

Dormitories playing flag football

by Beverly Bernard

Dormitories are playing each other in flag football.

Flag football is a freshman at Bennett. This is its first semester at Bennett College, said Vivian L. Fuller, instructor in Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

Flag football started its season Sept. 9. Some of the immediate reaction that came from girls about playing flag football was, "I don't know," "maybe," "I'll have to think about it" and point blank "NO"!!, said Ms. Fuller.

"Though it was quite confusing, we still ended up with the following teams," said Ms. Fuller: Player Hall, Reynolds Hall, Barge and Merner Hall, Cone Hall and Pfeiffer Hall. Their standings as of Sept. 29 are as follows:

League Standings	Won	Lost
1 place—Player Hall	4	0
2 place—Pfeiffer Hall	2	1
3 place—Cone Hall	1	2
4 place—Barge and Merner Hall	0	2
5 place—Reynolds Hall	0	3

Ms. Fuller said that all the girls have played extremely well, although, for some, flag football was a new experience. As of Sept. 29 two weeks were left and "a lot could happen," said Ms. Fuller.

Flag football is similar to regular football. The only differences are the game is played with flags, the field is 180 by 80 feet long and a few of the rules and regulations are different. The object of the game is passing.

Ms. Fuller said flag football is played with the same signals as regular football. Scoring is also the same:

Touchdown—six points
Field Goal—three points
Safety—two points
Point after Touchdown — one point

There are nine players on the field at one time, but if both teams agree you can go out with seven players, said Ms. Fuller.

There will be 10 minutes for each quarter and three minutes for rest between quarters. A toss of the coin decides which team puts the ball in play.

Ball in play means the team with the ball kicks it off to start the game in action. The ball is put in play at the beginning of the game, after a touchdown and at the beginning of third quarter.

A fumbled ball is dead and belongs to the team that fumbled the ball at the spot where the ball was fumbled. A downed ball is when the opponent has to touch the player carrying the ball with both hands in order for the ball to be called dead. First down is when the team with the ball does not score 10 yards in four plays. Then the ball goes to the opponents.

There is a 15-yd. penalty for

Player Hall versus Barge Hall in a hard game of flag football.

Photo by Terence Marable

pushing, tackling, shoving, tripping, holding or roughing another player. There is also a 15-yd. penalty for blocking, off-side and pass interference.

The officials will include a referee, an umpire and a linesman.

Player Hall has been forfeited to twice, because said Ms. Fuller, Reynolds Hall said they didn't have enough players and Cone Hall didn't know they were supposed to play.

Ms. Fuller said, "Player Hall can be beaten if the other teams get their strategy together."

All flag football games will be played on the field behind the gym, Tuesday-Thursday at 5:00 p.m.

PLACEMENT RECRUITMENT CALENDAR*

Oct. 9

Iowa State University Ames, Iowa	9:00-4:00	English majors
Rutgers University, MBA	2:00-5:00	Business and accounting majors

Oct. 11

Dept. of Navy (CAPSO-n)	9:00-4:00	Sophomore and junior business and accounting majors
-------------------------	-----------	---

Oct. 18

Proctor and Gamble Cincinnati, Ohio	9:00-4:00	Chemistry majors
--	-----------	------------------

Oct. 24

J. C. Penney Milwaukee, Wis.	9:00-4:00	Business administration, biology, chemistry, math, and accounting majors
---------------------------------	-----------	--

Scarritt College for Christian Workers	1:00-3:00	All majors
---	-----------	------------

*There may be additions to this schedule so please check with the Placement Office and sign-up.

All seniors and juniors are required to register with the Career Services Center office before signing up for interviews. All senior education majors' folders must be completed by Jan. 12, 1979. December 1979 graduates are requested to register so they can interview for the second semester. Students are expected to be on time for appointments. Please contact the Career Services Center office 24 hours in advance if it becomes necessary to cancel an appointment. Sign up for all interviews one week in advance to recruitment date. Literature and application forms from recruitment agencies are available in the Placement Office. PREPARATION IS A MUST!!! Consult the literature of companies in which you are interested for locations of their branch offices and plants and for information about the company. Watch for additions, cancellations and changes in recruiting dates. All interviews are conducted in the Student Union.

McAuley: volleyball takes dedication

Team gets new coach

by Beverly Rumley

Germaine Y. McAuley, from Troy, North Carolina, is the new volleyball coach.

McAuley gave several reasons for accepting the job. First of all, she feels that coaching here will be a good experience. Also, she prefers coaching on the college level rather than the high school level. She said she was also learning about budgeting and traveling.

So far, McAuley likes it here and is adjusting to new personalities. The only problem that she has run into is the fact that she attends classes at High Point College during the day. By the time she gets here for practice the Business Office is closed and it is hard to communicate with them.

McAuley is looking forward to a good season though she is dealing with a "young and inexperienced team." McAuley says the team is in a "rebuilding" stage.

McAuley was a volleyball player for High Point College. She says Bennett girls need to become more competitive and need to be more dedicated. McAuley says, "You have to push yourself to be an effective volleyball team." She also stresses drills, hard work, communication, concentration and most of all dedication. McAuley wants her team to come in ready to play and be willing to take what she dishes out. McAuley says if the girls follow her instructions and listen to her, these girls will be good. "After all," she says, "Rome wasn't built in a day."

