Executive Board Outlines Spring Campus Elections

The Executive Board of the Co-operative Association of Atlantic Christian College, at its regular meeting Monday night, February 10, approved the following schedule for the annual Spring Elections: February 20 — Nominations at class meetings; February 25 — Announcements of candidates; February 28 — Deadline for petitions; March 10 — Debate between Presidential candidates; March 12 — Campaign speeches; March 16, 17 — Election of president; March 18 — Run-offs for the presidency; March 25, 26 — Election of other officers; March 27 — Run-offs for other offices.

Sammy Jones, president of the Men's Dormitory Association, proposed that candidates for the office of Co-Op President be given the opportunity to debate "pertinent questions" before the entire student body, prior to the date set for the regular campaign speeches.

Opposition to the proposal was offered by Richard Surles, president of the Sophomore Class, who questioned its constitutionality. Surles pointed out that the Co-Op Constitution does not provide for a debate between presidential candidates and the Executive Board does not have the authority to compel a candidate to engage in such a debate.

The proposal, as adopted, will not make it mandatory for a candidate to enter the debate against his will.

National Student Association

In other action, Robert Royall, National Student Association co-ordinator, announced that approximately 10 persons from Atlantic Christian will attend the State Student Legislature at Raleigh on February 27 and 28.

Five representatives from ACC will attend the U. N. Model General Assembly at Duke University from February 12 to the 15. They are Gina Allen, Kathy Traylor, Nam Cho Park, and Dwight Wagner. Mr. Gordon Mercer will accompany the group.

Dean Robert Bennett, Sheila Scott and Dwight Wagner were appointed to serve on a special Peace Corps Committee which will make preparations for a visit to the campus by a Peace Corps representative on February 24.

Lloyd Owens, president of the Freshman Class, was appointed to investigate the possibility of putting music in the cafeteria. In conjunction with this investigation, Rex Horne, Senior Class senator, suggested that announcements concerning the college could be made during the intervals between the musical selections.

Karen Duke Scheduled To Appear At College

The lovely Karen Duke, who will appear at Howard Chapel on Feb. 18, 10:30 and 8:30 sings a variety of songs from traditional folk to Mozart and accompanies herself on the guitar. She began her novel fashion of entertainment in an atmosphere most conducive to a musical livelihood. Both her grandmothers sang, and one played the guitar as well. Her father is John Duke, celebrated composer of songs, and a professor of music at Smith College in Northampton, Massachusetts.

However, Miss Duke became fascinated with music quite on her own. She became intrigued by the guitar when, as a teenager, the first wave of popular folksong recordings and folksingers swept the country after World War II. She taught herself to play and began finding songs that would suit her voice and guitar.

Concert work was a natural transition for Miss Duke from what was originally a fascinating hobby.

Karen Duke, a charming, young balladeer who accompanies herself on the guitar, comes to the concert scene with an enviable background of professional experience in opera (which includes the first performance of her father, John Duke's, opera "Lovelock," and performances with the Opera Guild in Schroom Lake, New York); in musical comedy; appearances in clubs, resorts, schools, hospitals; and a tour of Japan and Korea with a special USO unit.

Miss Duke has done extensive summerstock work; has toured with "Can Can," "Silk Stockings," "Mr. Wonderful"; and had her own radio program over WHMP in Northampton, Massachusetts. She played the lead for 144 performances in a melodrama at Cripple Creek, Colorado, and has been a favorite guest attraction on television at the Westbury, Valley Forge and Camden County Music Fairs.

A professional model, Miss Duke fortifies her gift of talent and musicianship with her striking beauty. She has a most refreshing repertoire of folk songs of America and other countries.
