

Students Unite!

Do you ever wonder where the money goes that is raised for ACC? Do you ever wonder why it is that we students seem to be the last ones considered as the money rolls in? Maybe we aren't exactly the last ones, but let's face it: money is spent at this college for some pretty non-essential things.

Where are the improvements in some of the weaker departments? There is talk of recruiting students, but what is offered to them when they arrive? Little of what is seen in the recruitment stage of a student's life has anything to do with his or her later development as a student. Upon arriving at ACC, does the student find that the school is concerned with the learning process, or is it simply trying to get more students enrolled in the college, an interest of relatively few of us who are trying to use our college experience as a meaningful learning event?

The Collegiate is of the opinion that the purpose of the college is to provide the student with a quality education. Not just any education, but a quality education. We can go anywhere and take courses. We can go anywhere and be impressed with the beauty of the buildings. We can go anywhere and have a crowd of other students around us. But can we receive the quality education that many of the professors at ACC are capable of offering us? Can we receive the personal attention that they and a concerned administration can give if they turn their attention to the students who are here now?

Some would say that ACC is striving to offer all of these things, especially a quality education and a good recruiting program. However, there are some people, and the number of those people is growing constantly, who wish the administration would turn its efforts more towards the personal attention to the present needs of students and less to the hopes of a bright tomorrow. It is our opinion that if quality education and personal attention are offered as the main emphases of the college's philosophy, then these will also be the strongest drawing for potential students. If the quality of the education is good, the quality of the students will be similar.

Another Collegiate Survey

This week the Collegiate ran a special survey in order to find out who has the greatest pull on campus. We went through Hines Hall, with our trusty measuring tape, provided by the Student Center Bookstore, measuring professors' offices as we went.

Guess what. Of the offices we measured, six (6) offices were smaller than an isolation cell in Raleigh's Central Prison.

Yes folks, Lura Hewitt, Amrut Nakhre, John Bridgers, Eddie Tessnear and Grant Folmsbee can rest assured that Atlantic Christian does hold a captive audience, the professors!

Oh Heavens! We almost forgot. The smallest office Award for Hines Hall goes to Harlow Head, who's cubbyhole measures a vast expanse of over 3 feet by 5 feet.

The Collegiate has been informed that some improvements in this area are being discussed. We certainly hope that such improvements become a reality.

Photo by Peter Chamness

Sue Salmon was the lucky winner of the Wonderful Collegiate Treasure Hunt which culminated last week. Here is a picture of lucky Sue receiving her grand prize from Editor J. Fred

The Collegiate is now accepting applications for the office of Business Manager for the 1980-1981 school year. The job would be of interest to any one wanting experience in the business aspects of a newspaper.

- The duties of the job are:
1. selling advertising.
  2. composing ads.
  3. positioning ads in paper.
  4. paying all incoming bills.
  5. keeping books.

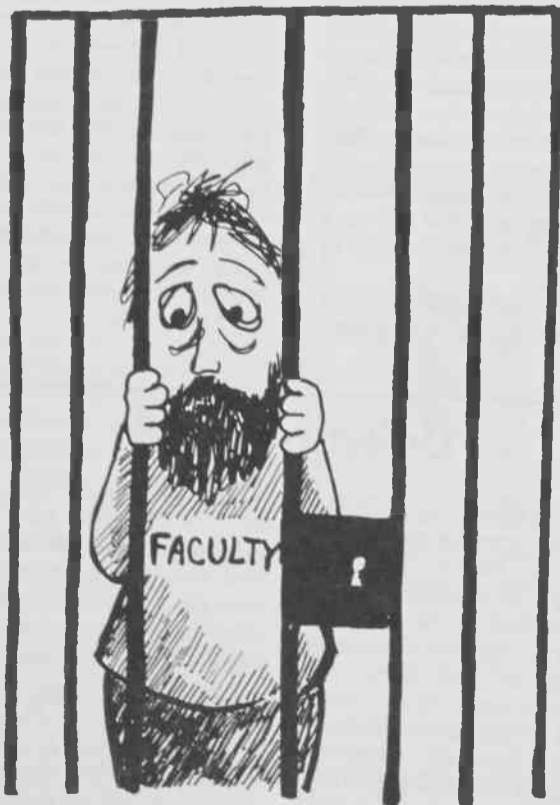

The individual selected will begin training for the position in mid or late March, so as to have a good working knowledge of the paper and all of its duties for the Fall 1980 term.

