One Of 13 Finalists

Denise DeMaria, a junior at Atlantic Christian College, has been named as one of 13 finalists vying for the national title of 1974

Lecture Scheduled

Dr. David E. Whisnant, lecturer on American music will deliver a lecture — demonstration on the topic, "Hillbillies and Revolutionaries: Contrary Traditions in Appalachian Music," on Jan. 22, at 10 a.m., in the choral room of Hackney Music Building at Atlantic Christian College.

Dr. Whisnant received his graduate training in American literature and history at Duke University. He has taught at the University of Illinois and for the past five years has been doing research and writing on Appalachian history, politics and culture.

His articles have appeared in the "New South," "Centennial Review," "Journal of Higher Education," "Soundings," "People's Appalachia," "Journal of Social History," and elsewhere. He is currently writing a book on Appalachian development and serving as consultant to the Southern Regional Council and the Smithsonian Institution's American Folklife Program.

The program is expected to last until noon. The lecture is open to the public. There will be no admission charge.

Golden Heart of Sigma Phi Epsilon.

The pretty coed is being sponsored by the Gamma Lambda chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity contest. The local chapter is one of 219 chapters of Sigma Phi Epsilon in the nation which are participating in the event.

The winning candidate is to be selected on the basis of beauty, achievements, and devotion by members of the fraternity across the nation.

A member of Phi Mu sorority at Atlantic Christian, she was born in Frankfort, Germany and is the daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. John M. DeMaria of Newport News, Va.

Commenting on the candidate, a local fraternity spokesman said that the Golden Hearts (fraternity auxiliary) were first organized in their chapter last spring. Denise was one of the first girls to show an active interest and as a result became a charter member of the group.

"In early summer," the spokesman said, "Denise started making plans to get the 'Little Sister' program more involved in fraternity activities. She has been instrumental in adding new members to the Golden Hearts and has organized them into a functional auxiliary of the fraternity. Through her own involvement, she has motivated the brothers of the fraternity toward new goals."

Art Exhibit

An exhibition of art by members of the Atlantic Christian College art faculty opened in Case Art Building on the college campus, Jan. 9 and will continue through Feb. 1.

Included in the exhibition are paintings by Russell W. Arnold, sculpture by Edward C. Brown and graphics by Thomas E. Marshall and Norbert W. Irvine.

Arnold, chairman of the ACC Department of Art was educated at Atlantic Christian College, the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, the Art Students League and with Hans Hoffman in New York. Brown attended the University of Texas and Columbia University. Marshall attended Richmond Professional Institute (Virginia Commonwealth University) and the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Irvine attended Washington and Lee University and Claremont Graduate School.

The gallery is open to the public. There is no admission charge. Gallery hours are Monday, Wednesday, Friday, 10 a.m. — 5 p.m.; Tuesday, Thursday, 12 p.m. — 5 p.m.; and Tuesday, 7 p.m. — 9 p.m.
