guilford College.

Plans for the meeting were announced this week by Miss Margaret Haworth, Editor of The Guilfordian, student newspaper at Guilford College.

Those planning to attend from ACC are James W. Bishop, Editor of The Collegiate, William Horne, Business Manager of the paper, Ralph Messick and Robert Collins, reporters, and James E. Fulghum, Chairman of the ACC Publications Committee.

The meeting will open at 9 a.m. tomorrow in the college union at Guilford.

During the morning session David Morrah of The Greensboro Daily News, will speak.

A workshop and group discussions will be held during the afternoon session.

A short business session and a refreshment hour will climax the program at 2:30 p.m.

Homecoming Program Brings End To Big Fall Push By Students

Atlantic Christian College students settled down to the routine today, the big fall push a matter of history.

Highlighting the crowded schedule of events just past was Homecoming which was held on November 21 and 22.

Miss Nancy Forbes, a Wilson freshman, reigned as Queen during Homecoming. She was selected as Queen from a group of 19 contestants. The runners-up were Miss Flora Griffin and Miss Beverly Edwards.

Miss Forbes represented Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity and that Greek letter group walked off with most of the student honors at Homecoming.

In addition to having the honor of sponsoring the Queen, Delta Sigma Phi also had the winning float in the Homecoming Parade, and the best outside decoration.

Other float award winners in the parade were Omega Chi Sorority, second place, and Alpha Sigma Phi Fraternity and Phi Sigma Tau Sorority with their joint entry tied with Sigma Tau Chi Sorority for third place.

Second place in the outside decorations contest was won by Phi Sigma Tau Sorority. Third place winner was Harper Hall.

New officers of the Atlantic Christian College Alumni Association were elected at a Homecoming Luncheon on November 22. Most of the old officers were re-elected. Dr. Griffith A. Hamlin was re-elected President; Sam T. Ragan of Raleigh, was re-elected as Vice-President; Mrs. Ann Paschall was re-elected Secretary; Robert L. Brinkley was re-elected Delegate-at-Large, and Bruce W. Riley was elected Representative to the college Board of Trustees. All the sororities and fraternities on the campus held dinners for their alumni at Homecoming.

QUEEN NANCY—Miss Nancy Forbes, ACC Homecoming Queen, smiles for the photographer as she rides on queen's float in parade November 22. Miss Flora Griffin, runner-up, beams for crowd at right. (Photo by Claude Anthony)