Jambons is jammin

Christine Lewis
Banner Copy Editor

It appears as a flower would, blooming on the first day of Spring. Our facial expressions were probably abnormal, on sight, but considered normal after just having to read some of the names of the dishes at, Jambons Grille & Smokehouse. Jambons "Blooming Onion," is an appetizer that they serve, that with no doubt you want to try it because of its name.

This decor would leave you with every bit of anticipation on what was going to be served on the menu. You receive a sense of wilderness with the creative style of decor. At the table, was matchless varieties of sauces and spices created by the Jambons cooks. My eyes got big and jokes flew across the table after just exploring the menu. Creative, although unusual were the pictures of the different animals that can be served as a dish.

Starting out the evening with a glass of water and sweetened tea, was a breeze in mind and in service. After minutes of sweating, I decided to get something that I had been familiar with in taste and looks.

It goes by the name of "Jambons Smokehouse Ham sandwich" with cheddar with barbecue beans, waffled fries and a side of spiced rice ($6.95). Grilled and sliced to the bone was the ham.

Everything is either grilled, smoked, or blackened at Jambons restaurant and everything that I had was good. The food is reasonably priced and will most definitely fill you up. The portions of one meal can feed two people. Very friendly and helpful waitresses and waiters, indeed. Come and enjoy a great meal at Jambons restaurant. Jambons is located on 5513 W. Market St.

Music review

"Spearhead" uniquely funky

Crystal Simenton
Managing Editor

A new music group, "Spearhead" has made its debut on the hip hop scene and with their talent and styl. They will definitely grab your attention.

Their debut album "Home" is a soulful, jazzy, hip hop collection of sounds. The group, draped with dread locks and funky, bagging clothes, are part of the black youths today that are aware of their African roots and aren't afraid to show them. Their mixture of music and hip hop rap lyrics promotes their views well. Much like the group Arrested Development, Spearhead's style includes various types of music including, Rap, Reggae, Jazz, and R&B. On the track entitled "People in the Middle," samples of all types of music can be heard. The other 12 singles are each unique and filled with knowledge about and for the Black youths. Spearhead's album, now in stores, is a conscious awakening masterpiece that brings the blackrace "Home."
