

Gapsules of the News

These are some of the stories which have made headlines during the past month.

Satellites

Russian scientists launched the first man-made satellite into outer space. This has caused the United States to step up its program. American scientists plan launching a satellite in December.

The Soviet earth satellite, launched in a north-to-south orbit, travels over 1800 miles an hour, circling the globe every 96.2 minutes, 560 miles out in space.

Sputnik, the name given the satellite, is reportedly sending messages back to Soviet scientists in a code which American scientists have been unable to decipher.

France

A "no confidence" vote tumbled this nation's 23rd post-war government. Premier Maurice Bourges-Maunoury lost by 26 votes when he presented to the French Assembly his plan to give Algeria limited home rule in an attempt to end rebellion which has raged for nearly three years.

At present, President Rene Coty is seeking a premier to form a new cabinet.

Asiatic Flu

Asiatic flu in many parts of the United States has been classified as an epidemic.

Several colleges, including Wake Forest, North Carolina College at Durham, and Winston-Salem Teachers College, have reported outbreaks of influenza.

A panel of medical experts has agreed that mass flu vaccination is of little value.

The consensus of the group: Don't worry about getting vaccinated; you're probably better off without it. If you get flu, go to bed and treat the symptoms.

Integration

Federal troops remain on duty as nine Negro students attend classes at Little Rock's Central High School. No progress seems to have been made in removing the troops.

Little Rock churches held special prayer services in an effort to relieve the tension.

Union county in South Carolina has allocated over $1,000 to purchase machineguns if federal troops attempt to enforce integration there.

Labor Unions

James Hoffa, the target of corruption and racketeering charges, was elected president of the teamsters' union at the convention in Florida.

The election of the mid-west union boss who succeeds Dave Beck means almost certain expulsion of the teamsters, the nation's largest labor union, from the AFL-CIO. The parent federation has called for Hoffa's ouster in the wake of charges that he has misused union funds and power.

An injunction to block the elections at Miami Beach, filed by 13 New York teamsters, was denied by the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals for D. C. and the Supreme Court. They charged that the ballots had been rigged in favor of Hoffa.

Some of the records subpoenaed by the Senate Rackets Committee reportedly have been burned.

World Series

The Milwaukee Braves won the 1957 baseball world championship by defeating the world champion New York Yankees.

The Braves won the title in the seven-game series and their first pennant since moving to Milwaukee.

Lew Burdette pitched the deciding game.

Program

Under the co-operative programs special consideration is given Bennett graduates so that they may continue their studies without interruption or delay.

Though the opportunities under this program are considerable, a student retains the choice of attending any graduate or professional school.

The Inquiring Reporter

Roving and inquiring is my business. This month, as I roved and inquired, I received the following replies from Bennett Sisters I questioned on . . .

"What is your opinion of the Arkansas situation?"

CHARLOTTE PICKERING, 61, of Sumter, S. C.: "I think that the young Negro students of Little Rock have exhibited remarkable spirit and have set the example for those who may be faced with the same situation."

HIAWATHA FOSTER, '59, of Charlotte, N. C.: "I believe that it will go down in history as an ugly moment on the part of a southern governor who was too ignorant to realize the integrity of the judicial decision of the United States Government."

"I think that Eisenhower could not have done a better thing than sending federal troops to Central High."

To the question: "Would You Like Bennett if it were a large school?"

PEGGY ALEXANDER, '61, Fort Pierce, Florida: "No, because there wouldn't be as much emphasis on the individual."

Winifred Lee, '58, Akron, Ohio: "NO, the individual attention you get is much better than that which you would get at a large school and you can secure a family atmosphere while receiving an education here at Bennett."
