TIME SAVERS

SEPARATING STAMPS—Often in hot weather postage stamps stick together. They can be loosened and separated by placing a piece of paper over them, and running a hot iron quickly over the paper. Separate the stamps before the glue cools. — G. K. Nebraska.

MICE BAIT — If you do not have a piece of cheese for the mouse trap, try cotton. Mice like it for nesting purposes.—Mrs. B. M., Utah.

SALAD HINT — Citrus fruits which you plan to use for salads can be peeled easily if you soak the oranges or grapefruit in hot water for a few minutes. The segments also separate smoothly, and the white membrane can be removed without trouble. Chill fruit before serving.

SEWING HELP — Before starting hand sewing, I thread all available needles of the right size, and stick in a handy pin cushion. This saves much time, and makes the work more pleasant.—Mrs. I. R., Ohio.

SAVES DISH-WASHING — To save time and dish-washing when recipe calls for milk, measure dry ingredients with your cup first, and then use the same cup to measure the milk.—Mrs. W. E., West Virginia.
