The only exceptions to the examination schedule are for students with as many as three difficult examinations on one day. In this case, the student must notify the Dean of the College no later than 10 days before the beginning of the final examination period (December 1). Normally the examination will be administered one day following the scheduled examination. When this date results in another three examination day, the examination may be administered one day before the scheduled examination. All other absences will result in an automatic failing grade. When an emergency requires that a student must miss a scheduled examination, the Office of the Dean of the College must be notified as quickly as possible.

Homecoming Under Way

This year's Homecoming activities are well under way as the students gear up for "Tropical Paradise."

Spirit Week got off to a bad start on Monday, when only seniors showed up for the class competition activities. According to Bobbie Edwards, Student Government Association president, another attempt will be made at the class activities on Wednesday, with Pyramid building.

The 1981-82 Homecoming queen will be crowned at 10 p.m. at the Homecoming Dance. The dance will be held Saturday night at the Wilson Moose Lodge from 8 p.m. until 1 a.m.

Staircase, a Virginia band will be providing the music for the occasion. Admission is $5 for couples and $3 for singles. The attire for men is coat and tie and for ladies, short or long dresses.

Frisbees, Homecoming Dance tickets and Pie Raffle tickets will be sold throughout the week in Hamlin Student Center.

The Homecoming Carnival will begin Saturday morning at 10 and will last until 2 p.m. The carnival booths are sponsored by ACC organizations. For a list of the booths, check pages 6 and 7.

Also on the Homecoming agenda, the Covenant Players, a mime troupe, will perform in Howard Chapel, Saturday at 2 p.m.

Then on Sunday, a special church service will be held in the chapel at 9:30 a.m. The Gospel Choir and College Choir will perform.

At 2 p.m. on Sunday, the ACC Contemporary Band along with neighboring high school band, will perform on center campus.

The fraternities will hold open house all day Saturday.

Brooks to Read Her Poetry

Gwendolyn Brooks, the renowned black poet, will be a guest at ACC Wednesday, Nov. 11, through the sponsorship of the Concert, Lecture and Convocation Committee. Ms. Brooks is the Poet Laureate of Illinois and a Pulitzer Prize winner. She has written over 15 books and has received numerous awards and honors including over 40 honorary degrees.

On Wednesday morning, Ms. Brooks will participate in the Honors English class at 10 a.m. by giving a presentation and answering questions. The class will be held in Hardy Alumni Hall and is open to all interested persons.

Ms. Brooks will give a reading of her poetry at 8 p.m., also in Hardy Alumni Hall. Following this program, she will answer questions. A reception is being held in her honor at 9:15 p.m. in the gallery of the Art Building. It will be hosted by the English Club and the Afro-American Awareness Society. The events are open to ACC students and the surrounding community.

Prof. Gattis Honored

Sarah B. Gattis, social science professor at AC, has been recognized by the Pi Gamma Mu International Honor Society in Social Science for her contributions to the AC chapter of the society.

Gattis applied for the AC charter 13 years ago, and since that time 266 members have been initiated. Because the chapter has sponsored many activities and guest lecturers, it has appeared on the International Roll of Distinction four years and the Roll of Merit five years.

According to International president, Scott D. Johnston, "Few persons approach their Pi Gamma Mu duties with as much creativity and enthusiasm as does Professor Gattis."

"Good faculty officers are of primary importance in an effective chapter of Pi Gamma Mu," Johnston said.

Gattis is in the first group of faculty to receive this recognition established by Pi Gamma Mu trustee action in April.

Gattis was presented this award at the October faculty meeting.

Harold C. Doster, AC president, said, "This is a distinct honor and one which we are pleased to know has been awarded to Professor Gattis."

"She is extremely conscientious in her leadership with Pi Gamma Mu Chapter here on the Atlantic Christian College campus," he said.

The purpose of Pi Gamma Mu, according to the organization's handbook, is to improve scholarship in the social sciences and to achieve synthesis therein; to inspire social service to humanity by an intelligent approach to the solution of social problems; to engender sympathy toward others with different opinions and institutions by a better mutual understanding; and to supplement and to support, but not to supplant existing social science organizations by promoting sociability and attendance at meetings.

Pi Gamma Mu is a member of the Association of College Honor Societies on whose council it has representation.
