Delta Sig Pledges Over $1,300

Delta Sigma Phi fraternity last week pledged over $1300 to the Student Campaign, with its entire membership giving 100 per cent. The fraternity, thus, became the leading Greek organization in the amount given in the Campaign.

Whorton Godwin, president of the fraternity, said that he was very pleased about the way in which every member donated and added that "Delta Sigma Phi will continue to aid Atlantic Christian College throughout its Capital Campaign in any way possible."

The Student Fund Drive so far has netted well over $8,000 in pledges, with approximately 425 persons making pledges.

Sigma Pi fraternity also announced this week that all of its members had donated to the Campaign. Figures for their total amount given are not yet available.

The Student Drive, extended one week because all students had not been contacted, will end this coming Monday, March 18.

Because the possibility exists that a few student will not be contacted, See PLEDGES Page 3

Progress Is Goal States Tom Pippin

With the Cooperative Association ture, candidates for offices are busy with their platforms and campaigns in general. Among the busy candidates running for the office of President of the Cooperative Association in Tom Pippin.

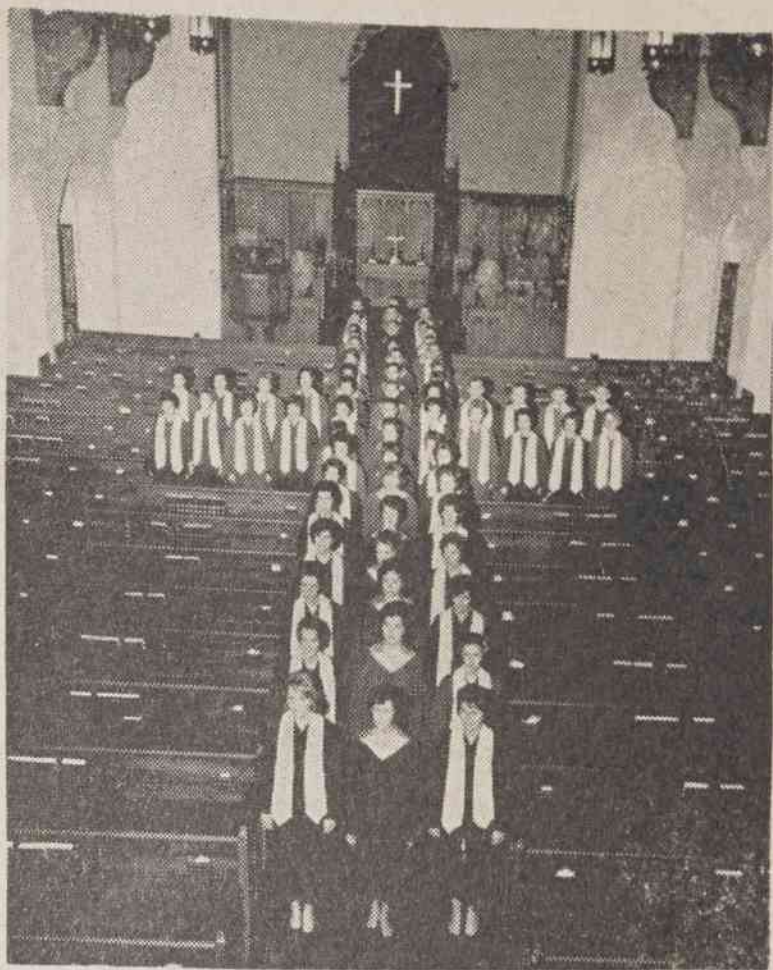

TOM PIPPIN

Tom has stated, "My keyword in this election and after, if I'm elected, will be 'progress.' He says, "My main interest will be in having better co-ordination between the faculty and the students of Atlantic Christian College." Tom also plans "to encourage more Cooperative Association sponsored activities that will interest the day students to the point that they will want to participate in the general activities of the school."

Another of Tom's ideas is "to bring activities to the campus that would gradually relieve us from the nickname of 'suit-case College.'" The cafeteria situation on the campus is a project that Tom plans to work on it elected. He says, "In my opinion the cafeteria situation has not improved to the extent that it should. The quality of the food has improved, but it can be improved more. Also the line situation will be investigated."

