OILCLOTH STILL SCARCE — Oilcloth will remain in tight supply because resins needed for finishing it are restricted to more essential uses.

MORE FAT, MORE SOAP—At times during the war you probably have had to shop around for soap flakes and powders. Thanks to our current good supply of fats, this situation is now improving.

FOR CHRISTMAS OVERSEAS—Army and Navy rules for shipping unsolicited Christmas packages overseas are the same as for last year. But the correct addressing is more important than ever.

THINK BEFORE YOU JAUNT—Before you plan a pleasure junket for yourself remember it takes 356 passenger cars, 82 baggage cars and 900 freight cars just to move one infantry division of 15,000 men and their equipment.

NEW PITCH FOR NYLONS — For your post-war stockings, the aim is a stocking that fits better, looks better and wears better than any you ever had.

MORE ODDS AND ENDS — Small plants which has finished their war orders—or possibly are in between orders—are now permitted to use up excess materials on certain civilian items. This is why it is easier to get such things as egg beaters, can openers, lamp shades, metal coat hangers and wire products of all kinds.

TIME SAVERS

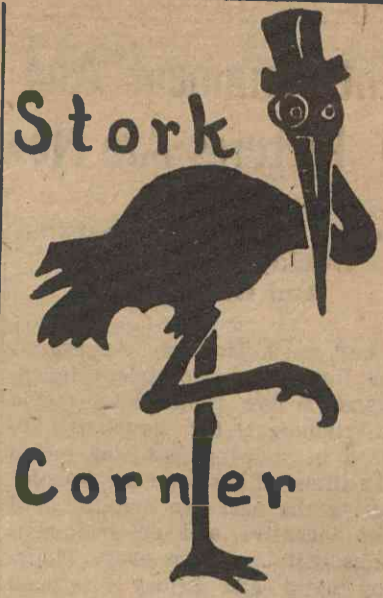

SWEATER DRYING — To dry a woolen sweater quickly and at the same time keep it in shape, place on a heavy Turkish towel and roll with a rolling pin, shaping as you roll. The sweater will become almost completely dry while you are still rolling, the seams will be flat and the surface will have a soft and lovely finish.—E. T., Utah.

IRONING HELP— A clean tea towel, pinned smoothly over my rolling pin, substitutes for a sleeveboard very satisfactorily. Both large and small sleeves can be ironed nicely and quickly on it.—Mrs. A. T. C., N. Y.

EASY MOVING — If heavy furniture must be moved and there is no second person to help, this is a satisfactory way to do it. There is little lifting, and there will be no scratches on the floor. Lift furniture on to an old rug or sack. Then pull it over to where you want it to be.—Mrs. O B., North Dakota.

OILING LOCK—To oil the lock on your door quickly and easily, dip the key in the oil, and turn it in the lock several times. This accomplishes the oiling with the least mess, and the least effort.—Mrs. P. V. S., N. Y.

QUICK CREAM WHIPPING — When you are in a hurry to whip cream, put crushed ice and salt in the lower section of your double boiler, and the cream in the upper section. The cream whips much quicker, and is almost frozen when ready to spread on cake or pie.—Mrs. J. E., Iowa.

Now Is The Time To:

Relax.
Kill flies.
Sow pansy seed.
Buy more war bonds.
Exclaim: "Such weather!"
Write brother

another V-mail letter.
Celebrate your wedding anniversary.

Sew those buttons on you have been putting aside.

Give paint-brush cleaner a chance at those brushes you left standing in water after you painted the kitchen.

Take time to try that new meat loaf recipe which you tucked neatly away in the old cook book; you won't be sorry.

GARDEN WORK TO DO NOW

From—Horticulture

WHEN pruning raspberries and blackberries be careful not to injure the young canes which are left to fruit next year.

WHEN digging potatoes avoid leaving them lie for hours in the sun. They should go into the soil, or better still, darkness, as soon as dry.

EVERGREENS can be transplanted toward the end of the month. Watering before lifting is important as that done after planting.

FRUIT NOT picked promptly, cucumbers will soon grow too large. In pickling, try not to miss the fruits which may be hidden in the foliage.

WHEN pulling up carrots remove the tops at once to preserve color and sugar content. Commercially grown offerings of carrots shipped with their tops intact contain 50 per cent more water than root ones. The latter are the ones to buy.

PANSY seeds should not be permitted to dry out after sowing. A mulch of burlap or thinly spread hay will help to keep the moisture in the seed-bed constant. The seedlings should be transplanted into a frame or other bed which they can be protected through winter. It is not too late to sow seeds.
