

Feminine News-Views

SOCIALS - FASHIONS - RATIONING, SEWING AND COOKING HINTS

BY LUCILLE ROBERTS, At The Library

Miss Huskamp And Private Pickelsimer Married In Brevard

Miss Annette C. Huskamp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Huskamp, of Brevard became the bride of Pfc. James B. Pickelsimer, of Fort Sill, Okla., son of Mr. and Mrs. Jessie B. Pickelsimer, of Brevard, in an impressive ceremony June 5, at 6 P. M. at the Brevard Methodist church.

The church was beautifully decorated with white gladioli and mountain laurel. The Rev. W. A. Jenkins, pastor officiated, using the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Mary Glass, organist, and John D. Eversman, violinist, played the wedding music.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Miss Virginia Huskamp, sister of the bride, was maid-of-honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Betty Finck, Miss Ethel Tankersley, Miss Ethelyn Pickelsimer, of Brevard, and Miss Beth Buckner, of Chapel Hill. Lois Jayne Counsellor, of Baldwin, Long Island, N. Y., was the flower girl. John Rice Pickelsimer was his brother's best man. Ushers were Ernest Burch, Charles Allen, S. E. Varner, Jr. and Edwin C. Wike.

An informal reception was held at the home of the bride's parents immediately following the ceremony.

Mrs. Pickelsimer is a graduate of Brevard high school and attended Brevard College. Pfc. Pickelsimer is a graduate of Brevard high school, Brevard College and Christ School and attended Alabama Polytechnical School in Auburn, Ala. He is stationed at Fort Sill, Okla., where the couple will reside.

TIMESAVERS

Anchoring Clothes on Hangers—Wrap an old fruit jar ring around each end of a woolen dress hanger. Then clothes will not slip off.—Mrs. I. O. I., North Dakota

Easy Pin Feathering — Add a heaping tablespoon of baking soda to the scalding water in which you dip a fowl for picking. It then takes only a little rubbing to have the pin feathers vanish.—Mrs. A. A. M., Oklahoma.

Cut Cleaning Time — Do not waste time scouring burned pots and pans. Cover the burned spot with kitchen cleaning powder and put pan away for several days. The burned substance will then flake off without any scouring on your part.—J. C., New York

Another Method — If the food accidentally burns on a saucepan, sprinkle with salt and allow it to remain for a few hours. The burned part will then wash away quite easily, without any scouring, unless it has eaten into the surface.—Mrs. O. N. K., Oregon

Green Corn Seasoning—For the green corn season, fill a shaker with a salt and pepper mixture for table use. About 1-8 teaspoon of pepper to 1 of salt is a popular proportion.—R. M. R., Penn.

Quickly Opened—Insert a short piece of string in paraffin when covering jelly; when you wish to remove it, the top will come off in one piece.

Save Yourself — Save yourself and entertain the children. After waxing floors, let the children put on worn-out woolen socks and use the floor as a skating rink.

Miss Huskamp Weds Private Pickelsimer

Shown above is Mrs. James B. Pickelsimer, who was before her marriage on June 5th at the Brevard Methodist church, Miss Annette Huskamp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Huskamp, of Brevard.

Now Is The Time To: Twelve Ways You Can Save On Soap

- Mow the lawn.
- Dodge poison ivy.
- Bury some gladioli bulbs.
- Eat some strawberry shortcake.
- Put some pennies on grandpa's grave.

Tell Junior he's just as much a soldier raising food as if he were a few years older and piloting a bomber.

Air winter clothes again.

Get out last year's bathing suit and wash the winter's repose from it's crevices.

Give the ice box a good cleaning—inside and out.

Take tin cans to salvage depot.

Take the rays of the sun by degrees and apply sun-tan oil.

Answer the letters you got this week.

Check on the birthdays you must remember this month.

Try that new recipe to give variety to your night's meal.

Have needed repairs done on your shoes—they all are to be treated as Sunday best in times like these.