Volleyball team: 1 win, 3 losses

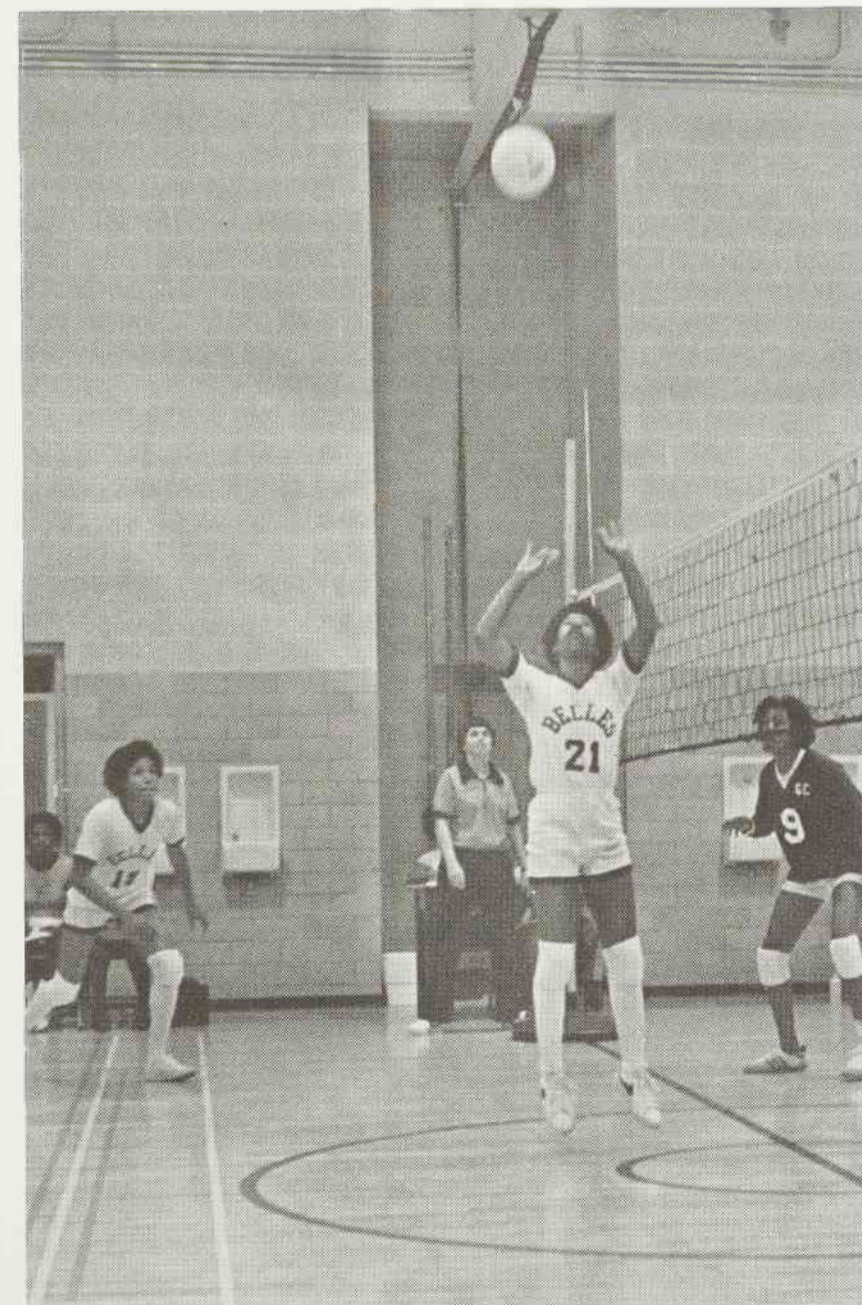

After 4 games, the volleyball team has a record of one win and three losses.

The team traveled to Gardner-Webb for a tri-match competition Sept. 21. Despite the fine play of freshman Portia Dixon and sophomore Veta Covert, the team lost to Gardner-Webb 2-1 and to UNC-Charlotte 2-0.

"The lack of floor communication," according to sophomore Alice Costin, was one of the reasons for the losses.

A large and enthusiastic crowd turned out for the first home game Sept. 28. In a team effort, the Belles beat Greensboro College 3-1. "I was so happy at the support shown by the student body," said sophomore Veta Covert, who felt the crowd helped them to play better.

In the fourth game, Wingate College defeated the Belles at home 3-1 Sept. 29.

Alice Costin sets the ball as Veta Covert gets ready to return it to an opposing Greensboro College team.

Photo by Terence Marable

Children visit fair on Kindergarten Day, see animals, exhibits, TV personalities

Television personalities, real live animals and a variety of exhibits greeted the children from the Children's House in their visit to the Greensboro Agricultural Fair on Sept. 27, Kindergarten Day.

Greensboro television personality, the Old Rebel, met the children when they arrived. Another TV personality, Sparky the Bear, the replacement for Smokey, was represented by a man in a bear suit and entertained the children.

One highlight of the trip was the visit to the animal enclosure where the children were allowed to pet some of the animals. They were particularly interested in the cow who was accompanied by a new-born calf.

Children from all over the area attended for the special day.

Esther M. Underwood, director of the Children's House, said that several parents participated in the event, assisting with transportation and supervision. They were Mr. and Mrs. Larry D. Poole, Mrs.

Evans Booker and Mrs. Donald Martin. Ms. Underwood and Cora H. Macomson, assistant director of the Children's House provided overall supervision.

Two students helped out on the trip: Pat Hudgins, a junior majoring in special education and Norva Morrison, a senior majoring in early childhood education.

Gaspeny likes teaching at women's college

(Continued from Page 4)

lively and logical fashion for all classes.

Gaspeny says "I enjoy teaching women because I think that women are a great civilizing influence on the world, and I also think that women are only a partially developed national resource."

Both Fuller and Gaspeny are pleased by the friendly atmosphere of the college.