Shelton-Lovett Marriage Announced

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Lovett, of Jonesville, announce the marriage of their daughter, Pauline, to Mr. Henry Marshall Shelton, of Elkin. The wedding took place in Chatham, Va., May 11, with the Rev. H. B. Hardaway, pastor of the Chatham Baptist church, officiating.

Mr. Shelton is the son of H. C. Shelton, and the late Mrs. Shelton, of Danville, Va. Both are employed in the Packing department of the Finishing plant.

Mr. and Mrs. Shelton are at home temporarily with the bride's parents in Jonesville.

Miss Greenwood Weds Guy Mathis

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Greenwood, of Rural Hall, announce the marriage of their daughter, Sara Edna, to Guy Watson Mathis, of Rural Hall and Elkin.

The marriage ceremony was performed at Stuart, Va., April 20, with the Rev. Mr. Elliott, of the First Baptist church, officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Mathis will make their home with the bride's parents for the time being.

Mr. Mathis is employed in the Cloth department of the Finishing Plant.

Soft Ball Makes Debut May 21st

The Chatham All-Star soft ball team defeated the Hanes Hosiery team 13-7 in the first game of the season, May 21. Batteries were Cothren and Judd. A home run was made by Clyde Cothren. This team will meet the Hanes Hosiery team at Winston-Salem Sunday, June 2. Departmental soft ball games are being planned and a schedule will be worked out soon.

PACKING DEPT.

Look out: Bill Minnish is already driving for Ruth Allred. Baby, are they rating? But Bill says, "It 'twarn't fair 'cause Sue Southern was along."

We are sorry to report the death of Ruth and Thurman Allred's grandmother.

Miss Jessie Smith spent Sunday in Greensboro.

Since Harvey got married, he won't tell us a thing to write about him.

Helen Briggs visited her sisters in Winston-Salem over the week-end.

Congratulations are in order for Mr. and Mrs. Henry Shelton. Mrs. Shelton was Miss Pauline Lovett, of this department. Henry also comes in our class. We wish for them a long and happy life.

There is a new face up in the storage room. They told me his name was Charles Hanes. Welcome, Charles.

Pete, we wish you would find out if there is any scandal or any news up there where you work. You are all a part of the Packing department. A very important part at that.

Words to the Wise . . .

"Good times in manufacturing have an important effect in all other branches of our economy. A job in industry, producing goods and services, is a guarantee that other jobs are being indirectly created in supplying, selling, retailing, and in other occupations. So, while we cannot fairly expect industry to solve all our problems, it is proper to look with considerable interest at what manufacturing seeks to accomplish in the way of increasing opportunities."—Harry Collins Spillman.

"You can't accomplish much just by sitting still and waiting for something to happen. So industry spends much of its time and much of its income in searching for new things, new ideas, new products. This process is called industrial research. Thousands of companies in every part of the United States maintain research laboratories, where inventors and scientists seek new products and perfect ones that we are using today. Last year, American industry spent over $200,000,000 in research work alone."—Dr. John Richelson.

Did You Know . . .

That, according to predictions in research circles, 25 per cent. of the textiles that will be used in this country five years from now will be made from materials not at present on the market?

That the outdoor advertising industry in America each year distributes more than $30,000,000 in payrolls?

That one U. S. manufacturing company alone buys 150,000 bushels of corn a day from the farmer?

That federal government job-holders now exceed in number all the workers in private construction and in all transportation—land, sea, and air—in the United States?

That the average cost of an electric refrigerator was $550 back in 1921, and that research and mass production methods have combined to bring that average down to $169 at the present time?

The present war has proved that the battleship is no match for the airplane.

For Rent or Sale: Radios, flashlights, watches, or anything that can be used on a week-end party. Our rates are reasonable even if we have to do overtime worrying for articles not returned on time.
