The Editor's Job

Most anyone can be an editor. All you've got to do is sit at a desk twelve months in the year and edit such stuff as this:

"Mrs. Jones, of Cactus Creek, let a canopener slip last week and cut herself in the pantry."

"A mischievous lad of Piletown threw a stone and struck Mr. Pike in the alley last Tuesday."

"Joe Doc climbed on the roof of his house last week, looking for a leak, and fell, striking himself on the back porch."

"While Harold Green was escorting Miss Violet Wise from the church social last Saturday night a savage dog attacked them and bit Mr. Green several times on the public square."

"Ike Trimmer, of Running Creek, was playing with a cat Friday when it scratched him on the veranda."

Mr. Fond, while harnessing a horse last Saturday, was kicked just south of the corn-crib."—Winchester Leader.

All Day Long

Grumble? No, what's the good? If it availed, I would; But it doesn't a bit, Not a bit.

Laugh? Yes, why not? 'Tis better than crying, a lot; We were made to be glad, Not sad.

Sing? Why, yes, to be sure; We shall better endure If the heart's full of song All day long.

Tonight the Blanketeers go to Greensboro for a game with White Oak, the second of a series, the last scheduled game there being rained out.

Just Stand Aside

Just stand aside and watch yourself go by;

Think of yourself as "He" instead of "I."

Pick flaws; find fault; forget the man is you,

And strive to make your estimate ring true.

The faults of others will then dwarf and shrink,

Love's chain grows stronger by one mighty link,

When you "He" as substitute for "I"

Have stood aside and watched yourself go by.

Selected.

Sis: "Was Mabel in a bright red frock at the dance?"

Bud: "Some of her, sis, some of her."