Any interested persons (man, women, or child) should make their application no later than December 1, 1979. You should submit your written application to:

Tom K. Stephenson.
The Collegiate.
Box 5688 ACC.
Wilson, NC 27893.

This would be an excellent opportunity for anyone to familiarize themselves with the inner-workings of a newspaper, not to mention the fact that you get your picture in the Yearbook. Yeah! (Business Majors would find this a very beneficial experience. hint hint) Once again that deadline for all applications is December 1, 1979.

FACULTY OFFICES

-Buerroughs

Grave Humor

collected by Arlene Cutler
Here lies the body of Solomon Pease
Under the daisies and the trees;
Pease not here, only the pod,
Pease shelled out and gone to God.

Here lies the father of 29
He would have had more
But he didn't have time.

Here lies Ann Mann,
Who lived an old maid,
But died an old Mann.

Here lies a pedestrian, cold as ice;
He jumped only once when
He should have jumped twice.

Here lies a man that was Knot born
His father was Knot before him.

Ma loved Pa
And Pa loved women;
Ma caught Pa with one swimmin'
Here lies Pa.

Here lies one Chest within another
The one of wood
Was very good,
We can't say much for t'other.

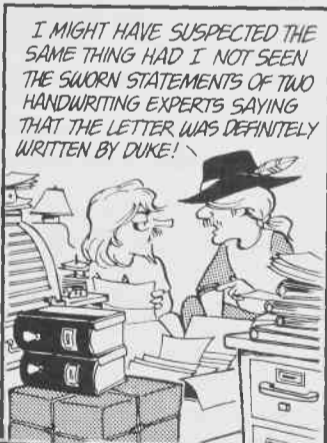

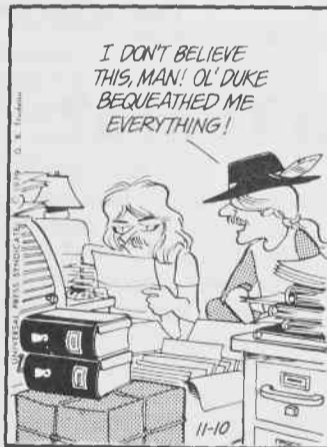

Stranger approach this spot with gravity
Dentist Brown is filling his cavity.

Here lies a man that was Knott born,
His father was Knott before him,
He lived Knott and did Knot die,
Yet underneath this stone doth lie.

The Collegiate would like to invite all students to a campus-wide worship service which will be held on Thursday, Nov. 8, at 11:00 a.m., in Howard Chapel. The service is being sponsored by the Religion Department at A.C.

DOONESBURY

by Garry Trudeau

A Cast of Several:

Editor
J. Fred Pearce

Advisors
Craig Falor
Trudy Rising

Assistant Editor
Carl Frazier

Business Manager
Tom K. Stephenson

Bookkeeper
Pam Moore

Circulation
Shari Huggins

Reporters
Arlene Cutler
Marlene Cutler
Dotty Odom
Kay Richey
David Swain

Art News
Catherine Edwards

Greek News
Beth Jones

Sports
James Mumford

Photographers
Peter Chamness
Ken Finch

Cartoonist
Susan Burroughs

Features
Dawn Mannion
Denise Rhodes

Typists
Donna Bass
Debbie Blackwelder
Tammy Boyd
Kathy Denzler
Cricket Pearce
Kathy Pearce

Stuffers
Mich Adams
and others