Weed the garden.

Yes, Really, You Can Make Them

A ruffled neckline is pretty and it will make you even prettier . . . A rippled skirt is something you'll love. Press the seams open, then press them again so that each forms a ridge on the inside. Result: deep ripples. Try it sometime . . . The charm of a jumper dress lies not only in its smartness,

1. Unwrap bar soap and let it dry out—it will not melt so fast in water.
2. Soak clothes in clear cool water; rub suds only into very dirty spots such as collars and cuffs.
3. Use the right soap for the job; mild for delicate fabrics, stronger for other clothes.
4. Put washing machine in motion before adding soap.
5. Save bits of laundry soap, add boiling water to make a thin jelly; use for laundry or cleaning.
6. To wash windows, use any good commercial preparation.
7. Soak pans as soon as food is removed.
8. Before washing dishes and pans, clean off grease with used paper napkins, fruit wrappers, or newspapers.
9. Rinse all dishes in clear water before washing.
10. If you use bar soap, be sure the soap-dish drains.
11. Starch children's clothes, shirts, house-dresses, aprons, table linen so they won't get dirty so quick.
12. Make bath mitts of old towels to use bits of soap.

but in the fact that you can freshen it up effortlessly by changing the blouse. With three blouses it will seem like three dresses . . . One dark dress is a must. For cool, grey days, it will look just right. Conservation note. Take any dress of which you are a little weary and add the yoke, collar and bow of white sharkskin material. The result is good.

Ecusta Women Join B.&P.W. Club

Quite a few of the Ecusta employees have joined the newly organized chapter of the Business and Professional Women's Club, which is a national organization devoted to the promotion and adjustment of women's place in the world outside their own homes.

Once the club has completed its organization details, it will work not only independently but also with other clubs of the town on community interests.

First project to be proposed was that members offer to have themselves typed as possible blood donors at the Transylvania county hospital. The proposal was met with enthusiasm and inquiries are being made to facilitate and expedite the typing. This is, of course, a project not exclusively for the benefit of women but is indicative of the ideals and purposes of the club.

A number of types of work are represented in the membership and a fine relationship is anticipated between our own employees and members who come from other local industries and professions.

Your Guide To Daily Living

From Washington Bureau

No Frills—The best designers think the disappearance of more frills from women's clothes is all to the good.

War Ration Book 3—You'll get your war ration book 3 in a new way. Instead of waiting in line, as you did for your other ration books, you'll fill out an application form and mail it to your state ration board.

Summer Mildew—Mildew thrives best in damp, warm, dark places, like closets. Try opening your closet doors at night. Keep them closed during the day, because warm air striking the cool walls will make your closet damper than ever.

Sole Leather—It's possible that the government may rule that all sole leather must be treated with oil. The wear tests now in progress in Washington show that sole leather treated in this way wears half again as long as the ordinary kind.

Post-War Telephone—Engineers are working on a post-war telephone that will answer itself.

Soap Ration—Your soap ration will probably be around a pound and a half per person per month. That takes in tiolet soap, laundry soap, soap flakes, etc.

MARRIED IN PICKENS

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Heldred Mehaffey, daughter of Rev. H. W. Mehaffey and the late Mrs. Mehaffey, of Canton, to Pfc. Warren R. Alexander, son of Mrs. Julia Parker, of Brevard, R. F. D. No. 2. The wedding took place in Pickens, S. C., on May 11.

Mrs. Alexander is employed at Champion Paper and Fibre Co., at Canton and Warren, who is located at Camp Howze, Texas, was formerly employed as Vacuum Washer Operator at Ecusta.

"Dearest Annabella," wrote John, "I could swim the mighty ocean for one look into your blue eyes. I would walk through a wall of flame for a single touch of your tiny little hands. I would leap the deepest chasm for a word from your lovely lips. As always, your John."

P. S. "And if it isn't raining I'll be over tonight."