RUFFIN NAMED HEAD OF DEVELOPMENT COUNCIL

College Press Release

H. B. "Bud" Ruffin, executive vice president of the James I. Miller Tobacco Co., has assumed the chairmanship of the Atlantic Christian College Development Council. He succeeds Robert E. Kirkland Jr., who served as the initial chairman of the council beginning in 1978.

The ACC Development Council is comprised of 16 divisions that represent the different constituencies of the institution. The development council membership consists of two volunteers and a faculty or staff member for each of the 16 divisions.

The purpose of the council is to involve interested alumni and friends of the institution in helping to establish a strong base of interest, involvement and support for the development programs of the college.

Under the leadership of Kirkland and ACC President Harold C. Doster, the council has for the past two years served as a catalyst for the interpretation and presentation of the college's programs to the local community and the surrounding area.

Members of the development council are asked to give of their time, their expertise and their assistance for the advancement of the college. The volunteers are providing a valuable service through their efforts to the continuing growth and development of Atlantic Christian College.

President Doster, commenting on the development council, said, "Any institution of higher education is dependent, in many respects, on the volunteers that it attracts. These volunteers are called on to assist in the promotion of the institution's activities and Atlantic Christian College is extremely fortunate to have men and women who are either alumni or friends willing to provide this valuable service.

"The college cannot move forward without the input and assistance that is given by the members of our development council. We are extremely appreciative of Bobby Kirkland and his initial leadership and to those members who served with him on the council in its infant stages. We are looking forward with great anticipation in working with Mr. Ruffin and members of the new council as they begin a year of planning and program projection for 1980-81.

"On behalf of all of us at Atlantic Christian College we want to thank those whose names appear in this article for their willingness to become involved and to serve in this very important way."

The divisions of the development council and the names of those serving in each division are:

Public Relations -- Richard Oakley, Chairman; Ann Givens, vice-chairman; Milton Rogers, staff.

SGA SUCCESS!

by Tom K. Stephenson

This past Tuesday saw another very successful meeting of the SGA Executive Cabinet. The cabinet members each reported on their various responsibilities and assignments. President Karen Bates opened the meeting with a few comments on the upcoming Homecoming Day activities. Ms. Bates reviewed the agenda for the Homecoming weekend and assured the group that all arrangements had been or were being taken care of. The dance, which is to be held on October 31, will be held at the Wilson Moose Lodge, followed on Saturday, November 1, by a full day of activities including: a campus carnival, a homecoming soccer game against Wingate, and a special performance of The Fantasticks, by Stage and Script. Ms. Bates also discussed the possibility of purchasing a mascot costume for the school.

Vice-President Kay Richey, reported that the Senate met on Monday the 22nd, and had begun work on several items that had been carried over from last year. Also the Grievance Committee met and discussed items such as: reinstatement of swing-shift in the dormitories, repairing the lights in front of the Student Center, and installation of a permanent volleyball court.

Ms. Kathy Koonce, the Treasurer, gave a welcome report of the Budget Committee's passing of the 1980-81 SGA budget, which totals almost $70,000.00 for the year. The Entertainment Committee reported on the, then upcoming, Oak concert, and finally the Elections Committee reported on the petitions for office that had been submitted, for the elections to be held this week.

The Executive Cabinet is made-up of the SGA officers, any committee chairmen that come under direct jurisdiction of the SGA, and the SGA's faculty advisor. If you have any questions on the SGA or any of its functions, just stop the offices in the lower level of Hardy Alumni Hall, anytime Monday through Friday and check the office hours. They will be more than happy to answer any questions you might have. Remember the SGA is here to serve you the student, but they can't do so without your support, so get involved, there's a lot going on in your Student Government.

NETTERS CRUSH PEMBROKE

Pembroke - The AC women's tennis team opened its fall season with a bang as they routed the Lady Braves by a 9-0 score here Tuesday afternoon.

The Bulldogs experienced very little trouble as they swept through the matches in straight sets, with the exception of the Rodriguez-Hopkins 6-1, 3-6, 6-1 victory over Vail-Bass.

In the remaining doubles matches, Giron-Hopkins won 6-0, 6-1 over Tynnismaa-Maynor and Tyner-Wampler dumped Caviness-Smith 6-2, 6-3.

Singles matches saw Rodriguez knock off Tynnismaa, 6-1, 6-0; Hopkins stopped Vail, 6-2, 6-1; Giron thumped Maynor, 6-1, 6-2.

Summerlin battled past Bass, 6-3, 6-2; Cotton emerged a victor over Smith 6-2, 6-1; and Singer skunked Caviness, 6-0, 6-0.

The team participated in the Methodist tournament over the weekend, but results were not available. The next action for the netters will be Tuesday against Meredith in Raleigh, and a home date Friday against UNC-Wilmington.

Due to lack of space, not all of the results from last week's action made the paper. We regret the oversight and offer congratulations to our winners and condolences to the losers.

CONCERT TICKETS

The Concert and Lecture Committee has announced that again this year they are providing thirty free, student tickets to the Friends of the College Concert Series. The seven concerts of this season are held in Reynolds Coliseum at North Carolina State University at 8:00 p.m. in October 8, 9; October 31 and November 1; November 21, 22, 23; December 3, 4; February 6, 7; March 18, 19; and March 27, 28.

The series features in order, The Philharmonic Orchestra of London, The National Band of New Zealand, The Houston Ballet and Orchestra, Andre Watts and Charles Treger, pianist and violinist, The Westminster Choir, Aman International Folk Festival, and the Czech Philharmonic Orchestra.

The tickets for each concert are available at the Lobby desk of the Roma Hackney Music Building starting a week before each concert. They will be given one per student upon the presentation of the student's I.D. card.

Also available for the students are ten bus seat tickets on the charter bus for Friends of the College Concerts. The bus travels to the concerts on the nights of October 9, November 1, November 22, December 4, February 7, March 19 and March 28. The bus will leave from the College library parking lot promptly at 6:00 p.m.

The thirty tickets and the ten bus tickets will be distributed in a first-come-first-serve basis. Tickets must be picked up in person. Tickets can not be held or saved by a telephone request.

DRINKING ON CAMPUS?

More than 80 per cent of college students drink alcoholic beverages.

The United States Brewers Association surveyed 1,823 students on four university campuses in Florida last fall and found that college men drink more than college women. While most students drink to relax, more than 40 per cent reported that they drank to "get high."

About 13 per cent of those surveyed drank excessively and experienced behavioral complications, but it was found that the men experienced more complications than the women.

FLU!

There is a limited supply of flu vaccine available at the infirmary. So on Monday through Friday from 9:00 am to 5:00 pm, there will be a $2.00 charge per vaccine.
