It would seem in this picture that the people are involved in a lottery and the losers passed out and needed medical attention. Actually these people are waiting to give blood for the Bloodmobile which was here last week. This blood drive was extremely successful as 368 pints of blood were given in the two days. This might be some kind of record for Wilson County. Dracula would even be jealous.

Parking Petitions Committee

If a student gets a parking ticket from the campus security folks, he has five days to pay it off or appeal it to the committee. After five days, there can be no appeal. However, the unpaid tickets are kept on file in the ad building and can cause quite a ruckus when a student needs a transcript or tries to graduate.

In the event that the ticket is of questionable validity, the hapless student needs only drop by the administration building and fill out a form that asks why the ticket seems unfair and what extenuating circumstances were involved. Then the victim needs only sign the form and return it to the business office.

When enough ticket complaints are received by the parking petition to merit an afternoon's work, the committee meets to hash out the decisions.

The committee consists of four students appointed by the president of the SGA and one faculty advisor, in this case, Dean Nadelman.

The committee discusses each case without knowing who has received the ticket. Dean Nadelman keeps that information under his belt to make things fair. After a decision has been reached, the committee sends a letter to the student who received the ticket telling him whether to rejoice or repent.

This school year, the committee has handled between forty and fifty disputed tickets. Most of the cases seem to be concerned with cars having no parking sticker. The parking stickers are free by filling out two little forms and could save the cost of a two-dollar parking citation.

Tri-Sig

Sigma Sigma Sigma recently held initiation for 13 girls. The new sisters are: Holly Diggs, Karen Edwards, LaVee Hamer, Gay Jeffreys, Tammie Jowell, Donna Marina, Ginnie McGraw, Donna Mitchess, Lois Smiley, Betty Wells, Sandi White, Cathy Whitt, and Gayle Woodlief. The award for most outstanding pledge went to Ginnie McGraw.

Music Lecture

A lecture by Gary Kvistad of Northern Illinois University, "Harry Partch: His Music and Instruments," will be presented at Atlantic Christian College, Thursday, Feb. 19, at 11 a.m., in the choral room of Hackney Music Building.

The lecture will deal with the work of perhaps America's least known, though possible one of its most important, experimental music innovators. Partch was one of the first American composers to creatively deal with music outside the western European art music tradition. He incorporated the sounds of the Far East in his music and invented instruments to accommodate the sounds.

Kvistad, a percussionist with the Blackearth Percussion Group and artist-in-residence at Northern Illinois University, will present music scores, tape recordings and Partch instrument designs. He will show the film, "Dreamer That Remains: Portrait of Harry Partch."

The event was sponsored by The American Arts Festival and the ACC Concert and Lecture Committee.

PoliSci Students

Seven political science students from Atlantic Christian College will attend an International Studies Association Convention to be held in Toronto, Canada, Feb. 25-29.

Other than attending various panels, they will have an opportunity to participate in an "Inter-Nation Simulation, and Foreign Policy" decision-making workshop. They will be accompanied by Dr. Amrut Nakhre, associate professor of political science at Atlantic Christian, who will chair a panel entitled, "Problem of Nuclear Proliferation."

The group plans to participate in a tour of the White House in Washington, and will visit the United Nations in New York where they will be addressed by Rikhi Jaipal, permanent ambassador from India to the UN.

Students making the trip will be Mike Sawyer of Gates; Patricia Howard of Jacksonville; Patti Lotts of Culpepper, Va.; Jeff Price of Zebulon; Allen Richeson of Hopewell, Va.; and Ann Ramsey of Rocky Mount.

Dept. of Art

Four members of the Atlantic Christian College Department of Art are now exhibiting at Chowan College in Murfreesboro. The show will close March 1.

Thomas Marshall is represented by two paintings and four prints. A printmaker and free-lance commercial artist, Marshall is a graduate of the University of North Carolina and has been with the college for 11 years.

Represented by six silkscreen prints, Norbert Irvine graduated from Clairmont Graduate School and is currently completing his second master's degree at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro. Irvine has been with the college for nine years and teaches in the area of art education.

J. Chris Wilson's work includes five paintings, one drawing, and two watercolors. A University of Georgia graduate,
