Registration Procedures Changed To Meet Needs

Plans for pre-registration for courses for summer school and for next fall have been announced.

On Tuesday, April 14, at 10:20 a. m. the freshmen met with their advisers for the purpose of declaring their intended major. This does not mean that a student cannot change his major at a later date.

It will be much to the student's advantage to give serious consideration to his choice of major field in order to avoid unnecessary delays in meeting graduation requirements.

April 21

On Tuesday, April 21, at 10:20 a. m., all students returning next fall, and all attending either session of summer school will meet with their major departmental advisor for the purpose of securing registration materials and information.

On Tuesday, April 28, there will be no regular classes held. All day has been set aside for completing advanced registration.

St. Andrews Choir Will Sing At Howard Chapel

The St. Andrews Presbyterian College Choir of 50 mixed voices will present a varied program of sacred music and spirituals on Wednesday at First Presbyterian Church.

The St. Andrews Choir, now on its annual spring tour, is directed by Lawrence Skinner of the St. Andrews Conservatory of the music faculty.

Junior High Band Clinic Held Here

The fourth annual Eastern N. C. Junior High Band Clinic was held at Atlantic Christian College on April 11, 1964. This year's band was composed of 90 young musicians chosen from some 25 eastern North Carolina bands. The conductor was Mr. Henry Whitener, band director of Charles L. Coon Junior High in Wilson, N. C.

The Eastern Junior High School B and Clinic was first instituted in 1960. Since that time it has continued to operate as a common effort by eastern North Carolina junior high school band directors to provide for their students a musical experience designed to augment their training and enhance their appreciation of the art of music.

College Tuesday morning.

Lowenstein, author of the novel Brutal Mandate, has been "the college professor in the news" recently as a result of his participation in civil rights demonstrations. According to informed sources an attempt was made to have Lowenstein dismissed from the State faculty — an attempt which caused the State Student Legislature to pass a bill condemning General Assembly members "engaged in irregular pressures" against college professors who have participated in civil rights demonstrations.

In his speech Tuesday Lowenstein compared racial conditions existing in South Africa with those facing Negroes in Mississippi. Among these were the Negro's right to vote and his right to protest. The speaker noted, "South Africa is the worst place in the world to live for the people who are not in the ruling minority."

Lowenstein surmised that one major difference between the two racially prejudiced areas is the role of the Federal Government in each.

College to require an advance payment of $50 by new and returning students. This action was needed in order to enable us to determine with greater accuracy how many students eligible to return were actually planning to enroll for the ensuing term. Further, it was necessary for the College to have more reliable information as to which newly accepted students were planning to enroll.

"Other attempts to determine these figures, such as polling of eligible students in regard to their plans for the ensuing year, have proved unsatisfactory. As long as the College was in a period of growing enrollment, this matter was not as important as it has now become. The enrollment ceiling under which we now operate makes it necessary to determine in advance what the intentions of each student are. It should be pointed out, also, that this is not a new fee but simply an advance payment on bills for the following year.

"Effective with this change the $20 room reservation fee which has been in effect for resident students will no longer be required. Room reservation fees now on deposit may be used to cover a portion of the advance payment.

"This measure is designed to protect the College against dangerous enrollment overloads."

The Executive Board of the Cooperative Association passed a motion Monday night requesting the resignation of Miss Mary Louise Westphal as a member of the Executive Board.

Arthur D. Wenger, President of Atlantic Christian College, has issued the following statement to the student body:
