NUMBER TWENTY-THREE

Changes Made In Awards Days

A change in plans for awards days at Atlantic Christian College was announced today by Miss Mickey Raynor, Chairman of the Awards Committee.

Because of a mix-up in scheduling of chapel programs the awards days are being condensed into two days, Miss Raynor announced.

Miss Raynor said no awards will be given next week as was previously announced. Under the new plan dramatics and publications awards will be given on Blue-White Day scheduled for Howard Chapel on Tuesday, May 12. That same day all Cooperative Association officers will be installed. Also on Blue-White day the science awards, The Wilson Daily Times Publications Award, and keys to this year's Cooperative Association officers will be presented.

Other awards to be presented on Blue-White day are the Rotary Scholarship Cup, Who's Who awards, and the Denny Essay Cup.

On Thursday, May 14, intramural athletic awards for both women and men will be presented in addition to the outstanding intercollegiate athletic award — the Kiwanis Cup.

The dedication of The Pine Knot will be held on Thursday, May 14, also, it was announced by Miss Raynor.

Previously the college has had three awards days each spring. In order to condense the program, Miss Raynor said that assembly on May 12, will begin at 10 a.m. and that the Chapel Program on Thursday, May 14, will start at 10:20.

An assembly program for awards had previously been scheduled for May 5; however, this is the day for students to meet with their advisors during assembly. It was thought that since pre-registration is now in progress the advising meetings could not be postponed. Therefore, all students will meet with advisors next Tuesday.

Survey Indicates Lag In Pre-Registration

By Jim Bishop

A survey of academic departments at the beginning of the week indicated that pre-registration activity by students is at a minimum.

Students were cautioned today that they should make appointments with advisors as quickly as possible in order to complete pre-registration.

"We hope students will not wait until the last few days of the time allotted for pre-registration," Dr. Millard P. Burt, ACC dean, said today. "We are doing this for the benefit of students and cooperation is needed to make the program successful." Pre-registration is scheduled to be completed on May 13.

A check of the departments turned up such terms as "very light so far," "we haven't had many," "some have come by for schedules," and "we have appointments with several tomorrow."

Students will get a much better choice of courses if they pre-register, it was pointed out. They also are urged to do so before sections are filled.

The pre-registration is being held both for the summer session courses and for those to be offered next September.

Sections of courses will be closed on a maximum enrollment basis, it was explained. Students who do not pre-register will not be permitted to enroll in those courses that are filled.

Advisors have printed copies of the fall semester schedule, it was announced. Students can pick a copy up at the office of their advisors.

Students who pre-register for courses and then decide not to attend college, are urged to notify the Dean's Office when the decision is made.

Class cards for students will be on file at the Registrar's Office. Students wishing to change courses may do so anytime before the term opens for which they are pre-registered.

At the beginning of the term they will visit the Registrar's office and the Business Office and will receive

Classes Elect Brooks, Strickland And Mustian

Run-off elections last Friday for class officers completed the personnel make-up for next year's campus government at Atlantic Christian College.

Elected to serve on the Executive Board of the Cooperative Association were Johnnie Strickland of Middlesex, who is president of the rising senior class, Franklin Brooks of Charleston, S. C., who will serve as president of next year's junior class and David Mustian of Raleigh, who is president of the rising sophomore class.

In Run-Off Races
Strickland and Brooks won the presidencies of their respective classes in run-off races held last Friday. Strickland defeated Turner Felton of Macclesfield while Brooks won over Bill Bond of Raleigh. Mustian defeated Charles Sullivan of Wilson in the regular election held last Thursday.

The other rising senior class officers who were elected last week are Jimmy Mitchell of Washington, vice-president; Miss Ruby Bazemore of Cofield, secretary; and Wayne Quinton of Morristown, Tenn., treasurer.

The other 1959-60 junior class officers elected were Miss Jean Bazemore of Cofield, vice-president; Miss Elizabeth Winborne of Wilson, secretary; and Jimmy Harris of Bailey will serve as treasurer.

Others Elected
Those elected to help Mustian in guiding the destiny of the 1959-60 sophomore class were Jimmy Silverthorne of Washington, vice-president; Miss Frances Evett of Wilson, secretary and Miss Mary Ann Marchant of Raleigh, treasurer.

With these elections the personnel make-up of the 1959-60 Executive Board of the ACC Cooperative Association has been completed except for the freshman class president and the men's dormitory representative who will be elected at the beginning of the fall semester.

