

Employees In Service Pay Us A Visit

Pfc. Harry Johnson, of the first armored division, was stationed in Italy and Africa for 2½ years, after basic training at Ft. Knox. He wears the Good Conduct medal and a ribbon for the European theatre of operations with two stars for major engagements. Nov. 15, he visited the plant during a 21-day furlough. Pfc. Johnson reported to Asheville Redistribution center.

Staff Sgt. Conley McKinnish, an AM gunner on a B-24 Liberator bomber, has completed 30 bombing missions over occupied Europe. He went overseas in May, 1944; Oct. 24th he visited here. Prior to induction in September, 1942, Sgt. McKinnish was a Machine Room employee. He trained at Maxwell Field, Ala., Seymour Johnson, Goldsboro N. C., Ft. Myers, Fla., and Blythe, Calif. Sgt. McKinnish wears the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Air Medal with three oak leaf clusters and a ribbon for the European-Asiatic theatre with two stars for major engagements. After a 21-day furlough he reported to Miami, Fla., to a redistribution center.

Sgt. Vernon Reece, of the U. S. Army Infantry, visited Ecustans Oct. 25, during a 14-day furlough from Camp Van Dorn, Miss., where he is an instructor. Sgt. Reece was employed in the Gumming department of Champagne. He has been in the Army 29 months; his basic training was at Fort McClellan, Ala.

Staff Sgt. Clyde Rice, of the Army Air corps ground crew, has been stationed at Homestead, Fla., for two years. Recently he spent a 17-day furlough at home and visited Ecusta. Sgt. Rice had basic training and mechanic school at Gulfport, Miss. He services planes at his present station, Homestead, Fla.

Sgt. Jack Huggins, assigned to the Weather Wing of the Army Air corps, has been stationed at Foster Field, Tex., for 15 months. Before entering service in March, 1943, Sgt. Huggins was employed in the Engineering Office. He had basic training at Miami Beach, Fla., and weather school at Chanute Field, Ill.; he returned to Foster Field.

Staff Sgt. Sidney J. Hedden, assigned to a tank battalion of the Army, visited here Oct. 24. Prior to induction, July 19, 1942, he was employed in the Gumming Dept. of Champagne. Sgt. Hedden had basic training at Ft. Knox, Ky. and has been instructing at Ft. Knox, Ky., Camp Campbell, Ky., and at Camp Chaffee, Ark. He visited during a 15-day furlough and tells us that he expects overseas duty soon.

Pvt. Lester Brown, U. S. infantry, has just completed basic training at Camp Blanding, Fla. He was employed as a backtender in the Machine Room before entering the Army in June, 1944. He reported to Fort Meade, Md., for further assignment.

Buy War Bonds
TODAY
For Future Needs

He's In France

CPL. JAMES O'DELL SCOTT entered the Army Oct. 8th, 1943, at Ft. Jackson, S. C. He was stationed there until going overseas in March, '44. As Chaplain's assistant, he went to England, and later to France, where he is at present. Cpl. Scott was an ironer in the Endless Belt department.

Studying Gunnery

CARL THOMAS WATSON, S 2-c, is receiving gunnery training at the armed guard school in Norfolk, Va. Seaman Watson had boot training at Camp Peary, Va. Prior to entering the Navy, May 17, '44, he was a backtender in the Machine room.

Richard Lance, MoMM 2-c visited Nov. 13, 1944, on return from D-Day assignment on a PT boat "suicide squad." Seaman Lance visited Jan. 1944 after duty in the Atlantic on a "shake-down cruise." He wore 3 campaign ribbons: Suicide Squadron, American and European theatres of operations with two stars for major engagements. After a 30-day leave, he reported to Portsmouth, R. I. Prior to entering the Navy in March, 1943, he worked in Ecusta's Maintenance department.

DALE ORR, AMM 3-c, of the Naval Air corps, visited Oct. 25. Seaman Orr has been in service a year; at Ecusta he was a Landscape employee. He had boot training at Jacksonville, Fla., Aviation Machinist school, Memphis, Tenn., and additional training at Jacksonville, Fla. After a 9-day leave he reported to Camp Kerney, Calif.

Hensley In Navy

HERBERT LEE HENSLEY, boatswain's mate, 1-c, has been stationed at Charleston Navy Yard, S. C., for more than a year. Seaman Hensley has been in the Navy 26 months, since leaving Ecusta as a millwright. He also trained at Mayport, Fla.

Serving In Sea Duty

HASSIE McCRARY, gunner's mate, 2-c, is on duty in the Atlantic. He entered the Navy in April, '43. His boot training was at Bainbridge, Md. Prior to sea duty, he was stationed in Boston, Mass. Seaman McCrary visited in July.

Jack Alexander, Chief Specialist, former athletic director of Ecusta, visited Nov. 1st during a 21-day leave. He entered Naval service in March, 1942. Specialist Alexander had boot training at Norfolk, Va., and was stationed there 18 months. Since November, 1943, he had been assigned to an air station in the Hawaiian Islands. He reported to an Officers' Indoctrination school for two months. His wife accompanied him.

Ensign L. E. Reece, a former employee of the Machine room, returned to the states and visited Ecusta. Ensign Reece has been in the Navy for 20 months. He participated in two invasions in France, and was on Saipan. Ensign Reece returned to the states via the Mediterranean. His ship brought home service men on rotation.

Blue Jacket, Gus Groce, Hospital Apprentice, 2-c, reported to Shoemaker, Calif., after a 10-day leave from Hospital Corps school at Memphis, Tenn. Seaman Groce was employed in the Analytical Laboratory prior to entering the Navy in February, 1944. He also visited in April.

WITH HOSPITAL UNIT

Pvt. Roy L. Head is now in Italy with a hospital unit. He has been overseas almost a year and in the Army for 20 months. Pvt. Head was employed at Ecusta as a backtender in the Physical Laboratory. He trained at Camp Wheeler, Ga.

TAKING MEDICAL COURSE

Pvt. Miriam R. Poor of the Women's Army corps, formerly Ecusta Bleach Operator, is now attending the medical technical course at Wakeman General Hospital, Camp Atterbury, Ind. Seaman Poor has been stationed at the Training center at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga. Pvt. Poor entered service in August, 1944.

Suggestions

(From Page Eleven)

lather or produce lustre; the shampoo itself will take care of both. Towel drying is the next step and if you use a hair cream or brilliantine, use it next. Wash with comb and brush (in the shampoo) comb your hair smooth and then your curl rolling.

Curl rolling isn't difficult if you remember these things:

1. Each strand of hair used for a curl must be cleanly separated from the rest of the hair.
2. Each strand should be rolled in form in size to produce a uniform effect in a finished coiffure.
3. Each curl should be rolled with the hair ends in the center so the finished curl has the shape of a tiny cinnamon bun.
4. Each curl should be placed in its own square, not on top of another curl.
5. Each curl should be pinned carefully so as not to spoil roundness.
6. Large sections of hair produce large, loose curls; small sections, tiny tight curls.

Curls rolled, tie them up in a net or scarf to keep pins from falling out as your hair dries. When it is dry, brush it and comb it vigorously—do not be too gentle—then using a comb for tucking and your fingers for tucking stray ends, arrange your hair in a coiffure that from now on will release you from amateur styling.

Now Is The Time To

Be thankful
Read Psalm
121.
Put up a feeder.
Change to ter oil.
Plant h
lily bulbs.
Keep your credit good.
Overhaul the pancake griddle.
Give your wife a box of candy.
Bake your husband's favorite pie.
Clean out leaves from the spouts.
Buy another bond; it won't hurt.