HOUSE ORGAN TO BE PUBLISHED

This mimeographed sheet is a feeble effort--but an effort--to start the publication of a House Organ here at Ecusta. This undertaking will require cooperation and work on the part of a number of people. We will need staff men, rewrite men, cartoonists, reporters in every department, and the good will and cooperation of every employee.

The aim of the paper will be to create and foster an atmosphere of good fellowship and cooperation among the employees of the various corporations located at Pisgah Forest, to promote a better understanding and bring closer together the management and the employees.

We solicit your help and your suggestions in this undertaking. If you have an idea that you think is worthwhile, pass it on to us. We will welcome any constructive criticism you have to offer.

If you know of any news or have in mind an article that you think would be of general interest, write it up and send it along for the next issue. Maybe you know of personal items of interest, a humorous story or a joke. Maybe you can write a good poem.

Don't depend on someone else to gather the news for the paper, but jump in and lend a helping hand, and make this your paper.

The next issue will be ready for distribution around March 1st. All contributions should be left at the personnel office not later than February 21st. All articles or items must be signed by the contributor.

BE SAFETY MINDED

Let's each remember that the matter of safety is the business of every member of the company.

It is the aim of the Ecusta Paper Corporation to make its plant as safe a place as possible for you to work. Every employee should, and is expected to cooperate to the fullest extent by avoiding taking any chances of an accident to himself or fellow worker, and further by reporting immediately to his foreman any hazard which may come to his attention.

Do not let an opportunity go by to prevent someone being hurt by thinking someone else will report this hazard, for he may feel the same as you; consequently no report, and the danger remains.

Make it a part of your business to protect yourself and others of us who are a part of the Ecusta family, and let's strive for as near a no loss of time from accidents as possible. Be a part of the safety program of your company. If our employees are enough interested in our well-being to do everything possible to protect us, we should in turn do our part to make our place of work a safe, comfortable and pleasant place of employment.

For assistance in publishing this issue we are indebted to Mr. H. H. Straus, Mr. Lee Bauer, Mr. W. P. Tyndall; Mr. H. F. Fink, Mr. W. P. Jordan, Dr. Chas. L. Newland, and Bob Clayton.

We want to express our appreciation for their cooperation.
