Miss Neuberger Weds Marx At Church In Waynesville Recently

Miss Emmy Neuberger, daughter of Mrs. Ida Neuberger, of Brevard, was married to Frederick Marx, of Waynesville, in a ceremony at St. John's Catholic church in Waynesville at high noon on Monday, November 26.

Father Kennedy performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Neuberger and Mrs. Charles Sieber, sister of the bride, of Brevard, were among those who attended the wedding.

The bride wore a grey tailored suit, with hat in pale blue and accessories in black. Her corsage was of red roses.

Following the ceremony the couple, accompanied by the bride's mother and sister, returned to Brevard, where a buffet luncheon was given by Mrs. Ludwig Straus and Mrs. Paul Plaut at the Straus residence on Park avenue, honoring the newlyweds. The wedding march was played as the couple entered the home.

The dining table and the home were decorated with white flowers and burning white tapers. Pictures were taken by Mr. Plaut of the bride and bridegroom as they cut the wedding cake.

Mrs. Marx was recently employed in the Purchasing department of Ecusta.

After a short honeymoon trip the couple returned to make their home at Waynesville, where Mr. Marx is connected with the Well-Shoe corporation.

Brevard Couple Wed In Candlelight Ceremony At Presbyterian Church

Miss Ann Elizabeth Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lambert Morris, of Brevard, was married to Pfc. Harold Cauble Misenheimer, United States Marines, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Misenheimer, of Brevard, in a ceremony Friday night, December 8, at eight o'clock at the Brevard Presbyterian church.

Rev. Ashby Johnson, pastor, officiated. The church was decorated with greenery and yellow chrysanthemums interspersed with three seven-branched candelabra.

A program of wedding music was presented by John Eversman, violinist; Mary Glass, pianist; Mrs. Roy Whitley, vocalist, of Salisbury; and Miss Doris Porter, vocalist, of Pickens, S. C. Mrs. Whitley sang "I Love Your Truly" and "All For You," and Miss Porter sang "The Marines' Hymn." Mr. Eversman's solos were "Because," "At Dawning," "Meditation" from Thais, "Romance" from the Wieniawski violin concerto, and the Schubert "Ave Maria." The traditional wedding marches were used as the processional and recessional.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her cousin, Homer Raxter, wore a gown of ivory brocade moire, fashioned with sweetheart neckline, shirred waist, long pointed sleeves and full skirt, ending in a fan-shaped train. She wore a string of pearls and a two-tiered veil of bridal illusion, attached to a Juliet cap of lace and seed pearls. She carried a white Bible, covered with a white orchid, showered with white satin ribbons mingled with lily-of-the-valley.

Mrs. Allen Vaughn, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a blue moire gown, designed with a sweetheart neckline, a shirred bodice and full skirt. She carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums and wore matching flowers in her hair.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. James Avery, of Pickens, S. C., and Miss Wilma Henson of Wallaha, S. C., who were attired in taffeta gowns of rose and gold, respectively, made with sweetheart necklines. They carried bouquets of pink and bronze chrysanthemums with matching head-dresses of flowers.

The bride's train was borne by her niece, Betty Vaughn.

Mr. Misenheimer, father of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Roy Whitley, of Salisbury, and Charles N. Erwin, of Brevard.

Mothers of the bride and bridegroom wore black with corsages of red roses.

After the ceremony, an informal reception was given at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Allen Vaughn. The bridal table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake, topped with miniature bride and groom dressed in marine uniform. Around the cake were arrangements of greenery and white chrysanthemums. On either side were lighted tapers.

In the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. John Morris, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Misenheimer and the bride and bridegroom.

Mrs. Weldon Misenheimer, Mrs. Craig Misenheimer and the bridesmaids presided at the punch-bowl.

Mrs. Misenheimer is employed by Champagne as forelady in the Hand Booklet department.

Pfc. Misenheimer, who is now stationed in Norfolk, Va., is a former Champagne Gumming operator. He has recently returned from a long period of overseas duty with the Marines.
