Runoff Climaxes Student Election For Major Posts

Campus elections are over for another year.

Elections were held on Monday and Tuesday, with run-offs on Wednesday, to determine holders of Cooperative Association positions (save the presidency), head cheerleader, class officers, publications editors and managers, and CCA leaders.

Bob Bishop ran unopposed for vice-president of the Cooperative Association. Mickey Hayes was victorious in the race for secretary. Her support of 243 defeated Linda Lankford, who received 151 votes. Linda Cale is the new treasurer of the Association. She encountered no opposition.

The three initial candidates for head cheerleader were Janet Blackwood, Linda Morris, and Nancy Roberson. Monday and Tuesday's voting gave them 110, 113, and 186 supporters, respectively. Wednesday's run-off between the two top contenders determined Nancy Roberson to be next year's head cheerleader. The vote was 166 to 136.

Carol Colvard defeated Guy Miller in the contest for Collegiate editorship. She was swept to victory by a tide of 219 ballots, commander of THE COLLEGIATE, editor of the PINEKNOT, and business manager of the PINE KNOT positions had only one seeker each. They were Mary Louise Westphal, Mary Ann Marchant, and Janice Lamm, respectively.

President of Campus Christian Association for next year will be Pat Hines. Her 211 backers subdued the 190 supporters of her rival, Frank Montgomery. Bill Alexander, this year's sophomore president, was elected CCA vice-president. To his 221 votes, Jerry Burton polled 112.

Elizabeth Harris received 202 votes, enabling her to serve as CCA secretary. Running for the same position was Donna McIhorn, with 130 checks to her credit. Patsy Hall was victorious in CCA treasurer competition. Sylvia Peterson polled 135 votes for this office; Miss Hall received an additional 65 ballots.

President of next year's senior class will be Buddy Westbrook. He was put into office by 74 voters. Fifty-two juniors voted for Roland Waterfield, the other nominee.

In a run-off election on Wednesday, Billy Batchelor was elected vice-president of the rising seniors. He and Dick Ullom competed in the run-off, having placed first and second in regular competition against Margaret Walker. Wednesday's turnout included 55 supporters for Batchelor and 37 for Ullom.

Janet Blackwood received 56 votes in Wednesday's run-off, against Betty Lou Shackelford's 36, to qualify as new senior class

News From Co-Op

North State Meeting Ranks ACC Second In Student Government

By GUY MILLER

The Cooperative Association of Atlantic Christian is ranked second among student governments of North State colleges.

At a recent meeting of the North State Student Government Association, ACC tied with High Point College on the first ballot to determine the most outstanding student government in the conference. ACC lost first place honors by one vote on the second ballot.

At the same conference, Jim VanCamp was a candidate for president of the association. He lost the election by three votes.

ACC's delegation to the conference reported that changes have been made in the procedure of determining most outstanding government. This year it was a decision by vote of student body presidents. The presidents presented the reports and then had to vote on them.

The delegation from ACC presented a resolution that the host school appoint a disinterested body, preferably faculty members, to judge the reports. Each appointment would be subject to approval of NSSGA officers. If possible, each student body president should submit a copy of his progress report to the judging committee at least one week prior to the opening of the convention.

This resolution passed unanimously and is now NSSGA policy.

The Executive Board has received replies from national senators and representatives concerning the recent Peace Corps policy proposed by the Board. This proposal calls for taking the Peace Corps out of its current governing body and making it a permanent part of this country's foreign policy. Courteous and encouraging letters have been received from Senators Sam Erwin and Everette Jordan and Representatives Herbert Bonner, David G. Henderson, L. H. Fountain, and Harold D. Cooley.

D. L. Warren was asked to convey to the Administrative Council that as far as the Board has been able to ascertain, majority of students prefer the cafeteria operation remain as is. From various reports given, students prefer the current system over any options presented by the committee studying the cafeteria operation.

The possibility of having additional office space for the Cooperative Association and the publications organizations was discussed. A temporarily vacant house across the street from Harper Hall has been investigated as possible utilization for such office space. It was decided to recommend to the incoming board that this investigation be pursued further.

Monday evening's meeting was the last for this year's Board members. Next Monday president Jeff Adams and newly elected board members will begin their administrative term.

At Monday's end-of-the-year session, Dave Smith expressed thanks to members of the Board for their cooperation. He expressed that, all in all, the Board has had a rather successful year, in spite of shortcomings and disappointments.

8 Well-Known Personalities Will Not Return Next Fall

Eight employees of Atlantic Christian College — four faculty, two staff and two administrative — have indicated they will not be returning Fall semester. Dr. Arthur D. Wenger, president of ACC, said today.

He further noted that two faculty members now on leave will be returning to teaching duties.

Retiring are Mrs. Essie Davis, housemother of Hackney Men's dormitory, and Mrs. Mary (Ma) Wilson, ACC nurse for 22 years.

Among the faculty these persons will not return:

Mrs. Doris H. Privette, instructor in the department of business, will return to public school teaching in Wake county.

John H. Rich, dean of men and instructor in the department of business, plans to work on a doctorate at the University of Indiana.

Miss Ruth C. Saunders, instructor in the department of social studies, will return to the Lumberton area, but has not announced any professional plans.

Dr. Charles F. Lehman, band director and assistant professor in the department of music, has not disclosed his plans for next year.

Two members of the administrative staff will be leaving. N. Lynn Barber, head librarian, will depart at the close of Spring semester for Texas A. & M. where he will be head circulation librarian.

Edward E. Beeler, director of publicity and special activities, leaves in mid-August to accept a graduate assistantship in the University of Oregon School of Journalism while working on a Master of Arts degree in public relations.

The two persons who have been on leaves of absence during the current academic year and who will return to Atlantic Christian in the fall:

James V. Cobb Jr. comes back from the University of Illinois where he is working on a doctoral program. He will be acting chairman and associate professor of the department of music.

Robert C. Capps, currently completing his dissertation for a Ph.D. from George Washington University, will be back as an associate professor in the department of social studies.

May 19 Deadline Set To Get Knots

The 1961 Pine Knot may be picked up by all students who have paid their activity fee until noon today in the Classroom Building lobby, announces Sally McLean, Pine Knot editor.

Additionally they can be picked up from the switchboard operator in the Ad building from noon today until noon next Friday. If a student has not secured his yearbook by May 19 it will be assumed he does not want it and other disposition will be made, the editor declared.
