

200 LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICERS FROM THIS SECTION VISIT ECUSTA

Shown above is a picture of the 200 law enforcement officers from 17 Western North Carolina counties and several upper South Carolina counties who attended the FBI conference held in this county on May 21. They were luncheon guests at Ecusta and inspected the plant. The photo was made in front of the Cafeteria.

Hello, folks—here come the C. C. Gag.

First comes Aunt Divola. Her new niece is Miss Glenda Parton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Parton. Mrs. Parton is the former Miss Dixie Cogdill. Congratulations, gal.

Now that the war is over in Europe, four of our gals are in much better spirits. We believe E. Stover has the highest hope of her sergeant returning soon. Hope none of you are disappointed.

We didn't know Henry could blush—well, maybe he didn't, but his face sure turned red Friday when asked by a very pretty girl from the office to write the "Chatter" in Mrs. Cox's absence.

We extend our sympathy to Walter Perkins in the death of his brother, Edgar Perkins, of Marion, N. C. He died near Knoxville, Tenn., May 6, of a heart attack.

My! we do get around. Bessie is taking her vacation, and with her father, Mr. Haskins, is visiting her sister in Knoxville, Tenn. Bessie, the rest of us miss you, and are glad these vacation things come only once a year.

Opal and young son, Glenn, spent a recent week-end in and near Atlanta, Ga., visiting her in-laws. She reports a very pleasant trip.

Mrs. Cox and Lucile are spending the week-end of 18th-20th in Augusta, Ga., visiting Mr. Cox.

Marjorie took a recent trip, but we didn't learn her destination.

Rabbit recently spent the week-end in Knoxville, Tenn. This demands explanation, Rabbit.

Mr. McCall is the best man among us, for he has been the cause of most of us attending church at one time or another, at the Second Baptist church in Brevard this week.

Well, we could tell you more, for we still have some folks unmentioned, but will endeavor to tell you about them next time.

So long.