This year the Cooperative Association has been working on obtaining a student discount service with the merchants of Wilson. Tom has stated, "If elected I will continue to try to usher in the student discount service with merchant's of Wilson. George Thomas Pippin III, or just See GOAL Page 3

Mr. Claude Bolger Speaks At Meeting

The Accounting Club held a meeting last Thursday night at Parkers Barbecue. Approximately 20 were present. After the business session held by Lennis Brinson, President, the head accountant of Swift and Company, Mr. Claude Bolger, spoke to the group concerning "Industrial Accounting and Accounting in the Meat Packing Industry."

Present at the meeting also was Mr. H. D. Ripley, president of Swift and Co., in Wilson.

The next meeting will be held on March 8, in the Classroom Building.

Board Approves Member Training

The Executive Board, meeting Monday night in the Classroom Building, heard Mr. D. L. Warren explain the reasons for the Board of Trustees' disapproval of the constitutional amendment pertaining to an assistant Cooperative Association treasurer. The board approved another amendment to the constitution introduced by Mr. Warren which would require new Executive Board members to attend a series of training lectures before assuming their positions on the board.

Dean Warren gave an explanation for the turndown by the Board of Trustees of a constitutional change authorizing the election of an assistant treasurer for the Cooperative association. He stated that the body had not objected to the principle of such a position, but had disapproved of the clause allowing the assistant to automatically assume the post of treasurer for the year following his election.

An amendment to the constitution was proposed by Mr. Warren to establish a short training course for The program, to consist of five two-hour sessions, would be held following campus elections in the spring and would be headed by the Director of Student Life. The board approved the amendment along with an additional clause suggested by Bob Stone that the cabinet of the Co-op Association be given the duty of assisting in the program.

A suggestion was made and approved to require the president of the Cooperative Association to submit all constitutional amendments to the Board of Trustees in person. This will insure a clear understanding of all proposed amendments by the group.

Mr. Wiggs further clarified the faculty action in abolishing the posting of grades. He stated that a major consideration in abrogating the practice was the amount of teachers' time consumed by students interrupting them to learn their exam scores.

The Executive Board announced last night that one person has been nominated to run president of the Cooperative Association and two have entered the presidential race by petition.

Running for Co-op President are: Fred Ayscue, a junior from Henderson, N. C.; Tom Pippin, a junior from Pittsburg, Pa.; and Maurice Belanger, Colon, Republic of Panama.

USAF Recruiter On Campus Mar. 15

The United States Air Force Recruiting Service has announced that a special Officer Procurement team will visit Atlantic Christian College campus on March 15, 1963. The team will be located in the Classroom Building and will be available for consultation from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. This special procurement team will represent all departments of the U. S. Air Force Recruiting Service.

Captain Shelby Townsend, Officer in charge of the team, states that his team will have information concerning men and women in the Officer Training School (OTS) program for college graduates, the Aviation Cadet Training Program for young men interested in becoming flying officers, and the new Airman Edu- (AECP) for men and women. This later program is especially appropriate for college minded youth who for some reason cannot obtain a degree before entering military service.

The officer in charge and all members of the team invite persons desiring consultation, but who cannot visit with the team on the campus to write for special appointments. Write: USAF Recruiting Det 307, 201 W. Cabarrus Street, Raleigh, N. C.

Phi Beta Lambda Holds Candy Sale

The Phi Beta Lambda Business Club is selling World's Finest Chocolate candy bars in order to sponsor the contests at the state FBLA convention to be held in Durham on March 29-30.

At the meeting held Wednesday night, the members discussed the progress of the sale and made plans for the convention. Nell Spivey informed the members of the progress made on this year's scrapbook which will be entered in competition with other schools and colleges throughout the state.

Also during this meeting, the Phi Beta Lambda pins were presented to this year's members. Anyone wishing to buy some of the candy may do so by contacting members of the club.
