Resolution Passes Board

A new American flag is now flying above the Atlantic Christian College campus through courtesy of the U.S. Air Force. Partially responsible for the gift is John Lee McLaughlin of the college maintenance staff. McLaughlin is responsible for the raising and lowering of the flag on campus. A few weeks ago he noted the old flag was becoming a bit worn and mentioned it to the local U.S. Air Force recruiter. This week the college received a new flag. Shown taking part in the presentation are, left to right, McLaughlin, T. Sgt. Leonard Mitchell, local recruiter, Lt. Diane Fulcher of Raleigh, and Joe Harwood, president of the ACC Student Government Association.

The SGA Executive Board, in response to the new guidelines regarding naming campus buildings, passed a resolution to refer to the ACC Student Center as the Dr. C. H. Hamlin Student Center. A motion by Day Student President, Bob Moore, coincided with the resolution. Moore suggested that the SGA recommend Dr. Hamlin as Tarheel of the Week, a feature of the News & Observer.

Further business of the evening included the setting of dates for election activities, acceptance of a plea to join the Southern University Student Government Association, and a petition to the board to recognize the B.P. Club.

The following resolution was presented to the board by Kay Dunn, Senior President:

Be it hereby resolved that the Students and Faculty of Atlantic Christian College hereafter refer to the Student Center as the Dr. C. H. Hamlin Student Center.

Because of his many years of service and distinction to the college, because of the warm feelings we have in our hearts for this fine citizen, because of recent decisions of the ACC Board of Trustees concerning the naming of buildings on campus, we, the undersigned resolve to hereafter refer to Student Center as the Dr. C. H. Hamlin Student Center.

Dunn explained to the board that "the petitions (to name the center after Hamlin) were turned in last fall, they (the Board of Trustees) did not have any rules or guidelines at all in naming any buildings on campus. When guidelines were brought up last week they ruled this (the petition) out of order." Joe Jarwood expressed the opinion that this was not fair to the students and faculty. He assured the board that this resolution would not be passed on for approval by the administration or Board of Trustees but would be accepted by the student body.

Filing, campaign and election dates for SGA officers were set by the board. Although the Handbook states that filing be held at least two days prior to March 1, circumstances caused a delay in the procedures. Filing dates were set for March 8 through midnight, March 9. Campaigning will run March 10-19 with elections on March 29 and 30. Procedures for filing may be found in the Handbook along with qualifications.

The board appropriated $80 to cover expenses for joining SUSGA. The extra $1,800 collected from this semester's student fees was appropriated to the Student Center Committee and the Entertainment Committee.

The B.P. Club, ACC's new pep organization, was given two weeks to present a constitution to the SGA for official recognition.

Elections

Dates for upcoming elections have been set by the Student Government executive board. Filing dates have been set for March 8 through March 9 at midnight. Campaigning will run March 10-19. Elections will be held March 29 and 30.

Trustees

WILSON, N.C. — The Atlantic Christian College Board of Trustees, at its mid-year meeting held here Feb. 24, took action to approve a tentative operating budget in excess of $3 million, approved promotion of a number of faculty members in academic rank, authorized a slight increase in college tuition, and nominated two new persons for seats on the board.

The trustees approved a tentative operating budget of $3,073,773 for the 197-72 academic year. The new budget reflects increases of cost of living and inflation as well as providing for three additional faculty members and cost of living increases in salary for faculty and staff members. The board will take final action on the budget at its regular October meeting.

The board approved the following recommendations with respect to faculty status for the 1971-72 academic year:

Returning from leave of absence — William I. Duckworth, assistant professor of music; Mrs. Barbara B. Smith, assistant professor of physical education; and Dr. Jung Karp Suhr, assistant professor of political science.

Granted leave of absence for 1971-72 for further graduate study — J. Ross Albert, assistant professor of music; and Larry Whitlock, assistant professor of psychology.

Promoted in academic rank — Dr. Jung Karp Suhr from assistant professor to associate professor of political science; and James A. Wooverton from instructor to assistant professor of geography.

Granted permanent tenure — Dr. Mary Fetter Stough, associate professor of English.

The board approved a tuition increase of $25 per semester for the 1971-72 academic year which was brought about by inflation and cost of living increases. The board did not announce further increases in room rent and board.

The board was notified that a special Parents' Advisory Council was in the process of being organized which will serve in an advisory capacity to the college.

Discussion On Sex

"Sex and the College Student in Today's So-Called Sexual Revolution" was the topic discussed by Dr. Takey Crist, Assistant Professor of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology at UNC last week. The discussion was sponsored by the Campus Awareness Committee.

Dr. Crist questioned the existence of a sexual revolution by noting the lack of a clear movement in an "understood and generally supported direction." He described the current attitude rather as a "sexual wilderness" with the college student caught in its midst. The college student, according to Crist, has added a new question to his search for identity. "Should I or shouldn't I?" a question which was traditionally ignored.

