

Warehouse Personnel

(Ed. Note: This article was written in order to help the employees of the different departments to become better acquainted with one another.)

When you go to the Store Room across the tracks with a requisition for machinery parts, tools, oils or what have you, are you able to address the stock clerks by name? Do you know about their personalities and their hobbies? Have you ever considered them as individuals with particular characteristics?

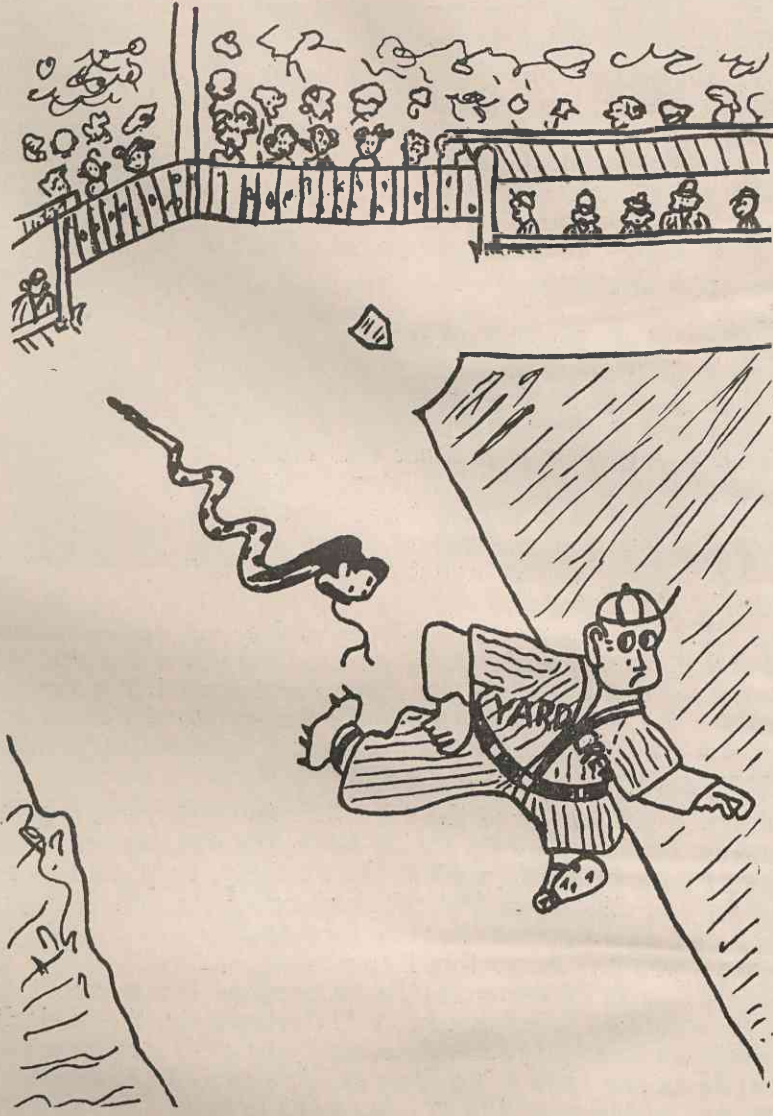

For instance, not many people know that our storekeeper, Augustine Washington Tucker, Jr. ("Gus" to you) was born in Shanghai, China, and lived there during his childhood. After coming to America, he attended the University of Virginia where he received his degree in engineering. Later he was affiliated with J. Sirrene & Company of Greenville and came to Brevard during the construction of Ecusta. The climate around here and the trout in our mountain streams were so much to Mr. Tucker's liking that he left Sirrene & Company and became a permanent employee of the Ecusta Paper Corporation. Beware: All Rainbow Trout! For Gus likes the out-of-doors and is as ardent a fisherman as can be found in Western North Carolina. He is never more contented than when he is fishing in a mountain stream. As a sideline to his fishing Gus spends some of his spare time raising shrubbery. Gus, Mrs. Tucker and Gus 3rd make their home on Park Avenue in Brevard.

