

Fike Senior Views ACC

"A day spent visiting Atlantic Christian College can be very worthwhile for seniors wishing to attend small colleges," said Susan Libby, Fike senior. Many seniors this year, in order to further their education, are investigating various colleges.

On Oct. 29 Susan attended three freshman classes: Spanish, English, and Western Civilization. On Monday, Wednesday, and Friday classes last 50 minutes. On Tuesdays and Thursdays the classes are extended to 1 hour and 15 minutes to prevent having classes on Saturday.

When asked how classes were conducted, Susan replied, "The Spanish class was conducted like the classes Mrs. Patterson and Mrs. Dunn teach here at Fike. English was divided into class participation and a lecture by the teacher. Western Civilization was a lecture, which is typical of many college classes."

Social life on the campus revolves around the many fraternities and sororities that have various activities. These activities include beach parties, brother - sister banquets, cook-outs, breakfast and dinner parties, and dances.

Other extra - curricular activities include working on the Pine Knot, the college annual, and the Collegiate, the newspaper. Band, Stage and Script (Drama), are two more activities.

Mr. Mortimer U. Leete, Editor of the Collegiate, reported to the board on the recent matter concerning the overdrawn portion of the 1962-63 Collegiate budget. Mr. Leete assured the board that the amount could be taken out of this year's Collegiate funds and still not hurt the paper. The board voted to withdraw the overdrawn amount from this year's budget.