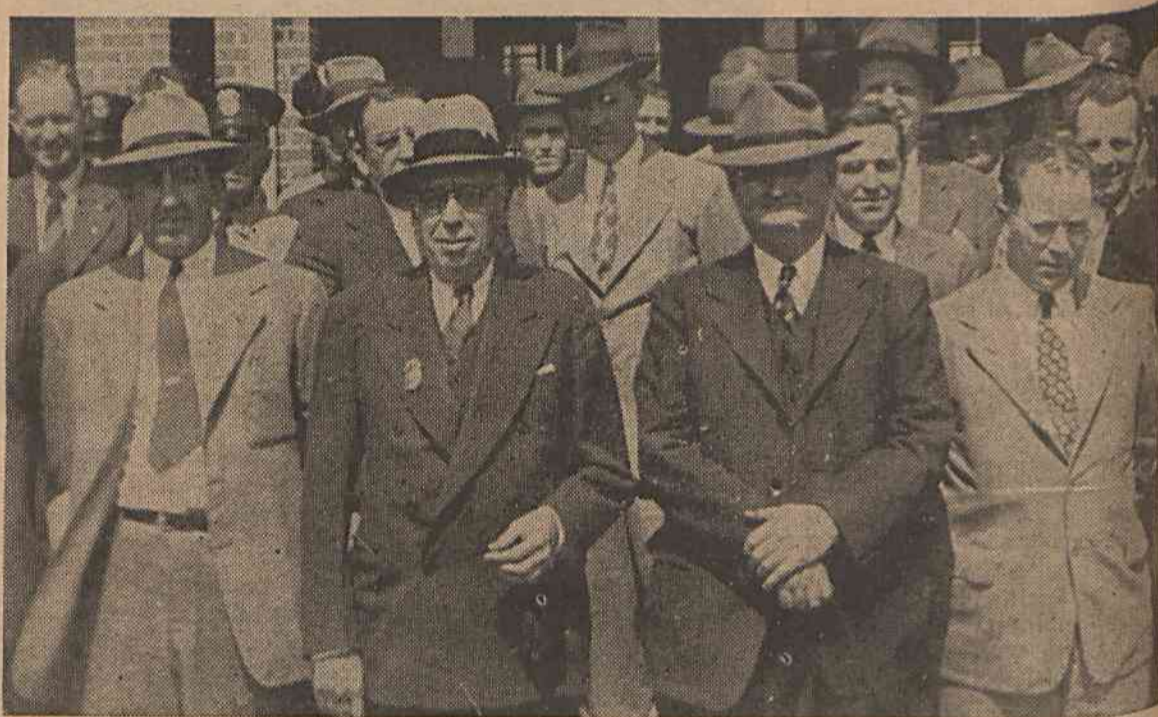

BROTHERS UNDER THE SKIN

And how about the new recruit that passed an officer without saluting.

"See here, my man," called the officer. "Do you see this uniform I'm wearing?"

"Yes, sir, it's a swell fit, but look at the one they gave me!"

Meet "Special Officer" Mr. Word Who Was Host To Officers

Mr. Word was official host to the FBI conference at the luncheon here, and during the occasion an officer's badge was pinned on him. Note the badge shown in the photo above.

This is station S-T-I-T-C-H-I-N-G coming on the air! Good Evening, Ladies and Gentlemen of the Radio audience. After a word from our sponsor we will bring to you our modest little "Melody Hour of Ah-Chawm."

Now, friends, we'd like to ask you to try Uncle Remus' Wrinkle Remover. It will make you look ten years younger and soon your best friends won't remember that you ever had a wrinkle in your face.

The first act on our program will be that famous hill-billy band, Lillie Siniard and her Kaintucky Kwintette, composed of the following: Kate Saunders, on the fiddle; Iva Lee, harp; Katherine F., saxophone; and Josie Clark, guitar. Following this will be Madame Clara Belle Morgan and her magic violin accompanied by Miss Ruby Dunn at the piano.

Next on the program will be Anna Hirst of Horseshoe. Dr. Evelyn Taylor, with her advice to the love-lorn.

Chef John Smith will give us some fine recipes on the many tempting ways to prepare Florida sauer kraut.

Mrs. Betty Achberger will give a lecture entitled, "Problems of Mothers of 1945."

Next on the program will be Kate Smith Evelyn Nicholson singing "Pretty Girl Milking Her Cow."

Tonight we have a visitor from down South America way, Senorita Hazel Carmen Owen, who will now honor us by doing her version of the Tango.

That famous torch-singer, Thelma Snyder, will follow with "My Daddy's Gone and Left Me . . ."

For the first time Ginnie Girle alias Rubye Beddingfield and the Sandrews Sisters will appear on the air. The Sandrews sisters are composed of Agnes Ellison, Marie Barton, and Lillie Galloway.

Last on the program will be what we have all been waiting for. That famous ventriloquist and his creation Bedgar Ergan and Harlie McGarthy, who are none other than our old friends Professor William Hunter and Robert Mitchem. We hope you've enjoyed our show, but now we must go. So, remember, if you don't try Uncle Remus Wrinkle Remover, you're all ah-wrinkled. Ta-Ta.

ECUSTANS BACKING

lies in the county and members of the Recreational department are showing war movies and putting on entertainment programs at the various rallies.

County War Bond Chairman Ed McMahan has praised the employees and the Company for the contributions made so far to the success of the campaign and is urging that every one buy all of the bonds possible.

"We are off to a good start, but we still have a long way to go," Mr. McMahan said. "To date we have not reached half of our E bond quota of $243,000."

The drive will continue until June 30.

NO STALLING!

Wifie: Darling, I saw the sweetest, cleverest hat downtown today.

Hubbie: Put it on, let's see how you look in it.

He: I see dark spots in front of my eyes.

She: Good. Let's park in one of them.