Did you know that Harvey Leonard Souther, better known as "Benny" keeps a detailed record of every article that goes in and out of the stock room, and that he was one of the first employees in the Ecusta Store Room? Mr. Souther is a native of Transylvania County and was with the Govt. Forestry Service before coming to Ecusta. Benny is an excellent sportsman with a particular fondness for baseball. He is a star player on one of the Inter-Departmental baseball teams. Mr. Souther can also be seen often at the bowling alleys where he can chalk up a score as good as the next one.

The easiest way to attract Receiving Clerk Harry Blake's attention is to mention dogs or guns. He says his favorite occupations are "working and hunting", and he hunts "anything from rabbits to bears". One of the plant's Beau Brummels, he can be seen driving the girls around the countryside most any day. Incidentally, Mr. Blake and Mr. Souther are brothers-in-law. A very congenial and friendly person,

GUESS WHO?

Charles "Whitey" Russell

Harry hails from Selica, and once you make his acquaintance you won't easily forget him.

A native North Carolinian, Mr. James F. Aycock was an experienced electrician and tool room man with Huntington and Gary before coming to Ecusta. Now he is an indispensable member of the stock room force, being directly responsible for filling requisitions that come in from the various departments.

The newest employee in the store room is Bob Peckham, of Biltmore Forest, Asheville, N. C., who has been here only a month. However, he has already entered into activities wholeheartedly and has made many friends. He can often be seen playing ping pong on the cafeteria porch until the last minute and then dashing off to work as the whistle blows. Bob is a former student of Washington and Lee University, so here is naturally a keen sense of rivalry between him and Gus Tucker. They have already made their bets on this season's Washington & Lee-University of Virginia football game.

If a man does not know to what port he is steering, no wind is favorable to him.—Seneca.

REFINING "A" ADOINGS

Jack (Tobacco) Rhodes is teaching the boys the "Jumping Jive" since he moved to Hendersonville . . . Enno Camenzind tells us that he saw the Ethiopians eating horse meat during the Italian conquest, but that he would hate to see an army that had to eat the sandwiches that Peters has been bringing on "Graveyard" . . . We can't understand why "Bud" White is so conceited since Coach put him in the outfield; he's no Dominic Dimaggio even if he does wear glasses . . . Thad Newman claims that he is a descendant from Paul Revere,, we can't see the resemblance; but we didn't know the horse . . . Two months ago Taft Raxter agreed to pay S. Lyda $25.00 every time he took a drink. Since then Mr. Lyda has bought a house and a car . . . Rhett (Butler) Talley is drawing house plans for "Speedy" Jones, who is the (un) lucky girl? . . . Bob Duckworth has given up his "fiddle" for a cook book and a chalk line . . . Homer Raxter writes from Camp Wallace, Texas, "Temperature 110, ceiling 0, visibility 0, freeness 99, temperament (not printable).

PULP "C" CHA

D. S. Winchester, chlorinator operator, caught in the draft from Fort Sill, Okla. and Carl Bryson, another chlorinator operator, had a thing under control like to be back at Ecusta another whiff of that chlorine gas.

Shift "C" has been several cigars here. Fred Yelton and Oscar son are the proud baby girls. Earl Leven beaming as he passed around for his was a baby boy. Congratulations.

Our pre-digester co. Baker, has taken up for a hobby; from reports he is expecting enough corn to try and next year.

We read the following of morale, it is for the benefit of the ale is when a man's company is the best in the world, his department in the plant, his shift in the department, and is the best damn man on shift.

There is a rumor of a helper in the bleach ing to Florida before careful Avery, that moon will get you.

Seen in passing: Patrick with a worn Kermit Chandler gave a cave man act. Paul ing how he landed the fish. Paul Merck with smile. Charlie White hurry. And, someone "There's more pretty one".

So long, till next issue

OFFICE B

Mildred Carpenter recuperating from a bronchial pneumonia home in Newton, N.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete motored to Pittsburgh visit with friends and "Pete" reports clear Pittsburgh and a clear

Ford Murray, accompanied by his wife and two spent three days at Beach, S. C.

Margaret Hannan returned from a week in New York. She a most pleasant trip Washington from New York and returned

Charles Allen will one week to enroll Forest College. Charles to study for Church tional work.

Leonard Bauer August 25th after two weeks visiting in New Britain, Conn.

With some people an evening. With invest it.