

The Atlantic Christian Music People!!!

CP&R

The Atlantic Christian College Choir, Vocal Ensemble and Brass Ensemble will be presented in a fall concert by the Atlantic Christian College Department of Music, on Thursday, Nov. 13, at 8 p.m., at St. Timothy's Episcopal Church. The performance will be directed by Robert Daniel.

The program will include music of Mendelssohn, J. S.

Bach, Brahms, Billings, and selections from "Frostiana," by Randall Thompson with poetry by Robert Frost. The featured work will be the motet, "O Clap

Your Hands," by Ralph Vaughan Williams for choir, brass, organ, and percussion.

The program is open to the public free of charge.

OPRYLAND

Although our 1980 season is barely over, it is again time to begin our 1981 audition tour in search of more than 350 singers, dancers, musicians, technicians, and stage managers needed to cast and produce our 14 live musical productions for next year.

Our talent scouts will be visiting 24 cities during the next three months in an effort to find young, versatile Broadway-type talent to sing, dance and play all the types of music we have here at Opryland. I would like to ask your help in spreading the word about auditions and encouraging your students to try out for a summer of professional performing experience. It is not easy to find top quality talent and no matter how much we advertise, a lot of young entertainers do not hear about the auditions until they are over, and then it's too late.

For young people who want a career in show business, we can offer professional voice, dance, and music training; the chance to be seen by influential people in the music business, network television producers, national and syndicated entertainment writers, as well as our 2 million guests; and a good salary, supplemented by road show appearances (1981 Salaries: $211.51 for performers, $179.13 for technicians, $254.80 for stage managers, $269.05 for musicians). Opryland offers its entertainers a complete music and dance rehearsal studio that is open 24 hours a day, a permission to hold outside jobs as long as they do not interfere with their Opryland performance.

Last year selected Opryland groups entertained at over 300 special events. As the home of one of the country's largest television production facilities, producers are using Opryland talent for national and syndicated shows taped in the park complex. Some of Opryland's entertainers have landed major recording label contracts or had material recorded or published as a result of their work in special showcase Opryland productions periodically arranged for private showings to record industry executives.

Opryland's success is dependent on the quality of our musical productions, and we hope that you will take a look at what we have to offer in facilities, professional training and media exposure, and recommend that your students try out for a summer at the "Home of American Music". If you have any questions or need additional brochures, please contact the Opryland Entertainment Department.

STUDENTS AT ACC GO HUNGRY!

What do you mean going hungry? At Atlantic Christian? Yes indeed, at Atlantic Christian! Some students at ACC will be going without food for twenty-four hours, beginning at 5:00pm., on November 19, and continuing until 5:00pm., on November 20.

Why? Good question! Let me go find out, be right back.....

Ah Hab! This is why. November 20, has been designated as World Harvest Day, which is a day set aside each year to bring to light the catastrophic effects of the Third-world food shortage, and the pain involved in starvation. The innocent victims that die each day number in the hundred-thousands.

Now, what does ACC students going hungry, have to do with world hunger? By getting involved in a voluntary fast, you can participate in a nationwide effort to, not only collect a small amount of money for aid to these impoverished nations, but you will also be able to share in the hunger pains that millions of people feel each day of their lives. The only difference between your hunger and theirs is, that yours will only last twenty-four short hours. Theirs may go on for a week or more at a time.

Here's how it works. You simply agree to fast, by signing a sheet which will be available in the Student Center, sometime next week, and then, just carry on your normal everyday activities. True, after six or seven hours you may begin to feel famished, but you will come to a realization that will be well worth that small pain in your stomach, that being, that it is up to those of us, who have been blessed with all the necessities, to take care of those persons who can't help themselves, for whatever the reason.

Well, give it a little thought, and keep your eyes open for more information which will be available in next week's COLLEGIATE* THE GREEN SLATE* POSTERS in the Student Center, and from the WORLD FAST DAY information table, which will be in the Student Center on the day of November 19.

Have a nice day and enjoy dinner!

SYMPHONY

CP&R

The North Carolina Symphony recently received a $30,000 grant from the Weyerhaeuser foundation to help underwrite the cost of the symphony's musical program in Onslow, Beaufort, Craven, Washington, and Martin counties over the next three years.

The symphony will use the $10,000 annual grant to present the "Weyerhaeuser Series," which will include educational and evening concerts, discovery programs, clinics and residencies for the citizens of the five eastern counties, many of whom are Weyerhaeuser employees.

Dr. Norman E. Johnson, Vice president of the wood products company's North Carolina region, praised the symphony for bringing the best of symphonic music to all North Carolinians.

"We are glad to be able to make this contribution to the North Carolina Symphony, and we look forward to future performances of the symphony in eastern North Carolina. It is our sincere hope that this grant will aid in the overall financial stability of the symphony and help it remain an asset to be enjoyed by residents and visitors to our state," he said.

R. Max Abbott, symphony president, said, "We are excited to have Weyerhaeuser as a partner in our efforts to bring the finest in musical opportunities to the citizens of our state. We are confident that the 'Weyerhaeuser Series' will raise the level of musical opportunity in these five counties during the next three years."

He continued, "Weyerhaeuser's three-year, $30,000 grant acts as a model for the type of corporate support the symphony is striving to achieve. It represents a strong endorsement of the symphony's efforts as well as a model of what other corporations might consider as an appropriate gift for the citizens in their communities."
