PSYCHOANALYSIS BY MAIL

Dear Dector Sisters,

my dear friend, Bennett College, either just up and gone or rapidly passing so rapidly away into death.

I realize that Mr. B. C., as he is affectionately called, has been suffering for a long time from the inability to use his body due to a "traditional" ailment known as Statemate. (scientific term - alotofhywash - caused by retrogression of the body muscles.)

snapped also is almost more than is known as shock therapy. After adjustment skills. I can bear. Poor dear, Mr. B. C. is this treatment, it is suggested that I am appalled at the thought of losing all his "facilities". They have leaving. I can understand, however, that he would be under ter- he understand his problem both rific mental strain.

> Sincerely Appalled.

Dear Appalled,

But to find that his mind has into reacting to his problem. This actions and trade them for NEW you try psychobiology and instruct suffering from apathy and de-Mr. B. C. that it is important that lusions of grandeur. physical and psychological. After I close, madam. the nature of the emotion provoking situation is identified, the therapist suggests that the patient be helped to face the situation without extreme motion. He must elimi- | Corresponding Secretary Mr. B. C. must first be shocked nate all undesirable emotional re- Andrea Mast

It is my firm belief that he is

Hoping that I have been of aid,

Respectfully Yours, Sisters, Ph.D., and humanitarian

REAL SHARP

"Yes," said the scissors grinder happily, "this has been my biggest year. I've never seen things so dull."

Learning is like mercury, one of the most powerful and excellent things in the world in skillful hands; in the unskillful, the most mischievous.

