Late Action Cause Debate

A motion to refer the matter of late constitutions from campus organizations to the office of the Dean of Students for possible probative action against the organizations, was made by Randy Smart, senior president, at the Executive Board meeting Monday night.

The motion was made after Cookie Wickham, vice president and chairman of the Constitution and By-Laws Committee had reported that several constitutions had not been turned in to the committee as the date stipulated by the Executive Board. She also pointed out that the SGA constitution called for probative action against offenders of this rule.

Following the introduction of this motion a hot debate began when it was pointed out that Stage and Script was one of the organizations that had not turned in a constitution. It was determined that if the motion passed, the organization might be prevented from presenting a play scheduled for this week. The motion was defeated by an 8 to 7 vote.

In other business, John Gorham, student coordinator, reported on the attendance of the State Student Legislature. Those delegates present were asked to give their views on the event. Dean Bennett reported that the drinking recommendation was currently being studied by the Student Life Committee. Several meetings had been held and more were being scheduled.

Marshall Smith, senior senator, moved that any type campaigning in a gentleman like manner for the SGA cabinet offices be permitted so long as college property is not damaged. Violations are to be dealt with by the Elections Committee. The motion passed.

Cookie Wickham moved that Linda Stallings and Vicki Joyner be nominated for the position of head cheerleader. This motion passed. It is the responsibility of the Exec Board to nominate candidates for this position.

It was announced that E. D. Winstead would be the guest speaker at the Exec Board dinner to be held next week at Parkers Restaurant.

Blood Drive At ACC Pays Off With 180 Pints Being Collected

Campus efforts for a successful Red Cross Bloodmobile visit paid off when 180 pints of blood were collected at Atlantic Christian College. All but seven of these donors were college students or teachers.

Ten college organizations vied in "Operation Big Drop," a contest to see which group could contribute the most blood.

Winner of the contest was Sigma Pi fraternity. Nineteen of the fraternity's 22 members signed pledge cards and all of these donated blood, thus scoring 86 per cent participation.

Pledges for the college visit totaled 225, making actual participation in the drive 80 per cent of the donor pledges. "This was an excellent showing," said Miss Frances Griggs, Scheduling Chairman, "Seventy-five per cent participation is usually a maximum. There were only 18 rejections for low hemoglobin, underweight, or colds."

Mrs. R. M. Beaman, volunteers chairman for the day, noted local help totaled 10 Gray Ladies, 12 blood aides, 11 registered nurses, six student nurses, and one local physician. "The volunteer help was excellent, as always," said Mrs. Beaman. "and made for a smooth-running operation in spite of the large number of donors. The college boys were a great help throughout the day in loading and unloading supplies and running errands. We couldn't have managed without them."

Unstinting in their praise of the whole operation were Mrs. Stuart Walston, Blood Program chairman, and Robert Dew, recruiting chairman. Dew praised the efforts of college recruiting chairmen Marshall Smith and Bobbie Ellis and college coordinator Hatten Hodges. "They did a superb job in carrying out all phases of the campus drive. The number of pints donated prove how successful they were."

"My deepest appreciation goes to each and every person at the college who helped to make this drive such a success," said Mrs. Walston. "Numerous people, from Dean Robert Washer on down, put in many hours of work both before and during this visit. We could not have managed without them. It was a real pleasure being with the students — a feeling shared by all the workers. The canteen chairman, Mrs. Walter Woodard, kept supplies going in cramped headquarters, and the whole operation was undoubtedly one of our most successful days. This was a real shot in the arm for the Wilson County Blood Program," Mrs. Walston said. Both Dew and Mrs. Walston expressed the hope that this will become a yearly college project.

Students who were not able to donate yesterday may do so at any future visit of the Bloodmobile off-campus and still receive full coverage under the Student Eligibility plan. The next visit will be in late April.

Representatives of local businesses and civic clubs were scheduled to donate today from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the First Methodist Church.

Placements For Law Students

College seniors who are planning to go on to law school no longer have to guess which schools would be best for them.

A unique new organization, Law School Placement Service (LSPS), will guide individual students to the law schools most closely suited to their needs through the use of modern computers.

In its first year, LSPS has earned the support of more than 90 of the nation's top law schools. The program has also won the endorsement of educators and professional organizations alike.

Until now, the guidance available to the pre-law student has been haphazard and incomplete. Many students have selected schools on the basis of prestige or word of mouth, only to waste application fees.

Competition is increasingly keen for admittance to law school. The number of openings in first-year classes has remained fairly constant but the post-war "baby-boom" and the American desire for advanced education are flooding admissions offices with applications.

The participating law schools will provide LSPS with data about their entrance requirements, including the most reported LSAT scores and undergraduate averages in the first-year class.

Mr. Top Hat Affair Set

By JANIE MCCORMICK

Bunnies, charming hostesses, priceless entertainments, delicious refreshments, music by the Monarchs, and a guaranteed good time is in order for all those who plan to attend the annual Top Hat Dance, sponsored by Sigma Sigma Sigma on Saturday night, March 5, from 8:00-12:00 in the lobby of the classroom building.

Tradition is the essence of this big affair. This year's Top Hat marks the seventeenth of a long line of such dances, beginning when a Phi Sigma Tau sister, Jeanne Suessmuth, originated the idea in 1949. Since that year, the semi-formal dance has been one of the most looked-forward-to, successful yearly functions on campus.

Intermission will be the high point of the night — the time at which Mr. Top Hat will be crowned. The following twelve men are competing for the honored title: Charlie Bowers, Sigma Phi Epsilon; Larry Stroug, Alpha Sigma Phi; Al Gaylord, Delta Sigma Phi; David Culbreth, Sigma Pi; Pete Peters, Delta Zeta; Dickey Davenport, Sigma Tau Chi; Fleming Lyon, Senior Class; Charles Bruton, Junior Class; Freddy Hale, Sophomore Class; Gary McMann, Freshman Class; Alton Hill, Men's Dormitory; Bill Griffin, Women's Dormitory.

Boys, be sure to pick up your tickets before the night of the dance. Admission is $1.50 in advance, and $2.00 at the door.
