Third row, Susan Webb, Jean Barefoot, Sylvia Johnson, Sylvia Petterson and Carol Colvard. Bottom row, Mary Ann Marchant, Nancy Weddle, Nancy Jean Roberson and Carol Harper.

Spring Semester Budget Approved

The extended Spring Semester budget was presented to the Co-Op Board at its regular meeting on February 5th by Bob Bishop. After reviewing the allotments to the various organizations Mr. Bishop called for adoption of the proposed budget. The Co-Op Board responded with unanimous approval. Following is a tally of the budget as divided between organizations: Bulldog Publication $600; National Student Congress $550; Spring North State Conference $50; National Student Association Regional Conference $50; Co-Op Office Building $400; WACR Radio $100; Total $1750.00; Campus Radio Station $100 this spring to compensate funds allotted below their budget request of last Fall Semester.

Jeff Adams, president of the board announced the coming of campus elections next month; in conjunction with this he reviewed the procedures of the board in nominating a presidential candidate by March 1. All other qualified students may be presented by a 20 person petition at this time. Mr. Adams further announced the presentation of a Heart Fund Dance in the Carolina Room of the Hotel Cherry on February 23. Tickets will be available on campus.

Two More Units Added To Parade

Two special cars have been added to the Homecoming Parade lineup, according to information received by the Collegiate just before press time. Miss Wilson will ride at the head of the parade just behind the Atlantic Christian College band. A special car with members of the Tidewater Alumni Association, Norfolk, Va., will also participate in the parade and a large number of members of the organization will be on hand for Homecoming activities.

College And City Greets Parents

The faculty, administration and participating parents and students of Atlantic Christian's first Parents' Day should all feel a sense of pride in a very successful day. The event was graced with pleasant weather which most certainly influenced the exceptional turn-out. Beginning with registration in the respective dormitories, the entire program reflected good planning and cooperation of all concerned. After attending churches of their choice, parents and students congregated at the gymnasium to enjoy an old fashion chicken and barbecue plate and received words of welcome from college and city officials. Dr. Arthur Wenger presented the ideals and aims of a college, Atlantic Christian in specific, and encouraged the parents to return to our campus at any time and for any reason. The parents attended "open-house" throughout the campus and met with various department heads and personnel. The event was captioned with a

Religious Group Gives Weekly Talk At TB Sanatorium

On January 24, Dr. Herman Norton, dean of the Disciples Divinity House of Vanderbilt University, addressed the members of the Christian Service Workshop. Dean Norton pointed out the advantages of attending a seminary which was a part of a university. He then passed out information about his own school, Vanderbilt, and answered student inquiries about the university. On January 31, Mr. Bernie Meece, director of the North Carolina Christian Missionary Society, will address the group. The CSW is starting off the semester with a new group of officers and hopes to present many fine programs during the coming semester. One of the groups' projects will be to provide speakers for the Sunday morning service at the TB Sanatorium for the month of February. An open invitation is extended to all students to attend the workshop meetings and participate in any and all workshop activities.

J. Kelly Adams Plays Lincoln

The March production of "John Brown's Body" will be the result of a cooperative effort between certain members of the staff, faculty and student body. Dr. Arthur D. Wenger is scheduled to portray the title role of John Brown. Dr. William Troutman has been cast as Robert E. Lee. Parker Wilson is serving as stage manager. Both Dr. Troutman and Mr. Wilson are members of the social science department. Doris Holsworth, member of the English faculty and in charge of drama activities, is director of this Civil War portrayal. Assisting Mrs. Holsworth with directing activities is Jim Boswell. The local presentation will be highlighted by interpretive readings of four narrators. Identified as Narrators A, B, C and D are Robert Royall, Hatten Hodges, Sandra Freedman and Bob Lindley, respectively.

The all - important supporting members will be Jimmy Adams as Lincoln, James Barber as Clay Wingate, Jerry Bowers as Gudjo, Carol Colvard as Mary Lou Wingate, Jeff Kilpatrick as Bailey, Miller as Jack Ellyat, Nancy Roberson as Melora, and Nancy Weddle as Sally Dupre. Presentation of "John Brown's Body" is scheduled for March 1 and 2 in Howard Chapel. The local presentation will serve in part as a college commemoration of the Civil War centennial celebration. Opening with John Brown's attack on Harper's Ferry and going through the Civil War, the story relates the struggle from the points of view of Jack Ellyat, a Northern soldier, and Clay Wingate, a Southern soldier. The families and backgrounds of both men are woven into the action of the poem, as are their romances.