Executive Board Invites Leaders

By RALPH MESSICK

The Executive Board of the Cooperative Association extended an invitation to next year's Cooperative Association officers to attend meetings of the Executive Board of this semester. The invitation was extended at the Executive Board's meeting held Monday. The opinion was expressed that this experience would be helpful to the new leaders in their attempts to serve the college next year. The sending of personal letters was also suggested as a method of informing them of their welcome to the meetings.

Requests Aid on Trip
In further business a letter from Bob Collins was read in which he requested the Cooperative Association to underwrite his expenses to a conference of the United States National Student Association. In the letter he mentioned the fact that complete representation at this meeting would be of great benefit to the college. It was pointed out that the college was already planning to send representatives to other phases of the conference being held in Illinois and that it might be possible for them all to travel in the same car thereby reducing the expense. Decision was postponed in order that more information could be gathered on the subject.

Seniors Are Urged To Get Invitations

Mrs. Bethany R. Joyner, Registrar of Atlantic Christian College announced today that the seniors' commencement invitations have arrived.

Mrs. Joyner said that many of the seniors have already picked up their invitations but she urged the remaining seniors to pick theirs up as soon as possible.

The invitations may be picked up at the receptionist's desk in the Administration Building. The price of the invitations is 12 cents each.

Mildred, 'Honey' Are Loved By All ACC Students, Faculty

By ANNE JENKINS

"Come on Don't be so slow Hey, Honey, you lazy thing I'm going to leave you out here. . ."

If you haven't guessed it already, these are the words heard from Miss Mildred Ross, the Atlantic Christian College Bookkeeper, as she tries to get Honey, her tan-colored Cocker Spaniel, to follow her into the Administration Building.

Admits Her Age

This grey-haired, blue-eyed woman is one of the few women who will willingly admit her age. She was born in Beaufort County on February 26, 1895. (Now that you know her birth date, she expects at least a card) As a younger woman she was quite active. She worked for four and one half years as a secretary in a wholesale produce company in Pamlico County. Her second job was at Harriett Henderson Cotton Mills in Henderson, where she worked for five months. After this, Miss Ross came to Wilson to work for Dr. C. C. Ware, former State Secretary of the N. C. Christian Churches. She came to ACC in 1926 after four and one half years of service there.

Only Two On Staff

When Miss Ross came to ACC, she and Dr. H. S. Hilley, the President of the college at that time, were the only two members of the office staff. Student help was added in 1927 and 1928. Years later, the president added one new secretary and in years to come added still more. Miss Ross has done every office job at ACC from that of Secretary, to registrar, to her present job as bookkeeper.

Miss Ross has come to be known better as just plain "Mildred." She has kept the ACC school spirit in its fullness. You see her at the ball-games and any other athletic event on campus or away. She doesn't let her age stop her. She also goes for those good Western movies. This younger generation had better sit up and take notice of a mighty good example.

Likes Her Food

"Mildred" likes food! She says, "I am very fond of food—I'm sure you find this evident by my figure. My pride and joy, Honey, likes to eat too. Her figure also shows this—just take a look at her."

It is evident that this woman has become a beloved feature of campus life. One of the first indications was the gift of Honey in 1950 from a group of departing G.I.'s.

Now "Mildred" considers ACC her home. "I feel that this is my home. I guess you might say I'm married to the college and my work," says Mildred. This isn't all to say about such

Co-Op By-Laws Amended At Student Body Meeting

By RALPH MESSICK

The two amendments of the constitution of the Cooperative Association were voted on and passed by an overwhelming majority at an election that was held at a special assembly program last Tuesday morning.

The final tabulation of the votes showed that 288 members had voted in favor of the amendment and 25 had voted against it.

The constitution now states that to qualify for nomination for president or vice-president of the Cooperative Association, a student must be at least a junior in good standing. Previously, the requirement was for students seeking either of these offices to be juniors, a requirement which prohibited seniors who were planning to re-

City Re-Design Study Is Undertaken By Class

A complete 50-year re-design of the City of Wilson is now being developed by a special team in a class in Design being taught in the Department of Art at Atlantic Christian College.

Russell W. Arnold, Chairman of the ACC Department of Art, announced the project today. He said work has already started on the project.

The special team of students selected for the study is working specifically on a plan to show Wilson as it should be, as a result of careful planning, 50 years from now. The team is also working on a modified plan to cover a 25-year span.

"We hope the group will complete the project by the end of the semester," Mr. Arnold said. "It is a comprehensive study and already much work has gone into it."

Among the aspects to be re-
