ACC To Hold Preparatory Program Again

Atlantic Christian College will hold its fourth College Preparatory Program from July 16, 1965, through August, 20, 1965. The program has been held for the past three summers and college officials say statistics indicate it has proved to be invaluable to participating students. In addition to academic gains, the program offers an opportunity for an early orientation to college life which makes the transition from high school to college less difficult.

The purpose of the program is to give students intensive instruction which provides the opportunity to improve those skills and techniques which experience indicates are areas of greatest weakness. While prior acceptance for fall enrollment by some colleges or university is recommended, such enrollment is not a prerequisite for participation in the preparatory program.

Instruction will be provided in reading, English and mathematics. Students will be provided with an opportunity to learn better work and study habits, to participate in supervised study and supervised recreation and gain an orientation to college life.

All courses will be on a non-credit basis and will be taught by a competent faculty. It should be clearly understood that successful completion of the program can in no way guarantee acceptance at any college or university.

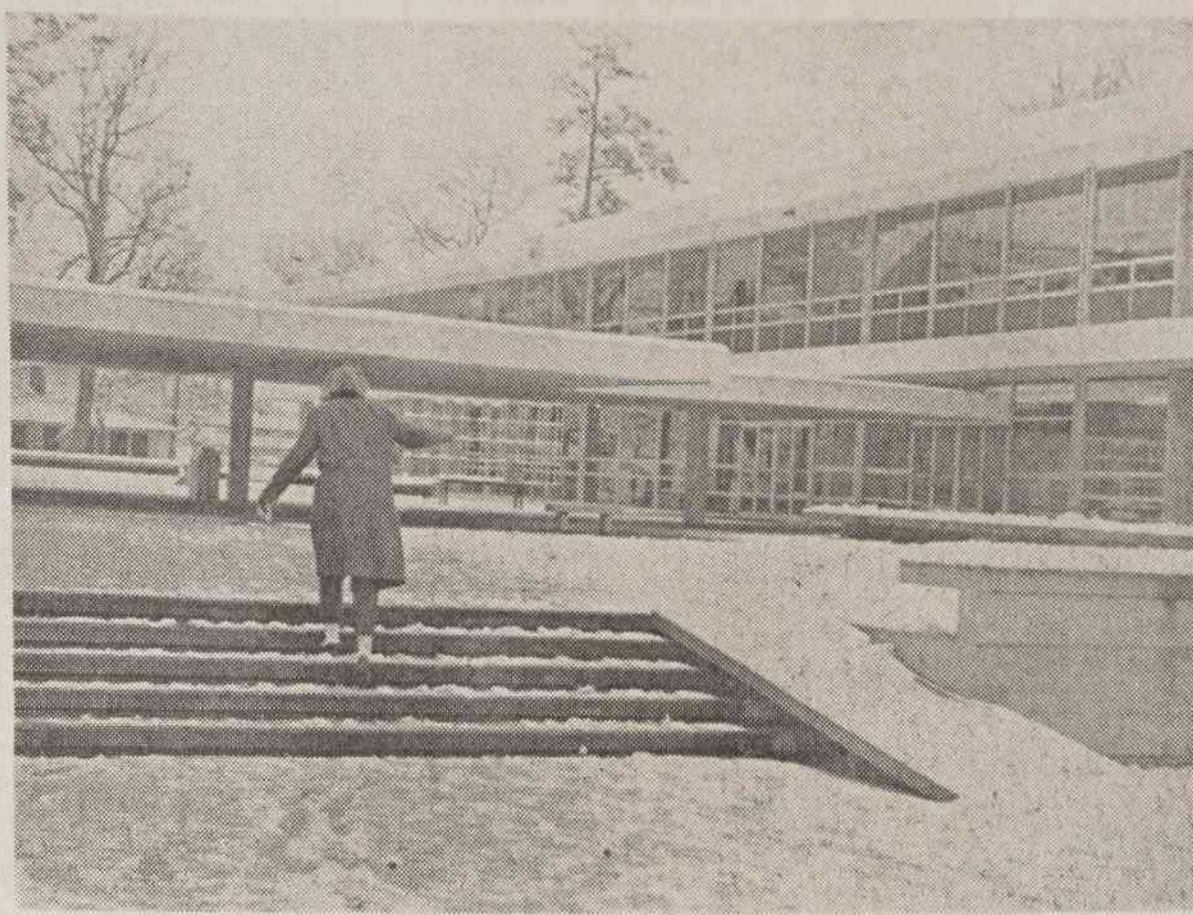

The course in English will emphasize grammar, theme writing and correct oral expression. In the area of reading comprehension, vocabulary and increased speed are emphasized. A standardized reading test will be administered at the beginning to determine reading level, and at the conclusion a second test

Attends Meet

Dr. L. H. Swindell, dean of Atlantic Christian College, attended a meeting of the Association of American Colleges being held in St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 12-14.