Rejecting the seemingly arbitrary rules of morality in the past, Crist feels today's youth are seeking "an empirical or practical basis to make their moral decisions." He went on to suggest "many nice young people are fighting to find themselves in a world that is doing its best to turn them into something else. While the entertainment industry has made sexual love a plaything, society norms have made it a disease, you're (the college student) caught in the middle."

Crist acknowledged the "confusion, uncertainty, and immaturity" involved in the desire for sexual freedom. The shame invested into the discussion of sexual matters has changed, he added. "The young are willing to discuss sexual matters frankly without shame. In terms of behavior the changes are not remarkable and certainly not revolutionary."

The speaker pondered the reasons associated with some decisions to participate in pre-marital sex. Loneliness, the need to maintain status, fear of the loss of a partner in a shaky relationship were given as possible reasons for this act. He went on to add, however, that "if fear of rejection or loneliness dominates sexual relations the experience becomes unsatisfying."

Crist questioned the decision to participate in pre-marital sex as a "buy now, pay later" proposition, going on to state "how are you going to feel if payday is everyday."

The validity of responsible sex information was discussed by the doctor. "To be well informed about your body and its physiological reactions doesn't make you promiscuous. I can't believe, that understanding human sexuality will cause someone to demonstrate irresponsible sexual behavior. I believe, indeed; the opposite." He told the audience that they must make an effort to get proper information with regards to the body and its function and not to be satisfied with rumor. "No information," he added, "is better than misinformation."

Regarding contraceptives, Crist suggest one stop thinking of their use as unromantic. Physicians are available for your aid he declared. "It is our job, I believe, as physicians not to decide what is good or bad but to what's necessary." The physicians should leave the moral and religious aspects to his patient.

Crist told the group that "every man and every woman in this room has the capacity to determine their own destiny." He challenged them "if you decide to give up your virginity, what do you plan to get in return?"

A question and answer session followed the lecture concerning such topics as contraceptives, both oral and intrauterine, abortion, and sexual physiology.

Dr. Takey Crist is a member of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology at the University of North Carolina School of Medicine. He is noted for his work with the students at UNC in providing frank and necessary information on sexual matters. The conclusion to the booklet "Elephants and Butterflies and Contraceptives" was written by Dr. Crist. His column "More Elephants and Butterflies," appears weekly in the Daily Tarheel. This column will be featured in the Collegiate in the coming weeks.

Tell It

The S.G.A. Executive Board unanimously approved a resolution to refer to the Student Center as the Dr. C. H. Hamlin Student Center. This resolution came as a result of the Board of Trustees' decision to establish guide lines for naming buildings on campus. (refer to Expertive Board article on page one and President's report on page two, for further details).

Several students were asked their opinions on the guidelines established by the Board of Trustees. Their reactions reflect their sincere concern over the guidelines and their affection for Dr. Hamlin.

C.E.S. — Just because someone has enough money to finance a building on this campus does that make him worthy to have the building named after him.

L.A.C. — If the students and faculty feel that someone is worthy of having a building on this campus named after them then it should be their privilege to do so.

R.A.S. — When a man has been as devoted to a college and its family as Dr. C. H. Hamlin to Atlantic Christian College and when he is held so dear in the hearts of all the students and faculty members there seems to be little room for question in the naming of the Student Center as the Dr. C. H. Hamlin Student Center.

K.A.A. — The fact that the Board of Trustees dictated the policy for naming buildings on this campus after the petition was submitted to name the student center after Dr. C. H. Hamlin shows again that the voice of the students of Atlantic Christian College has little or no effect on major decisions.

R.M. — It is a shame that a

Coffee House

The Coffee House will open tonight at 8 p.m. Appearing on the platform will be the Esquires combo, a locally popular group which played at the Faculty Reception last semester. The Esquires will play at intervals throughout the evening.

Special note: The Coffee House does not count as a night out for resident women.

person that has done so much for this school, and most important of all, is so loved by the students can not have this recognition. It seems senseless to have an honor bestowed on a person after he has done a job. Why can't it be given in the present to encourage others to follow in his footsteps.

S.L.F. — I don't agree with the guidelines. I believe that Dr. Hamlin is loved more by the students and has done more for this college in the last forty-five years than anyone has done in the past or will take the time to do in the future.

J.A.C. — The dedication and concern that a man such as Dr. C. H. Hamlin has shown toward the college and the student body in his many years of service should be recognized and rewarded in a manner showing our true appreciation. The naming of the Student Center is the most appropriate in that it is truly the center of student activity. This act would be a reflection of a living dedication rather than a memorial.

Thoughts

- thoughts while you study
- I don't care if I flunk this test...
- This ink pen has about 500 lines worth left in it...
- I have 3 hours to learn all of this
- I'll just die if John doesn't ask me out ...
- I wish to ....she would turn that stereo down
- I wonder if Mary has a date with that tennis jock
- Let's see...if I make 50 on this test what will my average be ...
- That tree out there is awfully pretty ...
- I will absolutely not study this mess anymore ...
- that bed sure does look good ...
- I wonder what they are doing at the other end of the hall...
- Concentrate now, I have got to concentrate...
- My fingernails are dirty ...
- What in the world am I going to wear Friday night ...
- Napoleon should have never done that ...
