

Bulldogs Enter Final Week Of Play

Play Pfeiffer At Center Tonite

The Atlantic Christian College basketball team will be only one week away from the end of its regular season after its non-conference game here tonight with Pfeiffer College.

After meeting Pfeiffer tonight in the Wilson Community Center at 8 p.m., the Bulldogs will prepare for an important North State Conference game Monday with league leading High Point College.

At Home, Also
That game, also, will be played in the Wilson Community Center, and the Panthers will bring to the game the highest scoring college basketball players in the Carolinas.

Forward Danny Sewell of High Point, leads all scorers in the area with 25.4 points per game.

After taking on High Point Monday night, the Bulldogs will meet Catawba College in Salisbury on Thursday, and will then travel to Greenville on Saturday night, February 20, to play East Carolina College in the final game of the campaign.

Chief Scoring Threat
Guard Dick Knox of ACC, has become the Bulldogs' chief scoring threat of late. The Indianapolis, Ind., junior has averaged 20 points a contest for ACC's last five games and has been pulling up his season's average. The last statistics sheet showed him averaging 17.3 points a game for 24 contests.

Bobby Dunn is the second high man for the Bulldogs with an average of 11.5.

Watching Fillingame
Bulldog fans are watching an ACC newcomer carefully, hoping that he will be able to help the team when it gets into the North State Conference Tournament at Lexington on February 24. Dale Fillingame, 6-8 service transfer from Midway, Ga., has been slowly rounding into condition and should aid the Bulldog cause greatly for the remainder of the campaign.

Likely starters tonight for the Bulldogs will be Knox, Dunn, Fillingame, Ernie Oden, and Bobby Atkinson.

Oden and Atkinson have been mainstays recently. Oden, a light scorer, has become adequate in recent games and continues to

Omega Chi Initiates 18 In Formal Ceremonies

Members of Omega Chi Sorority completed their pledge training program last weekend with the initiation of eighteen new members into the sisterhood. Friday afternoon the pledges met at the home of Miss Linda Morris where they engaged in a work project. Paddles were issued the pledges this year for the first time.

Saturday at the home of Mrs. Hugh Johnston informal initiation continued, and was concluded by a formal ceremony Saturday evening at four o'clock, in the parlor of the First Baptist Church. The new sisters were each presented a gift of a gold bracelet with a heart charm engraved with the Greek letters.

Following the ceremony a banquet was held, also at the church. At this time the name of the Pledge of the Year was announced. She is Miss Sue Gettinger of Ft. Lauderdale, Florida, who was presented an additional gift.

Sunday morning the sorority attended services at the Christian Church as a group.

Those who were initiated are Miss Ann Brinson, Miss Florence Currier, Miss Mary Sue Fisher, Miss Sue Gettinger, Miss Elaine Goodwin, Miss Polly Glover, Miss Temple Griffin, Miss Hilda Griffin, Miss Helen Haneman, Miss Pat Hines, Miss Gwen Humphrey, Miss Anna Peele, Miss Sylvia Peterson, Miss Carolyn Pearce, Miss Myra White, Miss Judy Whitley, Miss Sanderford, and Miss Carolyn Vann.

At the meeting Monday the new sisters were welcomed and work was begun on several new projects. Among those discussed were spring rush and the spring banquet and beach party. It was reported that a profit of about twenty-five dollars had been realized from the Ring Dance.

Miss Audrey Finch has been elected recording secretary for the remainder of the semester to fill the vacated position.

The sorority would like to extend congratulations to Miss Polly Glover, who has recently been chosen North State Conference Tournament queen for 1960. Miss Glover is also an entry in the Miss Wilson Contest.

Art Display Features Works Of ACC Faculty

The art show currently on display in the lobby of the classroom building at ACC, features the works of the faculty members of the art department of Atlantic Christian College.

Some of the work of the display is current work, other parts over a period of the last 10-12 years. Russell W. Arnold, Edward C. Brown and Mrs. Benjamin Bardin have works in the show.

The works are not completely representative of the special interest of each of the artists, Mr. Arnold pointed out, but are works from varied areas.

Mr. Brown, whose primary interest is sculpture, has works from the areas of sculpture, ceramics, and drawings. Mr. Arnold, whose main area is oil painting, has displays of drawings, etchings, lithographs, poster color paintings, and collage.

Mrs. Bardin is particularly interested in art education, but has contributed paintings in poster colors and drawings to the display.

The current display was substituted for a scheduled showing of Japanese block prints. The dates of showing the prints conflicted with a show elsewhere, and the present works were substituted.

The display will remain up until February 29.

Mr. Arnold said that the display

Sig Ep Completes Initiation

By RICHARD ULLOM

Sigma Phi Epsilon held initiation for its pledges last Friday and Saturday. The pledges experienced an informal initiation on Friday evening. Prior to the formal initiation on Saturday at the fraternity house on West Nash Street. The pledges were guests of the fraternity at a banquet on Saturday evening.

The pledges went through a pledge training program led by brothers Jimmy Silverthorne and Bobby Swinson. This program was climaxed on Thursday afternoon, February 4, when the pledges took their final pledge training test.

On January 13th, an election was held to fill the vacancies created when the fraternity's historian and chaplain announced that they would not be in school during the spring semester. Richard Ullom was elected to the office of historian and George McClland was elected to the position of chaplain.

The Sigma Phi Epsilon A volleyball team is in first place in the men's intramural volleyball race. The men of the A team have compiled a perfect record as the race enters its final stages. The fraternity's B team is also one of the top teams in the league. The fraternity will field two basketball teams in this year's basketball race.

rollment overtaxed the facilities and manpower of the college.

Dr. Millard P. Burt, ACC Dean, pointed out that the slight decrease in enrollment will enable the college to accommodate the present students better. The overtaxing of facilities and manpower is a dangerous procedure in that it reduces the efficiency of the college, Dr. Burt noted.