While in St. Louis, he also attended the annual meeting of the Council of Protestant Colleges and Universities, and the 1965 meeting of the American Conference of Academic Deans, both held on Jan. 11.

WATCH YOUR STEP!—This was a frequently heard phrase by those who stayed on campus during the semester break. With the fall of snow and temperature, walking was dangerous and the rain of snowballs was heavy.

Bruce Foote To Appear Here

Bruce Foote, distinguished American baritone, will appear in recital and conduct a voice workshop on the Atlantic Christian College campus Jan. 22-23.

The noted singer and teacher will be presented in concert in Howard Chapel on Jan. 22 at 8:15 p.m. He will conduct a voice workshop and master class on Jan. 23, beginning at 9:30 a.m. in the Music Building. The public is invited to attend both events. A special invitation has been extended to choral directors, voice teachers and students to attend the Jan. 23 session.

Foote has had a varied career which has taken him through study at Syracuse University, work for Warner Bros., Universal, 20th Century Fox, and United Artists Studios in Hollywood, Calif., singing regularly on NBC and ABC radio. He has appeared with such major symphonies as the Chicago, Indianapolis, Cleveland and St. Louis Symphonies, and teaching at such schools as the University of Illinois, where he is now head of the voice department of the School of Music. Some of his most outstanding work in recent years has been his oratorio performances across the country and his recordings for Columbia and other companies.

Parent's Day

For the fourth consecutive year, parents of Atlantic Christian College students will be honored at a special Parents' Day to be held on the college campus Feb. 7. Invitations are being sent to parents of the college's 1,300 students. Over 800 parents attended the affair the previous year.

Following registration at 9:30 a.m., most parents will attend morning worship services at churches in Wilson with their children. The visitors will be guests of honor at a luncheon to be held in the college gymnasium.

The guests will have the opportunity to become better acquainted with the educational opportunities offered at Atlantic Christian during an Open House scheduled for the afternoon when they will tour the campus and meet members of the college faculty and administrative staff.

One of the main highlights of the day will be an afternoon reception held in honor of visiting parents at the home of President and Mrs. Arthur D. Wenger.

Goal of $750,000 To Underwrite First Phase of Program

Atlantic Christian College has exceeded its minimum goal of $750,000 to underwrite the first five-year phase of its 15-Year Development Program, according to an announcement recently by Thomas J. Hackney Jr., chairman of the college's development campaign.

Commenting on the announcement Hackney said, "The attainment of our minimum financial goal this early in our current campaign gives us every reason to believe that the needed goal of $1 million for the first five-year phase of our long-range development program can be reached by 1968."

The college's 15-Year Development Program was authorized by its Board of Trustees in 1961 and was designed to be carried out in three five-year phases. The plan provides for an extensive building program, supplementing of faculty salaries and increases in the college's endowment fund.

Contributing financially to the campaign in the form of gifts and pledges were trustees, students, faculty, alumni, citizens of North Carolina and other states, members of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ), business corporations and foundations.

At time of the announcement, Dr. Arthur D. Wenger, president of the college said, "By their generous response to the long-range development plans which the faculty and trustees had set after intensive study, the college's friends have made it quite clear that they believe deeply in the objectives which the college is attempting to achieve. Such interest and concern are among the college's most valuable assets."

"The achievement of the minimum financial goal enables the college to maintain, or even to accelerate, the schedule of building and development which was adopted at the launching of the campaign in March of 1963. We are confident that the promise of further devel-

NOTICE

ACC Baseball Coach J. C. Pfohl has announced a meeting of students interested in trying-out for "pitcher" or "catcher" on the 1965 Bulldog squad. The meeting will begin 4 p.m. Monday in the ACC Gym.

WHITE WEATHER—The weather ended the exam week with a fitting surprise. Starting Friday and continuing into the first days of semester break, nearly nine inches of snow fell on the campus, and transformed it into a place of white beauty.
