WELL ANOTHER MORAL VICTORY FOR A.C.C.

Last Panty Raid

Joe College was laid to rest late this afternoon. He died a hero's death. His effort will be remembered throughout this College's history.

Joe died from suffocation. A size 52 panty was thrown from second story Harper Hall during the final panty raid of the college's history. The extra large panty enveloped him completely and before it could be removed Joe had died.

Pictured to the left is the new residence hall. Notice the fine workmanship? It is very well built, and it cost the college a whole lot.

It was built especially for the young men who are planning on becoming a lock smith. Notice also the special bars on the windows and the special guard post outside? Well that's to keep these kids from getting any bright ideas about going over to the Co-ed dorms!!!!!!
