Dr. John McCain Speaks To Club

The Science Club of Atlantic Christian College met in the science lecture room at 7:00 p.m., Wednesday evening, January 9. Dr. John McCain of the Wilson Clinic presented a program on mental health.

Dr. McCain received his degree in internal medicine from the University of Virginia Medical School in 1952 and is currently serving as president of the North Carolina Mental Health Association.

Point System Revamped

Quality points are now being computed on a four point system at Atlantic Christian College as a result of faculty action taken on Sept. 5, 1962, according to Dr. Millard P. Burt, Dean of the College.

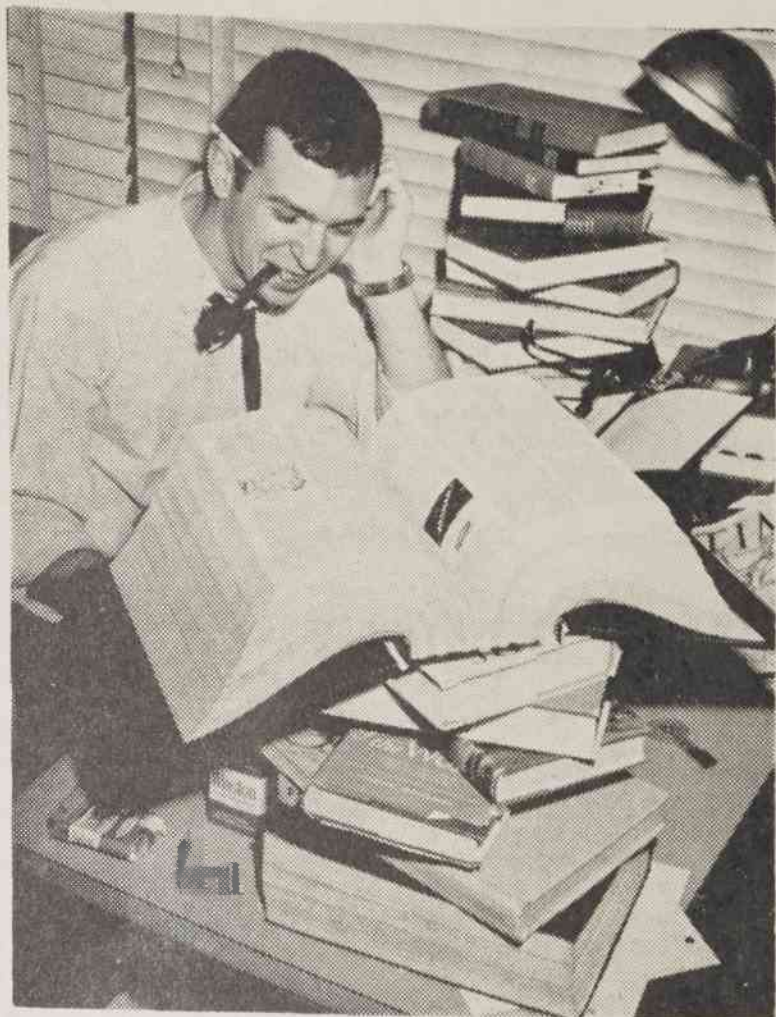

Values have been assigned to each letter grade per semester hour as follows: A-4; B-3; C-2; D-1; F-0.

A "C" average is represented by an overall quality point ratio between the sum of the quality points divided by the total semester hours of work taken. (The only exception is repeating work that was passed in order to improve the final grade.) This represents a true "C" average since it is based on all work attempted, not just the work passed.

Students who have received a grade of "F" on courses will find a slight reduction in their cumulative averages. Realizing this imposes an unexpected handicap, the faculty approved the following modifications to be in effect until June 1, 1964:

1. All records will be computed on the four point system beginning in the Fall semester of 1962.

2. Any student enrolled in the Fall

EXAMS—Ralph Gurgangus represents the average male student of Hackney Hall who is burning the "night oil" in preparation of "little quizzes" that most instructors deem and insist are necessary. Exams begin Jan. 14 and last until Jan. 18.

Stage And Script Plans Oscar Wilde Play In '63

On Wednesday evening, Stage and Script held its first meeting of the new year, with plans being made for the productions it will present during the second semester.

The campus dramatic group has outlined a most impressive and challenging program for that time, with three full-length and one bill of one-act plays being planned. The first production will be Oscar Wilde's delightful farce, "The Importance of Being Ernest," which will be presented early in February, with a cast headed by James Barbour, George Farr and Ann Morgan, a newcomer to Stage and Script productions.

This will be followed by the American premiere of one of Europe's most famous plays, "Queen Cristina," by the world-famous Swedish dramatist, August Strindberg. The play was originally produced in Berlin in 1896, but so far as is known, has never been produced in England or America.

Shortly, thereafter, this will be followed by a bill of one-act plays, including "A Child's Garden of Verses," by the organization's director, Mr. Cecil Willis, which was originally done in December and is being revived at the request of some of the faculty and students. The second play will be "Flyspray," by Atlantic Christian College alumnus, James Howard, which was originally produced Off-Broadway, with the author and Jo Davison, Jr. featured in its three character cast. The final play will be the college's entry in the North Carolina Dramatic Festival competition to be held in Chapel Hill in early April. It will be a portion of the fourth act of George Bernard Shaw's "Caesar and Cleopatra."

The final Stage and Script production will be given in May and it is hoped that it will involve not only the members of the club, but

Debate Is Heard By Forensic Club

The initial debate of the Forensic Art Society of Atlantic Christian was held on Tuesday night, Jan. 8, at 7:00 p.m. in Howard Chapel. Program Chairman Charlie Brown teamed with his brother Gene to debate in the negative against an affirmative team composed of Bob Stone and Jess Maghan on the subject of Federal aid to public education.

The small but interested audience was witness to a lively argument both pro and con concerning government grants to secondary schools in America. Bob Stone began the contest with a six-minute talk urging the adoption of subsidies and was followed by Charlie Brown for the negative. After the four initial speeches, Gene Brown led off the rebuttals followed by Jess Maghan.

All those present learned a great deal from the debate, both the participants and the observers. The group voted during the meeting to accept a challenge for a debate against a team from Harvard on a topic not yet decided upon. The next meeting of the society will be held on Feb. 7.

Executive Board Hears President

The Executive Board considered many items of business during the course of a lengthy meeting on Monday night. Dr. Wenger attended the meeting and presided over the installation of four new members to the board. A Homecoming concert was considered and an entertainer was selected in the event that the concert is held. Mr. David Peebles spoke briefly to the board concerning the purpose of the publications committee of the North State Student Government Association.

Pres. Arthur D. Wenger installed four new board members: Joe Eastman, Charlie Brown, Bob Makey, and Oden Latham. He preceded the ceremony with a short speech on the meaning of leadership. The four then took their oath of office.

The second day's activities will begin with campus open house which will begin at 10:30 a.m. At noon the annual Alumni Luncheon is to be at the home of President and Mrs. Wenger for the Class of 1938 which will be celebrating its 25th Anniversary.

Mr. Oden Latham, spokesman for the elections committee, submitted proposed changes for campus-wide election procedures. The most important of these, which requires a constitutional amendment and a vote by the student body, would relieve the board of the duty of nominating Cooperative Association officers and assign this task to the four classes. To clarify requirements for ballot recounts, rules were drawn up governing petitions for the recounting of votes. Both changes were approved by the board.

Mr. David Peebles explained the
