Atlantic Christian College's Atlantic Christian College's

baccalaureate degree program in nursing has been granted accreditation by the National League for Nursing, according to an announcement made by college officials today.

The National League for Nursing's Board for Review for Baccalaureate and Higher Degree Programs voted to grant initial accreditation to the ACC nursing program on April 18. National League for Nursing initial accreditation of a nursing program is effective as of the date it is granted by the board of review and is retroactive to the eight-month period prior to the board's decision. Official announcement of the board's action came from Helen Yura, secretary for the board.

Graduates from baccalaureate degree programs in nursing which received accreditation from the National League for Nursing, without further preparation, are qualified for positions in public health nursing, the armed services, admission to graduate programs in nursing and also command higher salaries.

The ACC Department of Nursing is a member of the Council of Baccalaureate and Higher Degree Programs of the National League of Nursing. The program is also accredited by the North Carolina Board of Nursing.

Atlantic Christian College graduated its first class of nurses in the spring of 1974 and is now operating at full capacity. there are presently a maximum of 235 students enrolled in Atlantic Christian College's baccalaureate degree program in nursing. Ninety-five nursing students are presently enrolled in upper level classes. Some 43 seniors are expected to be graduated this year. The college plans to graduate about 50 nursing students per year in the future, according to Dr. Ruby G. Barnes, chairman of the ACC Department of Nursing.

Commenting on the announcement, Dr. Arthur D. Wenger, president of the college said, "The national accreditation of our nursing program marks a major milestone in the development of this program which began with the admission of our first class of nursing students in 1970-71."

"Coinciding as it does with the construction of our new nursing education building, this further assures the citizens of our region of a high quality program for the training of urgently needed health care personnel."

The college today announced that construction of a new Nursing Education Building will begin shortly after May 1. The new structure is to be located northeast of and adjacent to Moye Science Hall and will provide some 12,786 square feet of space on a single floor.

A variety of instruction spaces are included in the building plans. There is to be a large multi-purpose laboratory and two lecture rooms, one with tiered seating, which will make up a major portion of the building. There will be six seminar rooms, an audio visual laboratory, and storage and service areas. Faculty members will each have a modest office, along with conference and secretarial service areas.

A large number of interior partitions will be relocatable should spaces need to be rearranged to meet future needs.

Contracts have been let and basic construction cost has been set at $332,933, some 29 per cent under original estimates. The construction cost figure does not include arthitect's fees, moveable hardware and equipment. The building will be funded through the college's Fulfillment Fund Program commitments including a federal grant f $302,152, and a Z. Smith Reynolds Foundation grant of $75,000.

Architect for the structure is Skinner-Lamm Associates of Wilson. General contractor will be J. H. Hudson, Inc., of Greenville, N.C. The building is scheduled to be completed within 12 months.

A Restoration Takes Place

The Circle K Club is at it again! The Week of April 21-28 was Clean Up Wilson Week in which many organizations participated. This was a citywide effort to beautify our city and restore its life.

On Thursday afternoon, april 24, the Circle K Club participated in this effort. Each participant put on their working clothes, picked up their tools, and then journeyed to 806 W. Gold St. The maintenance department at AC donated the lawn mower and hedge clippers used by the club. The house was previously inhabited by an elderly lady who because of illness left her home. She now resides in a rest home.

Even thought he house was overgrown with weeds and bushes there still existed a feeling of life. The house and yard was once a picture of what its inhabitants were like. Through the efforts of the club members, this picture was restored. In a similar way, many other organizations and individuals helped to restore life in some other part of our city.

Institute sponsored by the American Council on Education. He is a member of three college boards of trustees — Bethany (W.Va.), Culver-Stockton (Mo.), and Tougaloo (Miss.).
